This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PUBLISHERS' PREFACE

IN recognition of the important place women now occupy in the affairs of our great commonwealth, and a universal acknowledgment of the far larger part they are destined to take, this work makes its initial appearance.

The character of the present volume is accurately stated in its sub-title, "An annual devoted to the representative women of California, with an authoritative review of their activities in social, civic, athletic, philanthropic, art and music, literary and dramatic circles."

While dealing broadly with certain phases of the subject, the work, as we turn back the leaves of the calendar, offers the first and only state-wide record of California women and their achievements, in a series of essays and articles written by well-known women whose position of leadership is acclaimed—a collective, authoritative judgment which may be accepted as an appraisment of woman and her deeds throughout California, north and south, east and west, city and county, village, hamlet and town.

In order that the purpose of this work may be further fulfilled, there is included a collection of portraits and plates possessing historical significance and conveying convincing evidence of women's activities carried to fruition.

The value of the work is additionally enhanced through the presentation of a state-wide register of the representative women of California—the most complete and authentic ever compiled. This edition contains approximately sixty thousand names and addresses, alphabetically and geographically arranged, a list including not only members of clubs and their affiliations but other prominent women.

The making of this, the initial volume of "Who's Who Among the Women of California" has been a task of no small proportions, but it has been, largely a labor of love. When men and women engage upon a constructive work, actuated by high ideals and appreciating the true nature of service, they are naturally grateful for the chance afforded them of accomplishing something really worth while.

"The publishers believe that Providence makes particular provision for all work that is good and that certain men and women are ordained for labor of that character." In endeavoring to give credit where credit is due in the making of this volume, they desire to express a special sense of indebtedness to Josephine Wilson—"who perhaps better than any other woman in California (to quote the words of an esteemed contemporary) knows the Women of her State; whose every act, in her newspaper career, in her literary work, in her service in the various women's clubs, has been to keep the standard of womanhood staunch and fine and true to high ideals." As Acting Editor of "Who's Who Among the Women of California" Josephine Wilson has given of herself unremittingly and has instilled into its pages much of her own personality.

The publishers also desire to express more than a word of appreciation to each and every contributor. Grateful acknowledgment is made for their generous co-operation and invaluable aid so graciously given. The publishers may be pardoned for a conscionable pride in having so many distinguished contributors. Probably, there has never been assembled, anywhere, at any one time, a larger number of recognized women leaders who have voluntarily assisted in the making of a work of this character. The publishers realize that all contributions were given primarily for the advancement of woman's cause.

There is one more pertinent word to say. The women represented in this volume make their appearance on the basis of merit alone. All expenses of this publication have been borne by the publishers.

FOREWORD

AFTER nine years of work with the women of California I am more and more interested and fascinated with the great contributions they make to practically every phase of human endeavor.

They are an earnest, sincere, intelligent group—these California women. Their loyalty to any given cause is an outstanding characteristic.

So keen are their intellects, so marked their progress in their chosen activities, that the mind and the heart of one who sees and understands is in sympathy with their devotions.

In this frame of mind I set about the sacred task of selecting "Who's Who Among the Women of California."

I felt then, as I feel now, that this superb piece of work in recognition of the women of this Golden State will not only be a lasting tribute to those whose deeds are notated here, but that their achievements will inspire others who, in their turn, shall follow them.

Back of this authentic work ascribed, exclusively, to the interests of California women has been an idea—an idea that here in the West when women achieve there is the great, generous thought that women, everywhere, in everything they do, give out a force which is the propelling power of all that is best within.

Whether it be in writing a book, modeling a statue, painting a picture, composing an opera, building a massive structure, making laws, or in any particular part of the feminine world where women reign, the loadstar of their hopes, the loadstone of their ambitions, guided by their great faith are, alike, supreme.

While considerable space has, perforce, been devoted to the group women in their various achievements, there is back of that same grouping, another aggregation of women the highest and best of all—the WOMAN OF THE HOME.

The woman who creates, maintains and protects the great American home.

For, whatever inspiration may come to able women; whatever honor may be bestowed upon women, collectively or individually; whatever, may be women's legal rights, their privileges—"A mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

This book devoted to "Who's Who Among the Women of California" should therefore, inspire the home woman to make her home happier, "to have and to hold" her home-life as the greatest heritage of all.

To the home woman am I indebted for the idea of revealing the achievements of California's womanhood!

To her, do I ascribe a great belief in womankind.

A man's point of view in the publication of this great book has been a spur for better things. Men have stood on the threshold of women's affairs, and looked at their activites with some amazement and concern. But the men who have published this book walked thoughtfully into the vestibule of temples women have erected for their humanities and their varied activities. With a sense of reverence the publishers and the editor of this unusual book have, to my knowledge, turned the full light of appreciation on the noble things which women do, and have taken full measure, by the very strength of their masculine minds, of the value of woman's place in the world.

LEE Tires

The increased use of automobiles by California women demand tires that are puncture-proof and yet have all the qualities of a Superlative Nature be used.

LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF CORD AND FABRIC TIRES are designed and built especially for those persons who deserve the utmost in safety, convenience, riding qualities and economy. Hundreds of thousands of Lee Tires in constant use attest their superiority. Ask any of the many dealers in this territory who handle Lee Tires to explain the Super-quality of Lee Tires—have him explain the many advantages of Lee Tires—put them on your car—and you will always ride on LEES.

At What Age Should Your Husband Begin to Grow Old?

SCIENCE SAYS IT DEPENDS ON TWO BASIC NEEDS HIS FOOD SHOULD SUPPLY.

From infancy onward, we are building up our body tissues, developing health and strength for our work in later life.

But somewhere along the way there is a downward turn. We begin to lose vigor. Our bodies are actually beginning to grow old.

When will this happen? At thirty? Or forty? It may happen even at twenty.

Science has made the startling discovery that the answer to this question depends not on age but on what we eat.

Even on three plentiful meals a day we may be slowly starving our vital tissues.

This knowledge is radically changing the ordering of meals in millions of homes.

We know that our food must supply two great essentials—the life-giving elements which build up our body tissues and the elements which rid our bodies of poisonous waste matter.

Because these two elements are lacking in the meals of a large portion of American families, thousands fall off in health, "grow old young," and perhaps shorten their period of life. Statistics show that yearly thousands of men and women still young die of old-age diseases.

Today millions are securing these needed food essentials by adding Fleischmann's Yeast to their regular diet. For yeast is the richest known source of the newly found vitamine which experts maintain is lacking in many of our foods.

Fleischmann's Yeast stimulates digestion, builds up the body tissues and keeps the body more resistant to disease.

In addition, because of its freshness, it helps the intestines in their elimination of poisonous waste matter.

The Woman Beautiful

There is nothing like good robust health to beautify the complexion and put sparkle in the eyes.

You should include Fleischmann's Yeast in your daily menus, as it builds and maintains perfect health.

How to Serve Yeast

Fleischmann's Yeast is not a medicine—it is a food assimilated like any other food. It combines with jam as a sandwich or cracker spread. It is good in all kinds of soft drinks and in combination with many familiar dishes.

Breeding Greater Races of Food Plants and Flowers

This is a story of work, blended with an inherent love for growing things, and the desire to improve. About twenty years ago a boy of seventeen adopted hybridizing of flowers as a hobby. With patience and perseverance he made thousands of "crosses"—meaning that he took the pollen of one flower to another flower, to effect cross-fertilization. Then he studied the resulting offsprings with great care.

One day, not so many years ago, he saw the light. His loyalty to his hobby had helped him to a great discovery. He found that the evolution of plant life is governed by a law as immutable as the law of gravitation. By intelligently applying this law, he set out to evolve more fruitful races of food plants and more beautiful flowers.

In order to prove the working out of the law on widely differing forms of plant life, experiments were conducted with the greatest diversity of crops. Sudan grass—a forage crop; Tomatoes, Beans and Corn—typical vegetables; Begonias and Gladioli—flowers grown from roots; Pansies and Petunias—flowers grown from seeds—these are but a few of the many plants on which Mr. Diener proved that, with intelligent help, any form of plant life may, within a few short years, be brought to a standard of perfection to produce which, nature unaided, would require centuries.

In the course of the years, Mr. Diener has accumulated sufficient stocks of some of his most notable plant successes, to enable him to offer some for sale. Among them are the largest and finest Gladioli evolved so far in this country—new kinds and types that have won highest honors wherever exhibited. Then there are his monster Petunias, flowers of which measure eight inches across.

For years Mr. Diener has been working on Amaryllis to enlarge the size and enrich the coloring, and a good stock is now on hand. The colors range from almost white to all shades of pink; red to the deepest scarlet; the most brilliant and dazzling colors imaginable. For conservatories, these Amaryllis are the greatest show objects of the day. The flowers measure over a foot in diameter, and the colors are so dazzling that there is nothing to compare with them at the present time.

THE TORCH BEARERS

Dedicated to
"Who's Who among the Women of California".

They have borne flaming torches through the night
Of Ignorance that shrouds the sore-opprest,
And on the path of Progress set their light—
The fair, courageous women of the West.

Like those pure vestal virgins of old Rome,
They have kept burning bright their altar-fire,
And lit upon the warm hearth of the home
The torches of their faith and high desire.

They have scorned easy, futile, idle ways;
Theirs is the spirit of the pioneers
That sent them in the stern, harsh early days
Across the plains on schooners drawn by steers.

They have set up their beacon on the walls
Of Learning; by its steady, undimmed flame
They have read justice in Law's solemn halls,
And on fair Freedom's roster writ their name.

Their fires of love have glowed through battles' dark
For dying men, and brought the sweet surcease
Of pain and fear; and they have fed the spark
That set alight the quenchless torch of Peace.

They have known gentler arts of brush and pen;
Their vision burning through the written page
As clear as any in the world of men,
To send its gleams adown some future age.

They have been mothers and they have been wives,
Whose own soul's radiance has shone
Into the dark of hapless children's lives
Or that of some poor girl who walks alone.

They bear their torches on—the living wood
Grown deep in California's virgin breast,
Touched into flame by their white womanhood—
The fair, undaunted women of the West.

WOMEN OF THE WEST

DR. AURELIA HENRY REINHARDT

WHEN I take up my pen to write of the women of the West I think of an uncounted army of women whose lives, largely unknown to history, have made possible the great commonwealths of our country, commonwealths which are marked by a better standard of individual living, a kindlier intercourse among all people, and a more general effort to standardize life than is found among any population of like size. Women of the West, pioneer mothers who held the reins of the ox-carts that crossed the great American deserts and marked the first roadways over Rocky Mountains and Sierras; mothers of little children who in long months of travel must be parent and doctor, teacher and guardian, under strangely barbaric environment; women who were farmers of land untilled hitherto; women who taught the first schools in prairie, canyon or on the seashore where children were grouped at first without shelter of school buildings; women who organized the first churches and saved from scanty incomes that which would make possible a preacher of the gospel in mining camps or rapidly growing seaport; women, too, who had the gift of song or drama and gave hours of refreshment and joy to wearied miner or cattleman, driver of the Pony Express or sailor landed from a Pacific voyage.

Space is surely potential and out of the opportunity which space gave, men were to build great industries and cities; they were to mine all metals, grow wool and leather and create fortunes which Croesus might envy. But their women were to think in terms more human and their efforts would result concretely in homes for children; schools for growing youth; hospitals for the sick, churches for the worship of God, parks for leisure spent in sunshine; and later, those organizations manifold for civic betterment, cleaner politics and more intelligent standards of life, private and public.

Through the generosity of women the University of California has built its Mining building, its Hall of Law, its Sather Tower which takes the spirit of the onlooker heavenward, its Sather Gate, its Women's Gymnasium, its Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, and a multitude of other expressions of helpfulness to youth. In the name of a woman was founded the only college for women on the Pacific Coast. The life of Susan Tolman Mills and her devotion to the education of women through forty seven years of service in California is unique in the educational annals of our country. Through the combined generosity of a woman and a man Leland Stanford Junior University was given to the youth of this country. Few states can offer such a galaxy of women's names as promoters of educational good as Phoebe Apperson Hearst, Jane Lathrop Stanford and Susan Tolman Mills.

To tell the history of the club movement in California is impossible in so brief a space, an organization which has brought forth women of ability in all phases of human activity and has given finally to the state in its larger problems such women as Katherine Philips Edson on the Commission of Minimum Wage, Mrs. Frank Gibson on the Commission of Immigration and Housing, Jessica Peixotto and Cornelia McKinne Stanwood in the Commission of Charities and Corrections, and others whose success in local organization has grown to authoritative importance. In the state conferences of Social Agencies, and in Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis as well as in municipal, county and state health work the women of instructed opinion and unstinted generosity in the use of their time and effort have done signal service. The history of the women of California in their organization for suffrage is a fascinating one and contains a long list of potent names. Suffice it to remind our readers that a dozen years before the Susan B. Anthony Amendment was accepted by Congress women of California were voters in town, county and state.

Western women whose writings have gladdened the hearts of Americans include Ina Coolbrith, exquisite lyrist; Juliet Wilbur Tompkins, writer of gay short stories; Eleanor Gates, dramatist and novelist; Kathleen Norris, loved of home women; and Gertrude Atherton, world citizen.

As Bliss Carmen sang, so we salute the regiment of Western women as it passes us by, those known and those unknown, giving of their talents and energies to the building up of our state.

"Earth's brightest and best

PHOEBE HEARST

Phoebe A. Hearst was the best loved woman in California.

She was a staunch and loyal friend, a great and devoted patriot, and a broad-minded, tolerant, kindly woman of great understanding and amazing energy.

The history of the growth of California could not even begin without her name, for she has been identified with every public-spirited and philanthropic movement on the Pacific Coast in the last forty years.

She gave the free kindergartens to San Francisco, at a time when few here knew what a kindergarten was.

It was she who formed the great plan for the building of a greater university.

The Memorial Building Mrs. Hearst erected to the memory of her husband, Senator Hearst, at Berkeley, magnificent as it is, is merely an incident in the great plan which was formed and carried out through her initiative.

She opened a competition for architectural designs, sent a commission to Europe and kept the commission there for a year. Brought the winner of the competition, Briand, the great French architect to America and kept him and his wife here for a year, in order that he might study conditions and moderate his plans to meet them. Every detail of the whole idea, she originated—and not one stone can be laid in a single new building at the University of California, without proving itself a link in the great plan evolved in the tireless brain of Phoebe Hearst.

She had the heart of a woman, the gaiety of a child and the brains of a man.

No task was too hard, no vision too great for her to meet the requirements.

Whenever anyone, anywhere on earth, had a big, fine idea and Phoebe Hearst heard of it, she never rested until she could help in some way to carry out the inspiration.

She never wanted any credit for anything. All she wanted was to see what she had begun finished—and finished in the right spirit.

It was the easiest thing in the world to get help from her, and the hardest thing in the world to get her to listen to thanks, for it. She regarded her great wealth and her high position as a sacred trust, and no sorrow ever appealed to her for help in vain.

Rich and poor, clever and stupid, celebrated and humble, they all came trooping to her door. Young men with pictures under their arms, girls with a manuscript of poetry, men with inventions, singers, violinists, playwrights, novelists, philanthropists—and never was one of them turned away. She educated more girls not of her own blood, and gave more ambitious young men a start in life than any other man or woman in America.

And all she wanted out of it was to see those she had tried to help happy and successful.

Some of the most successful plays ever produced in America were written at the Hacienda, at Pleasanton. Some of the greatest pictures ever painted by American artists were painted under the stimulus of the encouragement and sympathy of Mrs. Hearst.

She endowed thirty scholarships for women at Berkeley, and it is characteristic of her that when the high cost of living began to be a national problem, she increased the funds for these scholarships without having anyone say one word to her about it.

Hospitals, orphan asylums, schools for the blind, schools for the deaf and the dumb, maternity homes, the Travelers Aid, the various activities of the Y.W.C.A. —these are only a few of the enterprises which could not have existed at all, if Mrs. Phoebe Hearst hadn't been—Phoebe Hearst.

Wise, full of humor, full of human nature, kindly, generous, gracious, gentle, courteous, noble hearted and clear headed—if ever there was a woman on earth of whom America should be proud, that woman was Phoebe Hearst of California.

JANE LATHROP STANFORD

In one of her books Olive Schreiner spoke of "a great love and much serving." Could nobler phrase be framed to sketch the life of any one of countless women who have given their all of money, strength, or devotion? Surely none can do more. Nevertheless, to me Miss Schreiner's words seem supremely to express Jane Lathrop Stanford's contribution to the world. Her privilege it was to glorify a great love for husband and child by much serving of others.

Reared in a well-to-do home of Albany, New York, in her twenty-second year she married Leland Stanford, a fellow-townsman already settled as a struggling lawyer in Wisconsin. Soon, however, a calamitous fire turned the young husband's thoughts toward California where disaster might perhaps be magically retrieved. By 1852, therefore, they were established in the mining-town of Michigan Bluff and there, by means of a practical enterprise—a general merchandise store—modestly laid the foundations of princely wealth.

Afterward, at Sacramento and then in San Francisco, Mrs. Stanford, as wife of a man of mark, occupied a conspicuous social position particularly in connection with her husband's incumbency as "war governor" of California. Later still at Washington during his several years' service in the Senate, she came into touch with the varied life of our Capitol.

Yet in the birth of her only child, Leland Stanford Junior, in 1868, she felt the supreme reward of living. And it is easy to imagine with what tender satisfaction both parents viewed the future, confident in their ability to give their son every fair advantage heart could desire.

Thus for sixteen years the cup of life brimmed over. Then, because neither love nor money can do the impossible young Leland died in Florence of malarial fever. But even during the first days of grief a healing thought had come: "The children of California shall be my children." Accordingly, within little more than a month new wills were made by the bereft parents devoting practically their entire fortune to an educational institution to be dedicated to the memory of the lost lad.

I knew Mrs. Stanford only during the last fourteen years of her life—the first fourteen in the long, long story of Leland Stanford Junior University. Her husband died in June, 1893. During the six subsequent years a series of extraordinary complications (not to be here detailed) would have completely wrecked the institution save for the indomitable courage of the surviving founder.

Upheld by a deep religious faith, comforted by an abiding sense of divine support, she seemed to live only to save the benefaction so gallantly launched in 1891. But let herself speak in lines written in 1900:

> "I could lay down my life for the university. Not for any pride its perpetuating the names of our dear son and ourselves, its founders, but for the sincere hope I cherish in its sending forth to the world grand men and women who will aid in developing the best there is to be found in human nature."

SUSAN TOLMAN MILLS

PIONEER EDUCATOR AND FOUNDER OF MILLS COLLEGE

1826 - 1912

In the long history of education in America, the inspiration for the founding of institutions and the building up of systems has always rested in individuals. California is fortunate that the initial impulse in the education of women should have come from one of such character, idealism, and force as Susan Tolman Mills.

Once more in her is the aphorism proved true that New England is the mother of American colleges. At the foot of Mount Tom in Massachusetts, in that institution now a hundred years old, known as Mount Holyoke College, under the direct instruction of that far-sighted educator, Mary Lyon, Susan Tolman caught the inspiration and gained the belief that education was the first need of our land and to it the best lives should be devoted. That faith took her, the bride of Cyrus Mills, recent graduate of Williams College, around the world to India, to the Hawaiian Islands, and finally to California in the second decade of its history.

After the death of her husband in the early eighties, she bravely assumed the administrative and financial problems of the institution that bore the name of the founders and for twenty years gave unstintingly of her strength, her time and her fortune to the fostering of ideals, which are being realized today. Her sincerity of purpose, her devotion to the cause of education, her optimistic faith and her sterling Puritan virtues have left an indelible impress on the thousands of young women who knew and loved her and have given to this state in its formative years a value not to be measured. Susan Tolman Mills was always greater than her task. She believed in progress and invested her life in the young womanhood of the land, knowing that the moral fibre of a nation depends upon the education of its women.

"WHO'S WHO AMONG THE WOMEN OF CALIFORNIA"

ANNETTE ABBOTT ADAMS

THE publication of this book, devoted to the women of California, demonstrates the growing confidence of women in women which is so necessary for her success in her struggle for an appropriate share in the world's work and the rewards thereof.

Conviction, courage and co-operation should be our watch-words: conviction in the justice of our cause, courage born of that conviction and a growing consciousness of our power, and, above all, co-operation in order that our combined forces may constitute an influence worthy to be reckoned with. Do not misunderstand me to deprecate the idea that women should strive to work along with men; that is our ultimate aim; but until women have learned to work together as men, through their age-long experience have learned to do, they cannot hope to be taken into the inner counsels. We cannot learn by working with men—we are still on the outside looking in: and we shall not be given the opportunity until we have demonstrated our power and our fitness, not alone as individuals but as a group.

Conviction must be something more than a blind faith; it must be founded on knowledge and on common sense; our courage must be of the quality that endures and that can withstand ridicule and defeat; and our co-operation must be not only apparent, but real.

Politicians have been wont to say, tossing off the remark lightly as if the contingency were amusing but impossible, that if women would stick together they could rule the world. The experience that women have gained in their long fight for suffrage has convinced them of the truth of this assertion, and they propose to show that the contingency is no longer remote.

Also women have found a new pleasure and interest in one another which increases as women come to share more and more in public affairs. In the past we have been prone to discount the value of women's opinions, assuming, though not always correctly, that they were but pale and perhaps inaccurate reflections of the opinions of their men. But with the progress of women in education and matters of general public interest their opinions have become more valuable. Opponents of equal suffrage used to argue that granting the suffrage to women would but double the vote without changing the result as women would vote as their husbands did; but we find so many differences of political opinion between

THE FIRST LADIES OF CALIFORNIA

MRS. RALPH WALDO TRINE

HONORARY titles are frequently like the empty sound of cymbals, or of wind blowing across waste places. "The First Lady of the Land," however, is an honorary title carrying a deep significance within its courteous phrasing. For aside from its more obvious meaning—that of the wife of the President of the Nation—it must mean that the one to whom it is given is not only first in the social and diplomatic world here in America, but first in influence and in the opportunity for service along many and diverse lines of vast importance to the welfare of the race.

So, also, the "First Ladies of California" are such by virtue of the recognized places which they hold, whether honorary, through the official positions of their husbands, or through the high offices which they personally fill, and first also because of the opportunities which are theirs.

There comes naturally to mind as the "First Lady of California" the wife of the Governor, Mrs. William Dennison Stephens, a woman well fitted to grace the position. Home-loving and sympathetic, as well as actively interested in all that makes for the welfare of the State, she fills with unaffected charm the high places to which she has been called.

As the wife of the Mayor of San Francisco, Mrs. James Rolph, Jr. wields an influence widely felt. During the many years of her husband's mayoralty, she has not only shared in the duties and pleasures that come with public life, but she has been the heart and inspiration of a real home in which music, for she is an accomplished musician, has played its part, and children and their many animal friends have enriched. Those who know her well speak of her as "kindly, generous, and dependable"—truly great qualities in either man or woman, and undoubtedly the secret of her continued simplicity and modesty.

Mrs. George E. Cryer, wife of the Mayor of Los Angeles, is a woman whose idea of happiness is "Home and children." Mrs. Cryer has a genial smile which warms the natural tendency of visitors to the Southern city to a certainty of hospitality. She prefers Los Angeles to any other city. Her favorite prose author is Victor Hugo and her favorite poet, Longfellow. Perhaps a mental glimpse into the characteristics of this gracious "First Lady of Los Angeles" may best be expressed in her own favorite quotation: "Count that day lost whose low descending sun views no worthy action by the hand done."

The limits of the page forbid the personal mention of the many important women who stand with their husbands at the head of the city government throughout California, but the two whose names are here recorded truly represent them.

Mrs. Ray Lyman Wilbur is a San Francisco woman and actively interested in all that pertains to the welfare of the State, giving much of her time to civic and patriotic matters. She also finds time, aside from the duties connected with her family of five children and along the lines just mentioned, to take a very real part in the social life of Stanford University, in this way being of great service to her husband, the President, and an inspiration to all those connected with the institution.

Mrs. David Prescott Barrows, the wife of President Barrows of the University of California, holds an important place in the life of the State, because of her influence upon the lives of the thousands of young men and women who yearly pass through the University gates. She is a woman of many and varied interests, and one who takes a personal part in the activities with which she is connected—musical, literary, patriotic, and civic. Her position as wife of the President of the University of California brings her into touch, yearly, with thousands of young men and women and the value of her influence cannot be estimated. As with others mentioned as among the first ladies of California, her home life enriches all of her other duties and, in turn, her outside interests enrich the life of the home.

One who holds an active, rather than an honorary position in connection with a great educational institution, is Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, who combines, in a marvelous manner, enthusiasm for her work in its many and varied phases, with the executive ability necessary to the carrying out of her high ideals.

As the President of Mills College her opportunities for service are great opportunities, which she meets with joy, and knowledge, and wisdom, coming from a wide experience of life and the needs of youth. To her two small sons she brings the understanding love and companionship of a true mother.

Dr. Reinhardt is a forceful and magnetic speaker, and her appearance on the lecture platform never fails to arouse the enthusiasm of her audience, whether it be an audience of educators, club women, or business men.

Honored by the State Legislature in an unique manner is Ina Coolbrith, created Poet Laureate of California by that body. It is a title which attests the loving appreciation of a great State for one who, from the early days of the Overland Monthly when she was associated with such writers as Bret Harte, Mark Twain, Charles Warren Stoddard, and the others of that noted coterie of writers, to the present time has embodied in her songs much of the beauty of the State which inspired them.

Mrs. Edwin Markham, California writer, now of New York, is secretary of the Poetry Society of America which has on its enrollment scrolls many famous western poets. Ruth Comfort Mitchell (Mrs. Sanborn Young of Los Gatos), one of California's youngest poets and novelists, playwright, and short story writer is acclaimed among the "first" California writers. Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, the honored and deeply loved President of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, stands in the forefront of the First Ladies of California, wielding an incalculable influence along lines that make not only for the advancement of womankind, but for the enrichment of the race. It may truly be said of her, "She goes about doing good."

LITERARY ACTIVITIES OF THE WOMEN OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

THE University of California fosters originality of thought and power of literary expression through many of the courses which are offered in English composition by the Department of English. Every effort is made in the classroom by discussion and constructive criticism to stimulate individuality and at the same time to distinguish between eccentricity and real originality. Men and women alike have profited by this method of instruction and have developed considerable ability. They have found, too, vehicles for their talents in the many student publications of the University. The Daily Californian, with its two staffs for men and for women; the Pelican with its search for wit and humor; the Occident with its aspiration for literary worth, together with publications of minor importance welcome the contributions and support of both men and women. Acceptable verse, good narrative and well phrased criticism may be credited to the women's account in this general sum of campus literature.

During the last ten years, a woman has twice been the editor of the Occident: Hazel Havermale in 1915-16 and Genevieve Taggard in 1917-18 and 1918-19. The women's staff of the Daily Californian is presided over by a women's editor whose work is assuming an increasing importance. At least one issue of the Californian each term is entirely in the hands of the women's staff. This issue has been uniformly good and occasionally it has excelled in good journalistic quality and form.

A chapter of Theta Sigma Pi, the national journalistic honor society for women has just been installed at the University of California. This organization was founded about thirteen years ago, and has chapters in the leading universities and colleges of the country. It includes in its roll of honorary members, women of distinction in the American world of letters. This new affiliation sets the stamp of approval upon the journalistic efforts of the women of the University and puts them in touch with the world of women journalists.

In addition to the educational and journalistic opportunities there are offered at the University two prizes for literary productions: the Emily Chamberlain Cook prize in poetry and the Irving prize for the best comic story, sketch, anecdote or parody. During the last ten years the Emily Chamberlain Cook prize has been awarded several times to a woman. Lorraine Andrews received it in 1912, Mary Carolyn Davies in 1913, Helen Davis in 1917, Eda Lou Walton in 1918 and Ruth Harwood in 1920. Genevieve Taggard and Hazel Havermale received honorable mention for this award.

The most distinctive contribution to campus literature which the women have made is the annual Partheneia. This is a spring festival which was initiated in 1912 when Mrs. Lucy Sprague Mitchell who was then Dean of Women, urged the women of the University to express their ideals in a way which would give scope to their dramatic and artistic gifts. Nan Reardon wrote "The Partheneia; A Masque of Maidenhood," and since then each year with the exception of the war year, 1918, a Partheneia has been produced. Each year has brought a new rendering of the theme of the transition from maidenhood to womanhood. Sometimes the transition has come through sorrow and suffering; at other times through joy of life and again through service and work. Each Partheneia has had literary value and each one has been capable of development in a pageant full of color, movement and grace.

The women of the University have undertaken the Partheneia not as the achievement of an individual, but as the expression of the women as a whole. This community spirit has given strength both to the book itself and to the production of the pageant. The author, the composer of music, the manager, the designers of costumes and the participants unite without self-glorification to give complete expression to the spirit of the festival. It is through the Partheneia that the women of the University are undoubtedly forming a tradition for fine literary and artistic achievement and for community work in the interest of high ideals.

WHAT STANFORD OFFERS ITS WOMEN

A NUMBER of the universities in the country which are now co-educational began as institutions solely for men. When women were admitted, they found the organization of the university and the curriculum planned primarily for men, and the tradition firmly established that the main function of the university was to educate the men. The women of Stanford, however, have the advantage of belonging to a university which was co-educational from the very beginning. In the Founding Grant, Senator and Mrs. Stanford stated that their gift was to be "A University for both sexes" and the trustees were instructed "To afford equal facilities and give equal advantages in the University to both sexes." This fact insures to the women an equal opportunity with the men in the class room. There are no courses such as Domestic Science or Domestic Art which are designed primarily for women, but, on the other hand, there is no course in the University closed to them.

Besides the academic training which the women receive, they get valuable training for citizenship in their self-government and other women's organizations, where the obligations as well as the privileges of freedom are translated into the concrete terms of daily life and the value of co-operation in forwarding group interests learned. Through these organizations and those open to both men and women every woman may find some outlet for her tastes and talents. Athletics, under the supervision of the Department of Physical Education, gives many opportunities for healthful and pleasurable exercise; the University plays, directed by a member of the faculty, offer dramatic training for those who wish it. The Young Women's Christian Association and Social Service Board extend the interests of the women beyond the campus gates.

In addition to the opportunities for a liberal education gained both from the academic and the non-academic life, Stanford offers its women while they are in residence a comfortable home in a beautiful environment. All undergraduates who are not living with their parents or guardians are cared for on the campus, some in the sorority houses, and some in the splendidly equipped college dormitory. The social life of these houses centers in the campus, and the students co-operate with the faculty in keeping the social activities as simple and normal as possible. The whole object of the University is to give to its women as well as to its men such training that they may develop their individual capacities to the fullest extent possible and their sense of responsibility to the community in which they live. In this way the University is training its students to take their place as good citizens when they leave their college days behind them.

MILLS COLLEGE

MILLS College belongs to that essentially American type of educational institution, founded by individuals to make possible the best development of individuals. Its history parallels the history of California. Gold was discovered in California in 1848. Four years later the earliest foundations of Mills were laid in Benicia. Developed by the strong personality of Mary Atkins until 1865, the foundation was purchased by Dr. and Mrs. Cyrus T. Mills, educators of long and varied experience.

In 1871 the opening of the spacious building now known as Mills Hall was an event of interest in the chronicles of the day. In 1877 the founders deeded the school to a Board of Trustees in order that it might become a permanent institution of the highest order for the education of young women.

As the public school system developed and took over secondary education, the founders realized that their best service for women lay in higher education, and in 1885 a College Charter was granted by the State of California.

Thus for more than half a century has Mills College grown as California has grown, meeting changing educational demands, leading stride by stride in the intellectual development of the Pacific Coast, training wives and mothers of the West, sending forth teachers and professional workers into every field.

Today Mills stands unique as the only accredited college for women west of the Mississippi River, and, with students from a score of states and half a dozen countries, exercises a wide influence educationally.

In the years, the campus of sixty acres has grown to a beautiful stretch of wood, lawn, and field, covering a hundred and fifty acres. Among the College buildings are a library, an auditorium, a gymnasium, Alumnae Hall, two science buildings, four residence halls, and half a dozen buildings devoted to various uses, including Art, Music, Home Economics, Physiology and Zoology. A Science Annex was added in the Fall of 1918 to Science Hall.

Lisser Hall, named after Dr. Louis Lisser, for thirty years Dean of the Music Department, is built in Grecian style.

Alumnae Hall, built in 1916, was given by members of the Mills Alumnae Association to be used as a center for the social life of the College. El Campanile is a picturesque bell-tower, Spanish in style, erected by Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Smith of Oakland. The Chimes of Bells, ten in number, was the gift of David Hewes.

Mills Hall, the main building, was erected in 1871, and was the first building on the grounds. College Hall is a dormitory containing accommodations for sixty students and faculty members. Warren Olney Hall, built in 1917 at a cost of $120,000 is arranged to accommodate one hundred and three students under most attractive conditions.

Orchard House, costing $65,000 accommodates fifty students Kapiolani Society, the College Infirmary, was named for the Kapiolani Society, an organization of students from the Hawaiian Islands.

Mills College is now building by contributions, a Memorial Hall, suitable for the accommodation of one hundred women, in the name of Ethel Moore, who was for a number of years, a trustee of Mills.

THE WOMEN OF CALIFORNIA

MRS. DANIEL LOTHROP

AS THE seasons come and go, successive winters find me in California. I have traveled many times over its length and breadth, wonder and delight marking the paths for happy memories. But it is not the superb climate, nor the marvelous scenery, nor yet the bloom and fruitage that Nature flings with lavish hand of enchantment over this Golden State of the Pacific, that make the heart and mind to leap with joy. It is the spirit of the women of California that is its real treasure.

From the upspringing of the new growth out of the primitive life of the Spanish settler, the vision of the Padre has clarified, to shine upon the face of the pioneer. To him—the pioneer, was foretold the American home that would have its setting in this New Eden. The early struggle for that home brought womanhood up to peaks of endeavor and glorious fulfillment, marking with originality and symmetry the characteristics that were to blend with those of the sturdy folk foregathering from the Atlantic Coast. Out of, and above all, this California life, has evolved the steady growth of forces that persistently rise superior to any sharp onslaughts that Fate might threaten.

The California woman runs true to her type, and creates an atmosphere all her own. It has in it a freshness, a glow like that of early dawn, a vigorous vitality, a sweet and wholesome spirit of kindliness and sympathy. In this atmosphere one feels at home. She is, this fine California product of womanhood, all that is best in the home, in her club, and in other organizations alert for philanthropy and for the public welfare, always forging along toward the solution of the problems of life. Into civic improvement she throws herself heart and soul, and all the tremendous questions of this, our day, command all her powers.

I find her very lovable. She has drawn my heart closely in the enduring bond of a true affection and a profound admiration.

AMERICAN WOMEN OVERSEAS LEAGUE

MRS. E. K. STURGIS

AFTER months or years of very active work overseas it is quite natural that those women who were privileged to be with the American Expeditionary Forces should wish to carry over into after-the-war days, the spirit of service of the war. United by the close bond of common experience the eight thousand women who served abroad with any of the twenty welfare organizations or with the army or navy have formed a national organization known as the American Women Overseas League. In California there are two strong chapters, one in Los Angeles the other in San Francisco. Although many governmental and welfare organizations are working for the ex-service man and woman there are many cases where for technical reasons needy men are not entitled to governmental aid, many others where emergency aid only is necessary and still a larger group where pride or bitterness or some mental difficulty brought on by war's experience, makes the man or woman unwilling to go to charitable organizations for aid. There is a close tie and wide friendship among those who served overseas and for this reason hundreds of worthy cases come to our notice. The legal provision of aid, food and clothing for mothers and young babies, clothing for men who have secured jobs and have no suitable clothes, advice to discouraged or puzzled men who are entitled to governmental aid but do not realize how to obtain it—all these are our immediate problems.

Our purposes are to meet these needs of ex-service people, to hold ourselves ready to serve again the government in time of emergency and to co-operate with all welfare organizations in their work at home and overseas.

THE FERRY CANTEEN

San Francisco

MRS. PRENTISS COBB HALE

Women from the fields of industry, from society circles, from the philanthropic and from the civic enterprises, were among the faithful and ardent workers at the Ferry Canteen. Soldier-boys on their way to war; soldier-boys returning, and others in transportation from camp to camp were welcomed with that ring of hospitality which wrote indelibly on their hearts something too sacred to record in terms of adulation or printed appreciation.

The Ferry Canteen had a system of daily participation in the Red Cross Service which made it possible for each listed member to serve on certain days, at scheduled hours. The personnel of the list of workers at the Ferry Canteen, included a coterie of women whose continued service is inscribed not alone in the annals of "Who's Who Among the Women of California" but within the heart of every soldier or sailor visitor.

When Mrs. Hale visited France this past year, she officially represented America in the national observance of decorating the graves of American heroes. Her participation in the activities of the Red Cross, her work on the playground commission, her devotion to the various causes of this city are historical. During the fire of 1906 she was especially honored by the Fire Department in the formal presentation of a silver plate, the inscription thereon expressing their gratitude.

Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale was chairman of Women War Workers, San Francisco Chapter, American Red Cross, and chairman of the Women War Workers Committee for the San Francisco Armistice Day ceremonies, November 11, 1921, held in the Civic Auditorium.

Other prominent women of San Francisco serving on the official committee were: Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, Miss Anna Beaver, Mrs. George Cameron, Mrs. J. H. Deering, Miss Alice S. Griffith, Mrs. Latham McMullin, Mrs. Thurlow McMullin, Mrs. John F. Merrill, Mrs. T. M. Potts, Mrs. Max C. Sloss, Mrs. W. S. Berry, and Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., wife of Mayor Rolph.

THE San Francisco branch of the National League for Women's Service was formed in June, 1917 and performed much valuable work during the war.

After the crisis caused by the war had passed, it was decided to carry on the work as the National League for Woman's Service Club and through its activities meet certain community needs not covered by other organizations.

The aim is to promote a big democratic organization—democratic enough to satisfy members of every industry, profession, business and social affiliation. Every effort has been put forth to make the quarters of the League comfortable and attractive, and yet, inexpensive enough to come within the reach of all, and general enough, to allow for its use by smaller, more definite groups.

The Volunteer Service department is kept in action by service rendered within the League—in the lounge, shop and restaurant.

The League maintains a restaurant for the convenience of its members where attractive lunches and dinners are served at moderate prices.

The Shop is one of the most popular activities but must be seen to be fully appreciated.

The Vocational Guidance Bureau is the one only of the kind in San Francisco where women may go for information concerning any employment open to women—where they may count on receiving wise counsel without cost.

WOMEN ON THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

CONFERENCE ON THE LIMITATION OF ARMAMENT

Washington, D. C.

KATHERINE PHILIPS EDSON

THE Advisory Committee to the American Delegates to the Conference on the Limitation of Armament was appointed by the President. The members of this Committee represented all shades of opinion of the citizens of this country, both men and women. There were four women members of the Advisory Committee. These women were not appointed as a separate woman's committee, but were on the Committee just as any other citizen. They served on the general committee and on all sub-committees. They did not organize themselves in any sense as a woman's committee but took part in all discussions just as American citizens.

The women's organizations of the East had been very insistent that the President appoint women as delegates to this Conference. The President was exceedingly anxious to recognize women, but the necessity of having a small delegated group made it practically impossible to include a woman among the Plenary Delegates because they must of necessity be men in large representative positions such as the Secretary of State, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and the leader of the Democratic opposition. Besides that, any country having the good fortune to possess a man with a great knowledge of international law that is possessed by former Secretary Root, would be doing itself an injustice not to use such expert service. Therefore, it was generally understood that it was imperative that Mr. Root should be one of the four delegates.

The President was exceedingly anxious that such representation as the women had would be real, and he discussed with the women leaders of the Republican Party the propriety of putting women on the Advisory Committee. These women leaders said they would be very glad to have women appointed, provided the Advisory Committee's functions were real and not just honorary. The President assured them that the Advisory Committee was to play a most important part in the deliberations of the Conference. He then asked them to submit names, and among the names submitted were chosen the following:

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, of East Walpole, Massachusetts, the Chairman of the State Republican Club of Massachusetts, and also an active member of the National League of Women Voters in Massachusetts. Mrs. Bird is a Progressive Republican and she and her husband were active participants in the Roosevelt Campaign in 1912.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, the President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Winter is a Republican but a woman who has taken no active part in partisan politics. She is a great orator and splendid thinker and brought to the Advisory Committee splendid balanced judgment.

Mrs. Eleanor Franklin Egan did not in any sense represent organized women of this country. She is a brilliant magazine writer and has had large experience in the Far East, having lived in the Philippine Islands nine years and spent three or four years in China and Japan. Her husband is Mr. Martin Egan, Publicity Manager of the J. Pierpont Morgan firm. Mrs. Egan has the honor of being a personal friend of Secretary Herbert Hoover and of General Pershing.

THE VALUE OF INDIVIDUAL ORGANIZED LIFE

MRS. ROBERT J. BURDETTE

SINCE my first participation in creating an organization for women, "The Alphi Phi Sorority" just fifty years ago—I have believed in group activity.

As early as 1887 I came from Los Angeles to San Francisco to help form the old time Chautauqua Circles and following that I was definitely interested and active in the formative years of California's organized womanhood under its various phases of church, educational, philanthropic, eleemosynary and political development.

I have believed in these groups of people with common interests, in the community of work as the finest foundation for understanding and enduring friendliness. I believed that devotion to a common cause, loyalty to a common task would transcend pettiness and local narrowness as well as accomplish some of the definite objects desired by those thus banded together.

I was convinced these compact organizations could have a driving power, where most needed, to accomplish results.

If these group activities have not justified the dreams of those who "saw visions"—my analysis is that the failures have resulted from the lack of the organized individual life of those participating.

"We are non-organized" has been the cry since the marvelous success of war-time organizations has so stimulated us to any form of co-operation.

But this cannot be true until each woman has organized her own life that she may not only know herself, the community, the state, the nation, the world; but the relation of her individual life to each of these units.

Is it suggestive then to ask? Have you organized your life?

Familiar as most women are with the usual form of Constitution and By-laws, we recall that the first article reads, "The Name of the Organization shall be etc."

What is the name of your Life Organization? Selfishness? Undue Ambition? Indifference? Service?

Second—What shall the Object of your Organization be? Self-indulgence? Display? Money? Betterment of mankind? Enrichment of the world?

Third—Who is your Executive Officer? Your physical Self? Mental Self? or Spiritual Self? If it is the latter do you starve or nourish your Executive Officer? A weak and aenemic executive never builds an efficient, effective organization.

Fourth—The Recording Secretary is always provided, but Memory will only record the minutes you dictate. And pray there may be no page you could wish to blot out.

Digitized by Google

Fifth—The Treasurer of your organization keeps a debit and credit account for every hour, whether you add or subtract to the sum total of the world betterment by what you think, say and do. Only you can keep the balance on the right side of the ledger.

In this form of organization there must always be provision for Amendments that there may be a re-valuation of life each day, which is, after all, the fullest expression for education.

The educational process by which we glimpse the splendor of life is truly an inward, individual process.

What John Fletcher wrote of men is equally true of women:

> "Man is his own star; and the soul that can render an honest and a perfect man commands all light, all influence, all fate, nothing to him falls early, or too late."

The value or organized effort whether singly or in groups then, lies in the fulfillment of this prophesy:

> "When the Soul of woman conquers,
> And God's banners are unfurled,
> We may catch a glimpse of Heaven
> From the hill-top of the world."

AFTER thirty-five years activity as the California Branch of the National Association of Collegiate Alumnae of the local organization, numbering three hundred and fifty college graduates, has been known during the past year as the San Francisco Bay Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The change in a name was necessitated by the reorganization of the National Association which is now a part of the International Federation of University Women.

Organized nationally in 1882 primarily to advance the cause of higher education for women, the objects of the local branch have been extended to include provision for social intercourse for college alumnae, to promote educational interests and to secure broader opportunities for women.

As part of its contribution to the Bay communities the branch maintains two committees, Baby Hygiene and Child Hygiene, which are doing splendid constructive work for mothers and children who come within their sphere of influence. In 1917 the Baby Hygiene Committee established the first Children's Health Center in San Francisco. It is located at 323 Haight Street.

Particular emphasis is being placed upon the subject of International Relations, especially as they affect women. A large standing committee on International Relations is another important part of the Branch work.

A Scholarship Loan Fund, established on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the local branch is maintained and constantly in use by women in California universities or colleges. Among the other prominent and active committees of the branch are, the educational, housing, and membership committees, three play-reading sections and the National and Branch club-house committees.

Monthly meetings are held on the fourth Saturday of the month, generally in the form of luncheons.

THE Women's University Club of Los Angeles, Mrs. Edwin Hill Brooks, president, was founded in 1917 through the amalgamation of the three college women's organizations then existing in the city, the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, the College Woman's Club, and the Federation of College Women's Clubs.

The club is the Los Angeles Branch of the American Association of University Women (the new name of the association of Collegiate Alumnae) hence part of its membership is on the standard national A.A.U.W. basis, but it also has its college membership including women who have had two years of undergraduate college work, and its club membership whereby any organization of college women may affiliate with it. The avowed object of the club is "to unite college women and to concentrate their influence on the problems of social service and the advancement of education and to co-operate in the general work of the national A.A.U.W."

Besides co-operating in various fields of club activity in the city and maintaining Drama, Social and Public Affairs sections, the club has three unique departments of service, the Bureau of Occupations, the Scholarships and the Bureau of College Information. The Bureau of Occupations follows three lines of activity, research, vocational guidance and placement the research investigating professional opportunities for women, the vocational guidance leading undergraduates into the proper study to reach the lines of opportunity, the placement fitting the women to the position. At present one or two scholarships are offered each year for which any Los Angeles County girl may apply who has college entrance credits, her study to be done at any college in California recognized by the A.A.U.W. As this is a revolving fund to which an addition is made each year from the club treasury the future will see an increasing number of scholarships granted each year. The Bureau of College Information was established to stimulate a desire in the preparatory school girl for higher education and to furnish her with information concerning the college of her choice, not alone relative to entrance requirements and location but concerning environment and the social life on the campus.

The club meets the first Saturday of each month from October to June inclusive. A luncheon with speaker at 12.30 o'clock is followed at 2.30 o'clock by the business meeting and program. The sections likewise meet monthly. The down-town club room, 805 Brack-Shops, furnishes convenient headquarters and a meeting place for all sections and committees, but the regular monthly meeting is held in the Ebell Club House.

The club has an individual membership of 550 with 20 affiliated clubs.

WITH the aim of fostering higher education, the College Women's Club and the Long Beach Chapter of the American Association of University Women unite the college trained women of the city in a common cause, and give the inspiration for increased service to the community. In its closed membership of 225, it includes alumnae of almost every representative college and university of the East and West. Because one of the aims of the club is to promote the college spirit of comradeship among the members, it has seemed best to limit the membership so that the social meetings may be held in the homes. A waiting list is kept from which vacancies are immediately filled.

The Virginia Hotel is the club headquarters, and alternate monthly meetings are held there, when speakers active in world affairs address the club members. Other meetings are held in the homes of members; and are of a more purely social nature. Among the speakers of the last year have been such leaders in education as Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, President of Mills College; Dr. Jessica B. Peixotto, Chairman of the Department of Economics, University of California; and Dr. C. P. Colegrove, President of Upper Iowa University; such artists as Louis P. Mertins and Arthur B. Kachel; and such diplomats as the Hon. John Barrett, formerly Director of the Pan American Union. As practically every artist in Long Beach is an active member in the club, the programs with the exception of the addresses, are given entirely by the members.

In aiding students to higher education, the club assisted in netting one thousand dollars last year with a garden fete for the Ethel Moore Dormitory at Mills College, and this year started its Bertha Brown Fisk scholarship loan fund.

One of the civic activities of the last year was a Christmas pageant given in the municipal auditorium, when hundreds of the Long Beach kiddies were entertained on Christmas Eve. The club has a glee club and a dramatic section, both of which are leading attractions at the meetings, and at other events where their services are requested.

THE Stanford Women's Club was organized three years ago with the purpose of developing and fostering social relations of all Stanford women, and to maintain a spirit of interest in the conduct of the University and all things which pertain to the democratic ideals of Stanford. Any women who has matriculated at Stanford and is a resident of the City of San Francisco or within a radius of fifty miles is eligible to membership. The club has over 150 active members and the membership drive should increase the number very materially.

Board meetings are held the last Tuesday of the month at the Young Women's Christian Association Building, 620 Sutter Street, at 7.30 p.m. All members are invited to attend.

The regular monthly luncheon is held on the second Saturday of each month at 12.45 p.m. at the Clift Hotel. A speaker for fifteen or twenty minutes is part of the program followed by informal discussions on University activities and general information on its developments so our women may keep in close touch and be rightfully informed on what is going on since they severed their closer touch with their Alma Mater.

The past year a scholarship fund was started and the sum of two thousand dollars obtained. This scholarship will be awarded to a San Francisco girl. The requirements, and awarding of same, are being worked out by the chairman, Mrs. Verne McKinney, past president, and her committee.

The Board of Directors and officers have been actively engaged in the million dollar drive for Stanford and hope to see their efforts rewarded with the fixed sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the quota for San Francisco.

A regular calendar for the year has not been mapped out, but the usual luncheons and teas will be given and emergency duties met by the very active and efficient officers.

The housing committee are looking for permanent and suitable headquarters and the year's work will be actively centered in making the Stanford women of San Francisco realize they can give and receive much by close co-operation, loyalty and a united interest in matters pertaining to their Alma Mater, Leland Stanford University.

THE College Woman's Club of San Diego was organized for the purpose of promoting fellowship among college women, and for the furtherance of educational and social interests among its members and in the community. Eighteen women were present at the first meeting held October 12th, 1911, when Mrs. Earl A. Garretson was elected president.

So ready was the response to a college woman's organization that one week later when the second meeting was called thirty-seven women were present to voice approval of the plans for such an organization.

Miss Belle P. Nason, a public spirited woman who had interested herself in woman's advancement, particularly in forming clubs for young girls and women was elected an honorary member of the College Woman's Club in recognition of her splendid spirit in developing higher idealism in the lives of school girls and employed women.

During the first year plans were made for three departments of activities of vital interest to college women—civic, educational, and philanthropic.

Social Service Committee, 1913: After the first year's work in the fall of 1913 plans were discussed for the establishment of a social service section, under the advisement of Miss Emma F. Way, and Miss Nason, social service among working girls was planned which later might become the nucleus for a real college settlement.

First Funds Raised: Under a committee composed of Mrs. F. E. Nash, Miss Belle Nason, Mrs. Mary A. Hill, Mrs. George Buxton, Miss Elizabeth Charles, Mrs. C. W. Winslow, president of the club, Miss Emma Way, chairman of the philanthropic committee, a play (Campus Newsers) was given by the College Woman's Club at the Spreckles Theatre. The funds accruing from the play's presentation were to be used by the Philanthropic committee for a settlement nucleus. The sum of nearly $1,400.00 was raised.

The Pathfinder, Social Survey: The first step taken was to determine the definite need for such work and the best location for the settlement. A social survey of San Diego was decided upon, and "The Pathfinder Social Survey" was compiled in March, 1914, by Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. King, assisted by a special committee, members of the College Woman's Club, and interested friends. The investigations covered public health and sanitation; public education; recreation; delinquency; industrial conditions; foreign population; betterment agencies; civic improvement; taxation and public finance; and a list of charitable and semi-charitable agencies. The Pathfinder, a splendid report, disclosed interesting facts and urgent need for a settlement establishment.

The books created much comment and were the means of arousing public interest and some finances for the project.

Neighborhood House, July, 1914: Subsequently with the loyal support of Miss Way, Mrs. Mary A. Hill, Mrs. Earl Garretson, Miss Marion Mitchell, Mrs. Fred King, and other interested workers, Neighborhood House, the College Settlement was started at 14th and H Streets, July, 1914, with Mrs. King as head worker.

Scholarship Funds: During this time other interests had developed in the club, and plans of the educational committee established a scholarship fund to assist girls through grammar school, high school or college, as the means or case might determine; and throughout the club's growth this scholarship fund has been in constant use.

Social and Educational Development: The social and educational purposes of the club had not been neglected, and noteworthy lectures on art, English, music, drama and kindred subjects were enjoyed with profit by members and outsiders who were guests of the club. Unique parties to introduce new members to each other and to the club in general were planned and were successful in developing a fine spirit among the members.

State Federation of Woman's Clubs: So widespread has been the interest of the club's activities that with a beginning of eighteen members three years before, the club at its May, 1914 meeting reported 132 members with a representation of fifty colleges. Not wishing selfishly to limit their interests to college affairs, in March, 1914, the club affiliated with the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Glee Club: The fall of 1914 found a musical section added to the club committees—that of a Glee Club founded under the direction of Mrs. Edwin P. Sample. Remarkable results were shown from the beginning, and for several years the College Woman's Glee Club was one of the real choral organizations of the city.

Neighborhood House Association: So successful has been the Neighborhood House work that larger quarters and better facilities were needed. The Neighborhood House Association was formed admitting members other than college women to co-operate with the Industrial School Board in the Logan Heights district where the foreign population and thickly congested living conditions were found.

First Year-Book: The first year-book was published September, 1914, with Mrs. Warren E.

Libby chairman of press. It contained much of interest to the members, giving in detail the progress of the club, its affiliation with its varied interests, and the list of members with the colleges represented.

General Interests of Club: During the next three years the club took active part in many interests for civic growth such as assistance in work for the Exposition of 1915-16, better film movement, milk inspection and distribution of milk to needy families, health and sanitation measures, and has endorsed the local organizations in their efforts to arouse civic consciousness along its varied lines.

Drama Section, 1915-1916: With the purpose in mind of increasing funds of the club, and also to allow histrionic expression of talented members of the club, a dramatic section under the able direction of Mrs. A. J. Casebeer, assisted by Mrs. C. A. A. McGee, was formed. Many delightful plays, playlets, and readings were enjoyed by the club, for which an admission could be charged.

War Work: During the World War the College Woman's Club devoted its activities to war interests. A War Service section was formed to represent the clubs in war work, and co-operate with the government organizations in uniting for Red Cross work for convalescent soldiers at Camp Kearny; a War Fund committee was formed to assist in drives for war savings stamps, liberty loans, and Red Cross drives.

The Strolling Players: This band was formed under the Drama Section for patriotic service, to visit various camps and help furnish entertainment for enlisted men. The Music Section also held itself in readiness to answer calls for patriotic service whenever needed. The Educational committee planned work along lines suggested by Carrie Chapman Catt for the Council of National Defense, that of retelling accredited truths to spread throughout the country. The Social Service Section at Neighborhood House adhered to the plan of Americanization of our foreign born residents as their share in war activities.

Reorganization of College Club, 1918: Association of Collegiate Alumnae—With the club's growth, its membership numbering 212, and with 89 colleges represented, it seemed a necessary procedure to reorganize so as to be eligible for membership in the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, a national organization founded in 1882 and composed of women graduates from about one hundred American colleges and universities whose degrees entitled them to membership. The association was organized for the purpose of uniting alumnae of different institutions for practical educational work, for the collection and publication of statistical and other information concerning education, and for the inspiration of higher standards of education in general. As this organization presented possibilities for greater development for the College Woman's Club, in April, 1918, the club became the San Diego Branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

Cultural Asset to Community: Study classes were formed November 11, 1919, and they were opened to the public as a contributor to the cultural assets of the city.

California Woman's Legislative Council: The club took out a membership in the California Woman's Legislative Council in April, 1920. This organization represented the interests of 40,000 women of the state.

The American Association of University Women: During a convention held in Washington, D. C., March 28 to April 2, 1921, upon the recommendations of a joint committee of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the Southern Association of College women the amalgamation of the two Alumnae associations was consummated, a new name chosen, and certain basic changes concerning requirements for standardized university credentials were made in the constitution and by-laws. The actions taken were not retroactive.

Under the reorganization the name of Association of Collegiate Alumnae was changed to read American Association of University Women.

In 1920 an International Federation of University Women was founded, and since then several countries have affiliated with the organization, including Great Britain, Canada, France, Italy, Spain, Czecho-Slavokia, Holland, and the United States. The aim of the federation is to promote international understanding of educational movements, and to promote international friendship among students of the world.

The American Association of University Women is the American Branch of the International Federation. Hence every member of the American Association of University women is not only helping to advance education in America, but is directly contributing to the support of the International Federation.

San Diego Branch, American Association of University Women: In April, 1921, the San Diego College Woman's Club voted to remain in the National and International organization and thus become the San Diego Branch of the American Association of University Women.

With the steady growth of the College Woman's Club the year 1921-1922 will find a membership of approximately 250 members, representing 95 colleges ready to shoulder the responsibilities already begun.

Neighborhood House under the loyal direction of its interested workers, both of yesterday and today, finds its needs and developments calling for greater response from the college members and from the community at large. It is with great measure of satisfaction that these members who have been responsible for the growth of the organization during the past ten years can look forward to an ever increasing influence in the community in the advancement of the cause for the higher education of women.

Past chairman of the Social Service committee to whom such splendid results for Neighborhood House should be accredited have been: Mrs. Earl Garretson, Mrs. Mary A. Hill, Miss Anna B. Christian, Miss Helen Clark, Miss Helen Marston, Dr. Alice Pratt, Miss Emma Way, Miss Mariam Beasley, and Miss Maud Fay, present chairman of the Neighborhood House Committee.

The past presidents of the club were: Mrs. Earl A. Garretson, Mrs. C. W. Winslow, Mrs. Charles Bentham (deceased), Mrs. H. I. Randall (Gertrude Logenecker), Mrs. W. H. Fraser, Mrs. Irving Outcalt, Mrs. H. H. Wentworth, (Helen Clark) Mrs. Jesse Shreve, Mrs. George J. Champlin, Miss Arline Fay.

SPIRIT OF CALIFORNIA

Dedicated to the Women of California

Spinning all year on glimmering looms
Arras of flowers are growing.
They hang on the walls of the spirits rooms,
They wave when the wind is blowing.
There are gold and green and the translucent sheen
Of the robe for the spirit's adorning;
The gold of the sun when the day is begun
And the poppy fringed silk of the morning.

Growing for eons sequoia old
Rooftrees are for the royer.
Agate inlaid marble and gold
Are beneath the floor and over.
Odor of cypress of old Monterey
Is loosed at the touch of sandals
It is sapphire of sky and cobalt of bay
In place of a thousand candles.

Azure of sky and purple afar
Grow gold as the spirit passes
Through doorways ajar where the thresholds are—
Met by the wild waving grasses.
High mountains are walls, fluted columns are falls
That gleam in the bow of the wide portico.
There are murmuring calls above the great halls
Where gargoyles of snow pour water below.
To gift Yosemite Valley.

It is a green-girt, gladsome way;
The way of the splendid spirit.
—All in the house forget not to pray,
Know it is God who hath built it—
Oh, joy of mountains, Oh, joy of today!
Joy is the spirit. Harken! Oh, hear it!
Joy is she, song is she. In work and in play
Joy's California spirit.

THE Women's Athletic Club of Los Angeles is an organization formed for the specific purpose of building a Woman's Club House in Los Angeles that will serve the double purpose of affording full club privileges to its members and as a headquarters and meeting place for the various women's organizations of the city.

The club was organized April 26, 1921. Mrs. Mathew S. Robertson was elected as the first president and served in that capacity until her death, which occured December 1, 1921. The Board of Directors voted at once to include in the new building a Memorial Library and Reading Room dedicated to Mrs. Robertson.

In less than a year, the club has enrolled over eleven hundred members and purchased property valued at $200,000 for a building site. This property consists of three lots, 150 x 155 feet between Eighth and Ninth Streets on Flower Street, one of the most desirable locations in the city for such a club, as it is adjacent to the best shopping district and yet outside the congested traffic zone.

The membership of the club is representative of groups of women of wide interests and varied activities and includes leaders in club life, social circles, the professions, and business enterprises. A large and most interesting group is made up of representatives of the Pioneer families of California, and it is planned to create within the club some form of permanent memorial to the courage and vision of the pioneer women whose sacrifices made possible today's achievements.

This will be the first club of its kind to be built in the Southern part of the State, and will serve a long felt need in the community. One of the special features of the club will be the conveniences it will afford to its out-of-town members who will find there a convenient and comfortable headquarters during the pleasure or business trip to the city, offering a place for rest and recreation and for meeting and entertaining friends.

The club quarters will include a lounge, a dining-room, library and reading room, rest rooms, gymnasium, swimming pool, etc., completely equipped departments of hairdressing, manicuring, massage, Turkish baths, etc.; bedrooms for permanent and transient use of the members and for persons holding guest cards in the club.

In addition to the club quarters, it is planned to include in the building, halls and executive headquarters for the use of various organizations of women desiring such housing accommodation, and thereby securing to the club an income which will enable the monthly dues of the members to be kept at a low figure. The initiation fee for membership in the club at the present time is $125.00 plus 10% war tax for regular members, and $1000.00 for life membership.

The life memberships are limited to one hundred in number and are exempt from dues. As life memberships are for the life of the club, they furnish the most desirable membership offered.

The life members enrolled to date are: Mrs. Charles A. Andrews, Mrs. Harold Arnold, Mrs. Maria Bastanchury, Mrs. William T. Bishop, Mrs. Boardman, Mrs. Norman Bridge, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, Mrs. Harry Chandler, Mrs. E. A. Clampitt, Mrs. Louis Cole, Mrs. E. L. Doheny, Mrs. Eldridge M. Fowler, Mrs. Kate C. Gartz, Miss Evelyn Hamburger, Mrs. Irving Hellman, Mrs. W. I. The members of the present Board of Directors are: Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. A. B. Barret, Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, Miss Rosario Dockweiler, Miss Clara Erickson, Mrs. Frank A. Gibson, Mrs. W. L. THE story of the building of the Woman's Athletic Club of San Francisco, the strength and value of the club in the community, the pleasures and comfort accorded members, the respect the club commands from both men and women in the commonwealth, form the nucleus for a story of courage, valor, determination, business ability, integrity, optimism and romance. Furthermore, the story of the Woman's Athletic Club of San Francisco is a story of feminine foresight.

When the small group of representative San Francisco women first planned to have a club, and a club building, something after the manner of men's clubs—a club which should be all that the name implies—many husbands of the women who had dreamed of such a plan, many business men who admired the business audacity displayed, gallantly withheld smiles. Some women, who were, originally, among the doubters, as whether such a thing as a Woman's Athletic Club were feasible or, even possible, were finally stirred to profound respect when the dauntless women made their "dream" a firm realization.

The Woman's Athletic Club of San Francisco is a success, in every sense of the word—financially, socially—a convincing argument in favor of women who build.

Having outgrown the capacity of their present quarters, the club has bought a lot adjoining the present structure, and soon a new building will be erected with sixty more rooms. The new building will contain a larger swimming pool, almost twice as large as the handsome marble swimming pool in the present building. Other additions will include a larger tennis court, indoor golf accommodations, more equipment for the gymnasium, which ranks now as one of the "last word" in women's athletics. The new building will have more rooms for hair-dressing and Turkish bath departments.

The Woman's Athletic Club of San Francisco was organized in 1915. While a lure for lovers of athletics, it is the center for social and cultural activities, a pretty place where famous women visitors are feted, dinned and honored on noteworthy occasions. It forms an attractive setting where hostess members greet the travelers or speed the parting guest; it is a place where debutantes tell their romances and announce their bethrothals. It is a place where young mothers assemble for home economic talks. The giving of smart luncheons for girl friends, dinners, once in a while for father, or brother, or man guest are honors conferred by members, as features of the club.

Many of San Francisco's most prominent families are enrolled on the membership list which now numbers 1,784. The present board of managers headed by the popular president, Mrs. James Black, and her splendid staff, merit universal commendation. The vision of things now so thoroughly a part of the Woman's Athletic Club of San Francisco certainly belongs to the original board who watched their first thoughts thrive to fruition.

Mrs. H. D. Pillsbury was the first president, and on her board were the following women: Mrs. Latham McMullin, Mrs. Lawrence Harris, Mrs. James A. Black, Mrs. Raymond Wilson, Miss Elizabeth Livermore, Mrs. Julian Thorne, Mrs. Geo T. Cameron, Mrs. Thomas A. Driscoll, Mrs E. S. Heller, Mrs. John Lawson, Mrs. Oscar Fitzalan Long, Mrs. Geo. D. THE Ebell of Los Angeles, the third of the several Ebells in the state to be organized, and now grown to be the greatest in point of numbers, was formed in 1894 for "advancement in all lines of general culture," as its by-laws state.

The twenty-eight years of its existence have witnessed many changes. The club now numbers twenty-two hundred members, including a flourishing Junior Auxiliary of a hundred members. The sections are now fourteen, as follows: English, French, Spanish, Parliamentary Law, Social Science, Art and Travel, Bible Literature, Books and Current Literature, Browning, Choral, Music, Drama, Shakespeare and Psychology.

In addition to this section work, the club maintains "Rest Cottage," an institution where from four to eight guests are cared for at a nominal charge (if the guest is financially able) or free of charge. The guests are those women who have been discharged from local hospitals as convalescents, but who find their strength insufficient to enable them to assume the burdens of employment. Here they may gain the necessary strength which shall enable them to return to active life. Positions are secured for those for whom employment is not waiting.

This year twelve young women who have been recommended by the deans of the high schools or colleges where the girls are students, and whose scholarship is of the best, have been assisted with a regular sum of money each month, by the club's Scholarship Department. The money advanced is in the form of a gift.

The Practical Relief Department has assisted local philanthopic organizations by co-operation in providing clothing from its stores for the needy, and by sewing for emergency calls. This department has practically clothed Ebell's Scholarship girls.

The club meetings are held every Monday; and the programs presented cover a wide range of interests. All meetings are held in the club house, erected in 1906.

An attractive feature of the club is its weekly guest luncheon, at which men and women in various activities in life are the speakers. Every important current topic is here discussed.

OUR club was organized May, 1905, joined the State Federation in 1908, and was incorporated in 1913. We have, to date, thirteen hundred members, and a property worth over two hundred thousand dollars. We have five departments: Music, Art, Literature, Drama, and Public Affairs; and nine study sections. The English and Shakespeare sections were added last year, as also were the Bible Study and Woman's Chorus sections. These, I am proud to state, were organized during my administration. This year we added a Political Science section.

The club enters into all community affairs and lends its influence to any and all things for the betterment of the people. Our club home is used as the meeting-place for: The Apollo Club, a men's chorus; The Post War Service League, an organization for the welfare of disabled soldiers; The Velada Club, a group of girls employed during the day; and for the Children's Community Center, a group that it was my privilege to organize, consisting of a chorus of about two hundred children meeting on Saturday afternoon to sing under the leadership of Mr. Hugo Kirchoped; and a play section, which is doing excellent work producing children's dramas.

We built this year our new auditorium, a fire-proof building, seating one thousand, and which, with the enlargement of kitchen and dinning-room, cost $65,000.00.

We gave an evening reception on May third to the State officers and delegates who were attending the State Convention of C. F. W. C. held in Los Angeles.

We give a monthly "Prom" for the Junior and the Senior students in the Hollywood High School, also an annual scholarship to one of its students. Contributions are made to all worthy causes.

THE California Club holds a place in clubdom all its own, virtually a civic club, yet with departments and sections covering almost every line of educational and welfare work. The Civic Department is active in every branch of civic demand. The Social Science Department in Hospital and Welfare Work, the Educational Department has many sections and branches, the Outdoor Art, in the interest of the out-of-doors, in the preservation of our forests, wild flowers, birds.

The sections of the several departments are: Literary, Choral, Players, French, Shakespeare, Art, History, Whist, Dancing, New Citizenship and Parliamentary. The Literary Section is a joy, bringing to us wonderful days of nearness and companionship, with the best authors and writers and their works; these days are always looked forward to with greatest interest. An Open Forum held once a month is most interesting, bringing the members into a line of active thinking and expression and greatly enjoyed by all.

A club Cotillion is given once a month, and lends a happy trend to the club life.

We were happy to full measure in the burning of the mortgage on our club home. Our celebration of it was unique and delightful, a day never to be forgotten by the membersof the club who participated in it.

Thus the California Club studies, works, plays, a band of capable, busy, united, wonderful women.

THE purposes of the club are "advancement and promotion of literary, social, and educational interests." All women of Los Angeles and vicinity are eligible to membership. The club motto: "In essentials, Unity; in non-essentials, Liberty; in all things, Charity."

The club was founded April 16, 1891. Madame Caroline M. Severance was elected president and the meetings were held in the parlor of the Hollenbeck Hotel. It was incorporated in 1892 and joined the General Federation of Women's Clubs the same year. It sent delegates to the Woman's Congress at the Chicago Fair in 1893, and in 1900 became a member of the State Federation.

On January 12, 1900, the eightieth birthday of Madame Severance, the club celebrated the opening of the club house, at 940 South Figueroa Street. At present these quarters are proving inadequate to the needs of the club and a new building upon the same site is contemplated.

The regular weekly meetings of the club are devoted to subjects of general interest along the lines of art, literature, science, or public affairs, and the programs are given by speakers of national and international fame in these several lines. Thus the club has welcomed to its platform during the past thirty years many famous men and women. The morning meetings are followed by a luncheon at 12.15 o'clock to which visitors of note are invited and are asked to speak.

The Standing Committees include those of Art, Music, Literature, Drama, Public Affairs, House, and Hospitality. Meetings of the Literature, Drama and Public Affairs Committees are held once a month on Tuesdays.

Through its Public Affairs Committee, the club keeps in touch with all progressive movements of the day, municipal, state, and national, and both in forming public opinion and by aiding all measures aimed toward social betterment it takes an active part in civic matters. The club administers many philanthropies and fosters education by material means.

Chairman of Literature.

THE Woman's City Club of Los Angeles is a non-partisan body of women citizens. The aim of the club is to produce in woman alertness of mind and sanity of judgment.

We are held together by a common interest in public questions, and we aim to be thoroughly democratic in spirit. Our great object is Instruction in Citizenship. Knowledge of public questions is essential to intelligent voting.

We do not indorse the sentiments of our speakers; we aim to get their point of view and we reserve judgment.

Our aim has been to make our women conversant with current topics from three general standpoints: the economic, the educational and the financial.

Intelligent woman citizenship depends on a vari-sided interest in, and understanding of, city, state, national and international affairs.

The Woman's City Club has had a phenomenal growth this past year, adding over seven hundred new members, making a total membership of thirteen hundred. The membership committee has set the goal for fifteen hundred, and when this is attained the number of new members admitted for this year will have reached over one thousand.

This large increase in membership has brought us face to face with a housing problem, and necessity has compelled us to have a home of our own.

A Building Committee has been created and plans for a future club house for the Woman's City Club are taking shape very fast.

The Woman's City Club is a civic factor in the community of Los Angeles, and as such occupies first place among the clubs in its earnest and serious consideration of public questions.

All of our programs are of an important and vital nature, and are given to us by speakers of authority and world wide reputation.

The activities of the club are far reaching, and for this reason we secure the very best talent which is willing to come to us and give their service as a civic contribution.

The Woman's City Club has been in existence eleven years, and during that time has developed a keen responsibility of citizenship among our own members. This is expressed by a ninety per cent voting average on election day, a remarkable group of intelligent voters, participating.

We are endeavoring to make our voting strength one hundred per cent. This, we feel is the highest type of work that a club can do—developing civic-consciousness and citizenship within its own ranks. We know that this kind of work is bound to be a power and an influence in the community of which the club is a part. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

THE Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley was organized in 1904, and from the very first meeting the club has made steady progress.

In 1913 the commodious club house was built, being located at 2716 Derby Street, just off College Avenue. The building contains two large auditoriums, dressing rooms, committee rooms, a splendidly equipped kitchen and quarters for the caretaker. The building of this club house was undertaken with very little money in the treasury, its financial success proving the business ability of club women.

A number of very prominent California women are members of The Twentieth Century of Berkeley, one of whom is Mrs. Aaron Schloss, Past State President of the California Federation of Women's Clubs; another prominent member is Mrs. Anna L. Saylor, Assemblywoman. The club has always prided itself on its forward looking vision and has never lived in the past, but keeping abreast of the times, its members are interested in the living issues of the day believing that true culture must be of mind spirit and heart.

Some of the most active sections for the year just ending were: Social Service—a feature of the work of this committee each year is the christmas tree given for children in Berkeley who would not otherwise have such privileges; the civic section, with its department devoted to the civic affairs and the evening program for the men of our families. Then there are the current events section, the dramatic section, an athletic gymnastic section, an art and a travel section, public-speaking section and a music section, with the choral and mandolin and guitar divisions.

In fact, the sections of the Twentieth Century Club of Berkeley are some of its strongest and most potent features.

A very popular feature of the club which should not be omitted in this brief outline is the husbands' dinner given each year. This dinner is exclusively for members and their families and is one of the brightest and happiest events in the whole club year. The daughters of members assist in the decorations and otherwise lend their youthful cooperation.

In appreciation of the young women, we have a Daughters' Day when something superlatively fine is given in honor of the young women, entertaining them with the best artistry we can command for the special occasion. The usual club reeotions, luncheons, teas, banquets, assume a a charming attitude at our Twentieth Century Club. Our hospitality committee is greatly responsible for these features. They are chosen from the club calendar, according to the time of their enrollment. The club has three hundred members and there is always a waiting list. The object of the club is copied from the club constitution.

State Parliamentarian,

MARY K. CULBERTSON, first president of the Ebell Society of Oakland wrote a beautiful tribute to the society, to which she gave the title: "My Ambition for Ebell." Here is the tribute, just as she wrote it:

"My ambition for Ebell is this: that from this center shall radiate influences that will broaden, strengthen, elevate and purify woman advisedly, for if she be grand, unselfish, strong and pure, man will, inevitably, become so, too. Are my dreams Utopian? It rests with you whether or not this vision becomes a reality. If this society shall give some tangible proof of its efficiency, by some practical outcome of all its study, then will it receive honest recognition—and if needful, riches and power.

Miss Mary K. Culbertson will long be revered in the Ebell Society of Oakland and her ambition quoted above, in tribute to her memory, reflects the realities to be found, today, in this great, useful, influential and cultural Society of Ebell.

The Ebell club house of Oakland has been the setting for some of the most noteworthy events in women's club circles about the Bay. Prominent women visiting Oakland are greeted at some special event within the pretty club rooms where hospitality and womanly charm harmonize with the brilliancy and the intelligence of members.

The Ebell Society of Oakland is distinctive for the programs of scholarly attainment heard within the club rooms. A large auditorium, a splendid stage, afford opportunities for the presentation of ambitious dramatic work.

Study sections, classes in the different languages, lectures, musical studios, and a thorough course of study in current events proclaim the intellectual status of the society. An original writers' section, an art, a parliamentary law section, and "Living Issues" pronounce some advanced departments under the supervision of the president, her assisting executives, the chairmen and the department leaders.

THE San Diego Club, founded thirty years ago by a handful of women, has grown to be an organization of about four hundred, with a history of which it may be justly proud.

While still a young club, they bought the lot on which the present building stands, and in time built the clubhouse which is now in use. This house is a valuable asset, for as it is downtown, the attractive auditorium is in constant demand and it brings a good revenue to the treasury of the club. The present building is gradually becoming inadequate, and a building fund is being constantly added to, against the day when a new building shall be necessary.

The purpose of the club is "to promote the social, moral and intellectual improvement of the members and others."

Regular meetings are held every two weeks, with programs, which, each year, grow more ambitious; alternate meetings, in charge of one of the departments. There are five departments: Arts and Crafts, Art and Travel, Books and Conversation, Drama, and Economics and Civics. To all of these every member is eligible. Each department is actively and enthusiastically at work. A large part of the benefit of the club is in these departments.

An additional department is the Girls' Auxiliary, composed of daughters of members and their friends. Its object is to provide a place where the girls, properly chaperoned may have suitable recreation.

Frequent teas in department meetings, and on special occasions, at the main club, give opportunity for personal acquaintanceship among members.

It has been the intention of the club, from its inception, to be a power for good in the community. To this end it has done much philanthropic and public-spirited work, subscribing to objects of municipal betterment and to organized charities, and taking part in all the various activities during the war. The last year a regular fund was established for such interests.

The great event of the past year was the thirtieth anniversary celebration, when two hundred members sitting at luncheon in their own auditorium, paid honor to the founders and early members of the club, and prophesied for themselves a flourishing future.

THE Parlor Lecture Club of Fresno one of the largest and most progressive clubs of Northern California, was organized in 1894, affiliating with the State Federation in 1900 and then with the General Federation in 1910.

Mrs. C. H. Hotaling, the president, who has directed the club proceedings along the pathway of success, has had an eventful year. Subjects of vital import, discussions of moment, and purposes of wide ramifications have been indelibly written in the annals of the past year. To her executive staff, Mrs. Hotaling attributes the crowning glory following her year's reckonings.

The Parlor Lecture Club is proud of its club house at 1350 Van Ness Avenue, where not only club sessions are held but where social events and lectures by famous writers, musicales by well known artists and where activities of civic and community interest, are held. This commingling of club women in cultural pursuits merits the claim of the club for high consideration.

Departments of work include art, music, literature, civic-philanthropic, and a home department. Mrs. W. J. Eilert and Mrs. J. R. Turner of the Home Department presented memorable events, home economics being a factor in the club studies. Pillow making instructions were given at one novel meeting; and the food values discussed—the use of raisins under the supervision of the California Associated Raisin Company affording an interesting day. Then came a fashion pageant, with the query: "Which dress shall it be?" as Mrs. Clarence Haring presented the idea.

Mrs. J. H. Pettis, chairman of literature led the members through a consecutive series of book discussions with prominent authors as speakers. Current events directed by that splendid authority, Mrs. Annie Little Barry; music, led by Mrs. I. Lesser and a lecture program with John Cowper Powys as speaker, were among the outstanding programs of the year.

Mrs. C. M. Vanderburgh, of Stanford University, will be the chairman of the program for the new year. Mrs. George W. Turner, resident of Fresno, was elected president of the San Joquain Valley District, in May of 1921 at the Yosemite Valley Convention.

Mrs. J. H. Pettis s the new president of the Parlor Lecture Club of Fresno. On her executive staff are Mrs. A. M. Loper, Mrs. Will L. Potts, Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. Fay Hines, Mrs. Effie Aaronson, Mrs. Miles Humphries, Mrs. W. G. Baymiller.

The coterie of chairmen in the new administration include: Mrs. W. L. Blayney, civic philanthropy; Mrs. W. G. Eilert, home department; Mrs. H. B. McFarland, home economics; Mrs. Adolph Buttner, literary department; Mrs. D. L. Zimmerman, music department; Mrs. C. M. Vanderburgh, chairman of the program committee.

WHEN the Francisca Club of San Francisco took possession of the beautiful new building on the corner of Sutter and Mason Streets, many prominent women from the Bay cities participated in the gala event.

Taking possession of that three-story home built on the Colonial type, was more than a ceremony; it was an achievement. Although the club makes no claim other than "the promotion of social intercourse among members," it stands for feminine force in the community. The housewarming in the present club home was the result of seventeen years' fellowship in rented club rooms and the growth and development of the club as an organization of prominent women.

In the new building there are large reading rooms, a library, writing-room accommodations and an attractive drawing room on the west side of the main floor. The artistic dinning room, the flowering tea rooms where smart luncheons, teas and receptions are given, are additional charms which attract the Francisca members for entertainment of guests and noted visitors.

A limited number of sleeping rooms, arranged with the feminine requirements of a private boudoir afford accommodations for out-of-town members. Atop the building, overlooking the San Francisco Bay, is a glassed-in sun room.

The personnel of the Francisca roster respresents some of California's best known families. The membership, though limited in number, now has an enrollment of five hundred. Social amenities, literary gatherings, with world-famous authors as honor guests, are typical of the Francisca Club's hospitalities.

The staff of executives represent many of the city's noblest families its women are women whose quiet, effective deeds are "deeds of honor and a credit to womankind."

Miss Marion Angelotti, one of California's brilliant authors is a member of the Francisca Club, Mrs. Daniel Lathrop, author of "Five Little Peppers" is a guest member and when she visit San Francisco often entertains her literary friends in the tea room.

A group of young society women are counted among the Francisca Club members, Miss Marion Zeile, Miss Marion Warren, and others from San Francisco and the peninsula cities, being among the active constituency.

THE Shakespeare Club of Pasadena, with a membership of over one thousand, has completed, under the efficient leadership of its president, Mrs. Leo G. MacLaughlin, a year of high attainment in service.

In civic affairs, the committees of Public Affairs, Health and Sanitation, Education, History and Landmarks, and Industrial and Social Conditions have taken an active part. With a vision of national and world-wide service, Americanization, International Relations, Conservation, Legislation and Social Service committees have kept in touch with world problems.

Notable programs by famous artists and lecturers have brought the best in music, art and literature. Morning departments continued from past years include: Shakespeare, Music, Drama, Art and Travel, Home Economics, Book and Magazine, Political Science and Bible. Two new and popular departments, Current Events and the Penwoman's, have fully justified their existence. Topics of luncheon speakers have ranged from the far-away island of Yap to the intimate problems of city government.

With over two hundred new members during the year the Shakespeare Club is facing the need for a larger clubhouse. The County Fair, given at the Maryland Hotel in November, and other affairs of a social nature, have not only added to the building fund, but have interested every member in the plans for a greater Shakespeare Club of the future.

TOWN AND COUNTRY CLUB
San Francisco

THE first organization of women to be established exclusively along the lines of men's clubs in San Francisco, was formed in the year 1892. This organization was called the San Francisco Town and Country Club. From the time of its incipiency, the Town and Country Club was the center of interest, partly, because its appearance in the social world was an experiment, and partly, because at that time, a club where out-of-town members could spend over night was really "something new."

From the initial day of its formation, the Town and Country Club, has owned its own home. The membership of five hundred and fifty is supplemented by guests and there is a waiting list of prominent women wanting to affiliate. The extensive library, the splendid restaurant service and the accommodations given members are some of the comforts accorded. The lounge and living rooms for temporary guests are additional conveniences.

Situated as it is, overlooking Union Square, in the very center of the business district, the Town and Country Club is an ideal place for those who seek its enjoyment.

Mrs. Seward N. McNear is the president, Mrs. Willard O. Wayman, vice-president; Mrs. Frederick W. Tallant, treasurer; Miss Eleanor Morgan, secretary; and Miss Margaret Casserly is librarian. Associate directors are: Mrs. Robert Roos, Mrs. Henry Poett, Mrs. Perry Eyre, Mrs. Harry J. Knowles, Mrs. Horace Van Sicklen and Mrs. Robert Lewis Coleman.

THE San Mateo Woman's Club House was formally opened on Wednesday, November 26, with ceremonies in which men of the peninsula district as well as women, participated. The club house represents an expenditure of $25,000. The money was raised by enterprising women in various ways, including sales from home-cooking, by bazars, by card parties, entertainments and by donations from subscribers.

A woman architect, Miss Grace Jewett, drew the plans for the building. So complete is the club house for every comfort and convenience; so beautiful in design, that it stands as an exemplification not only to the business ability of the club women but an example of the architectural ability of a woman.

One room designed for a tea room, is utilized for commercial purposes as well as for private affairs. The tea room proves the source of a large revenue. Motorists on their trips down the State Highway know of the attractive club house; consequently, both on week days, and on Sundays, the rooms, where substantial refreshments are served, are filled with visitors.

Mrs. John McGinn, president of the San Mateo Woman's Club, is one of the States most energetic workers, and to her efficiency and that of her co-workers is due much of the splendid success of the San Mateo Woman's Club.

Mrs. John M. Vickerson, president of the San Mateo County Federation, is one of the sponsors for the San Mateo Club's achievements. Mrs. John McGinn is first vice-president of the County Federation; Mrs. E. W. Martin, second vice-president; Mrs. Lewis Aubury, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. Kirkpatrick, treasurer; Mrs. William Bain, auditor.

THE Philomathean Club of Stockton ranks as one of the largest clubs of the Alameda District California Federation of Women's Clubs. It was organized in 1893 and federated with the State in 1900.

The club has sections devoted to the study of history, literature, art, civics, music and drama. Book reviews are part of the regular section work in addition to study and discussions on current topics.

Philomathean Club has one of the most attractive club houses in the District, and within its walls are held many sessions sought by others, in addition to the club work. We call our club house the "Home of Philomathean Club" for the home-atmosphere is pronouncedly part of the spirit which prevails here.

Philomatheans are proud of the music department, as many of the members have been wanted by clubs throughout the state for programs. An active literary section, with book reviews, makes for the high cultural tastes of our Stockton club members.

The part in community welfare work maintained by the by members, individually and collectively is in strict accord with the co-operation which prevails in the commonwealth.

The State president, Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, and the District president, Mrs. George A. Rigg, of Oakland, have been honor guests at Philomathean events.

Among the prominent club leaders in Philomathean Club are the past-presidents who maintain their active interest. They include: Mrs. Margaret Davis, Mrs. S. N. Cross, Mrs. W. D. Buckley, Mrs. J. E. Budd, Mrs. J. L. Phelps, Mrs. Edward S. Munford, Mrs. C. S. Sargent, Mrs. E. L. Dodge, Mrs. C. J. Haas, Mrs. H. H. Hewlett, Mrs. F. S. Holley, Mrs. W. H. E. Fellfer, Mrs. A. E. Pryor, Miss Lottie Ruggles, Mrs. R. R. Smith, Mrs. C. L. Six, Mrs. J. L. Craig, and Mrs. E. C. Stewart.

One of the special programs of Philomathean Club this last February was a talk on "The Redwoods" with a strong appeal made to the club women for conservation of California trees.

"I think that I shall never see,
A poem lovely as a tree;
Poems are made by fools like me,
But God alone can make a tree."

The officers of the Building Association of the Philomathean Club to whom a debt of gratitude is due because of their excellent judgment and business enterprise include: Mrs. J. W. Barrett, president; Mrs. E. S. Munford, Miss Lottie Ruggles, Mrs. Percy Kenyon, vice-presidents; Mrs. E. C. Stewart, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Noble, treasurer. The following women were directors of the Building Association: Mesdames J. W. Barrett, E. S. Munford, Percy Kenyon, F. R. Clarke, A. M. Noble, J. L. Craig, E. C. Stewart, C. F. Bertholf, E. L. THE Wednesday Morning Club believing that "He who does not advance goes backward" upholds the object for which it was formed, namely, advancement along literary, civic and philanthropic lines, by maintaining several study sections under the leadership of competent instructors, and its weekly programs, which feature artists in various lines, lecturers and speakers on live issues of the day.

The Spakespeare section with its large and enthusiastic enrollment presents one or more of Shakespeare's plays each year. Members of this section who take a four year course, study four plays each year, and write a paper on each play receive from the club a diploma and pin. Then they become members of the Wednesday Morning Club Shakespeare Alumnae.

Music section members receive careful instruction in sight reading, correct breathing, voice placing and artistic rendering of solo and concert music. These members, in addition to regular class-work give selections for shut-ins and church gatherings, often furnishing music for afternoon programs presenting at least one operetta during the club year.

The study of Spanish is proving most interesting and the class is doing excellent work.

To create a deeper interest in our mother tongue that we may use it more intelligently, the class in English has two lessons a month devoted to proper pronunciation and the correct use of words.

Current events and public welfare receive a full share of attention, the open forum affording an excellent opportunity for the expression of individual opinions.

Drama was taken up as a new study this year and is already doing splendid work having a pageant called "The Spirit of the Trees" already well under way for presentation in the very near future.

In the Parliamentary section we are sitting at the feet, as it were, of our District Parliamentarian, Mrs. Charles S. McKelvey, who likens the various motions to a kit of tools with which we may do our work decently and in order. In this way we are gaining a knowledge of Parliamentary Usage which will be useful not only to ourselves but to any assembly in which we are participants.

Social affairs are featured in this enterprising club, especially the weekly luncheons, and the dances, when the members and their friends to the accompaniment of excellent music prove the truth of the saying that "To live, to laugh, to love one's friends and be loved by them is the essence of happiness."

The club belongs to the Women's Legislative Council of California which concerns itself in State Legislation concerning women and children.

A lively interest is also displayed among the membership in the production of better films for moving pictures.

Bearing in mind the injunction of Shakespeare "To thine own self be true" we have sought to comfort the poor, protect and shelter the weak, remembering that "In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto me."

MRS. FRED W. FULLER,
President.

HOME OF THE HISTORY CLUB

HISTORY CLUB

Los Gatos

THE History Club had its beginning in a little class of six women, who were called together by Mrs. R. A. Urquhart of Los Gatos to study the history of the world. In 1907, the little class having grown into a club of thirty, it was decided to build a club house—so the club incorporated. Bought a lot and put up a house at a cost of $3,000.00. The money was borrowed from a friend of Mrs. Urquhart's who proposed to lend it without interest, to be paid in ten years It was paid in nine years.

It was agreed in the beginning between the members, that the amount should be paid by the members themselves. They were to earn the money, not to ask their men folks for it, nor was the club to give public entertainments to raise money. The membership was increased to fifteen. Each one was to pay $5.00 a year toward the debt and the rental of the club house. Revenue from private dances and parties, and so forth, was to be added to the amount contributed by the members.

The club has now a membership of seventy-eight. It is divided into sections, History, Current Events, Music, and Dramatics. It meets once a week.

The object of the History Club is to promote education among women, and to aid by united efforts all worthy causes that tend to the best interests of the community. The officers are: Mrs. Emily Cohen, president; Mrs. Mary L. Gilbert, vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, recording secretary; and five directors who, with the above officers, form a board of directors.

MRS. ELMER C. JONES

THE Ebell of Long Beach, one of the largest women's clubs in Southern California, was organized November 16, 1896, nearly twenty-six years ago, with seventeen charter members. The Ebell of today with its membership of well over one thousand, and its twenty departments, is closing a year of achievement, with Mrs. E. C. Jones as its efficient president. Mrs. Jones has proved a leader, broad and progressive in her ideals and viewpoints, and with the practical and businesslike qualities necessary to guide the activities of the many important branches of so large an organization, while her charm and poise as presiding officer has added much to the pleasure of the year.

The first "lean" years, all club meetings were held at the homes of members. A club house was built in 1905, but some time ago proved inadequate to accommodate the growing membership, and the building was sold. A new site was purchased, and, step by step plans have been perfected. Shortly ground will be broken for the construction of a new $100,000 club home, on the corner of Cerritos Avenue and Third Street.

The club house of brick or hollow tile, artistic in design, and utilitarian in its arrangements, will cover the entire site of 150 x 155 feet. Part of the club house will be two-story, and part, one-story. A large auditorium, a dining room, and an ideal modern kitchen, class rooms, reception rooms, commodious quarters for the care-takers have been planned. One of its artistic marks of distinction will be a protected patio.

The weekly programs are of a high standard, many celebrities of note contributing.

The officers, board of directors and executive committee have been meeting once each month for luncheon followed by a business session. This plan inaugurated this year, has added much to the interest and the club accomplishments.

The departmental work offers educational advancement along many lines, including art, travel, drama, and the languages. The social, and the parent-education departments were added this year, the former bringing together groups of members for afternoon affairs. The junior department has been very helpful to all branches of the work; the Americanization or better citizenship department has carried on the work mapped out by the federation; the drama department has taken up the study of Shakespeare in addition to its regular work; and the social service department has been helpful in a wide field.

Many brilliant social affairs are included in the year's activities: the Charter Day Luncheon, reception to new members, and the reciprocity day luncheon, all well attended.

Tolerance, service, and loyalty are all factors in the steady growth and achievements of this organization of energetic women.

Press Chairman.

THE Adelphian Club of Alameda stands out from many other well known clubs of Alameda County, to which it is a contributing part as one of the most hospitable clubs in California clubdom.

The pretty club house at the corner of Central Avenue and Walnut Street has been the setting for many ambitious literary and dramatic presentations. Presidents from the club of the Bay cities have been entertained with that lavish hospitality for which the Adelphian Club is far-famed.

Sections of club work at the Adelphian Club include: art, history, tourist, Shakespeare, music, current events, literature and "New Books," household-arts, civic, dramatic, "Hearth and Home."

The Adelphian Club was organized in 1897. It is federated with the Alameda District and the State Federation and ranks high in the totality of altruistic achievements, not only for the club itself, but for the community in which it is a potent force.

On the first Thursday of the month union meetings of the club are held. The various sections of the Adelphian Club which are, in themselves, like small club circles, have individual sessions all contributing finally to the upbuilding of the high purposes of the club, in general, and to the advancement of each division, in particular.

Many of the State's most brilliant women have been honor guests at the Adelphian Club and taken part in the programs given there. The State president, Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald and her constituents, as well as the District and County executives are often heralded as the complimented guests on these special occasions which pronounce the Adelphian way of club participation in the enterprises of the Bay cities.

Mrs. W. E. Vaughan has been re-elected to office as president of the Adelphian Club of Alameda. Several other officers were re-elected with her including: vice-presidents, Mrs. John H. Merrill, Mrs. Lottie A. Garretson; treasurer, Mrs. Charles H. Moody; general curator, Mrs. M. A. Winant; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert H. Hill; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. E. SERVICE, Harmony and Friendship are the dominating influences that have prevaded the club ever since its organization in 1902. It immediately federated with the state, and in 1905 with the National Federation. The club house was built in 1912.

The organization has always fostered and encouraged enterprises of a community nature.

The first work of the club after the completion of the club house was to organize and house the city library, and it has, ever since, taken a leading part in the city's civic affairs. The membership has enjoyed a steady growth and now has 125 members.

A very active Arts' Crafts department has been an important factor in its recent growth. Mrs. Ida Masters, a pioneer in Arts' Crafts work, is the very efficient chairman. This year's program has been carried out almost to the letter under the chairmanship of Miss Sarah Palmer, assisted by the music chairman, Mrs. Lillian Freeman.

The main social event of the year was an elaborate banquet at which affair it was our rare privilege to have Mrs. Robert Burdette as a guest of honor.

For the past three years the club has presented a successful lecture course. The talent has all been donated by numerous talented friends of club members—the most notable of whom is our honorary member and neighbor Carrie Jacobs Bond. Over twelve hundred dollars has been raised by this method to liquidate the club house debt.

In every way each year's work has been one of pleasure and profit and the bond of and fellowship that is so strong in this club has been continuously strengthened.

President.

THE annual report of the Wednesday Club for 1921-22 shows several new features—the institution of regular fortnightly luncheons addressed by noted visitor local speakers; a series of public lectures given by the English philosopher and writer, John Cowper Powys; the lifting of the debt from the club house; and the amending of the by-laws to increase the membership and adapt club development to the development of the community and the times. The Wednesday Club will be twenty-seven years old in November, 1922 and, as its traditions and aims are purely cultural, its technical organization is elastic to admit of healthy growth. With a membership, active, associate and honorary of less than two hundred it has no departments, but a general participation in programs literary, dramatic, musical and social. Its creed may be said to deal with the validity of the aesthetic emotions as factors in community development.

The officers elect for the term 1922-1923 are: Mrs. Henry P. Newman, president; Mrs. Philip Morse, first vice-president; Mrs. Lorenz Barney, second vice-president; Miss Mary J. THE early chapters in the history of this club are probably almost bromidic in their likeness to the same chapters in the history of every women's club which has come into existence in a small village. Seven progressive women met weekly, in their various homes, to read current literature, and to write papers. In 1894 this was called the Current Events Club, which in 1897 joined the County Federation. In 1900 the name was changed to the La Jolla Woman's Club; in 1901 it joined the Southern District; and in 1902 the State and the National Federations. Incorporated in 1914, the La Jolla Woman's Club had the honor of being the first club in California to joing the National Federation.

During these years the club had no permanent home, but in 1913 the cornerstone of the present beautiful and well equipped clubhouse was laid on December third. On October fifth, 1914, the first meeting was held, the formal presentation of the building to the club being made by the donor, Miss Ellen Browning Scripps. Dealing from this time, a more elaborate and systematic program of activities has been followed than was possible before the club had its present facilities. The usual departments which are so great and helpful a part of the life of a woman's club have enjoyed full measure, including departments of civics, arts and crafts, literature, music and the drama.

La Jolla is unique in that while it is essentially a village, with all that this implies in the number of permanent residents, its natural beauty and delightful climate make it a Mecca for the tourist. The nearness of the Scripps Institute of Biological Research gives easy access to that brilliant colony gathered there, and the many friends who visit them. All are most generous in their readiness to give of their best to the club at it Monday meetings, thus the club has a cosmopolitan membership, and unusually varied programs. In 1916, the club presented a Shakespearian Pageant, an ambitious production. In 1917 it gave the play of "Agamemnon," and in April, 1922, three performances of the Pageant of Esther, under the direction of the Countess de Turczynowitz, were most successful in every way, being given with dignity, beauty and reverence. These performances are emphasized as being perhaps the most unusual of the Club's many activities. The present membership of the club, May, 1922, includes 14 life members, 105 active members, 32 associate members and 36 transient members.

"To the club—Loyality;

MRS. WILLIAM RAYMOND MYERS

THE motto of the Highland Park Ebell Club was well chosen for the members have always been known for their loyalty to the organization, and their willingness to help in every way anything that tends to improve conditions in the community. With that view in mind we co-operate with the Highland Park Chamber of Commerce, Garvanza Improvement Association, Arroya Seco Library, and Play Ground Director in all welfare movements.

Our club was founded eighteen years ago and for ten years has met in its own club house situated at 131 East Avenue 57, Los Angeles. This year we payed off our indebtedness, and burned our mortgage with appropriate ceremony. With nearly four hundred members we are looking forward to soon enlarging our club house, or building a new one.

We meet at ten o'clock every Tuesday morning from October first to June first, at which time splendid programs are given by outside talent, or our own gifted members. Once each month the Public Affairs Chairman has charge of the program, bring something of city or state interest before us. Six live sections are well attended. These are Literature, Bible, Art, Travel, Drama and Ramblers.

For several years now we have worked with the Council of Community Service in the splendid work they are doing to help humanity. Last year we furnished a room in Monte Vista Lodge, a home maintained at Sunland by this organization for the undernourished children of the city and county, made dolls and dresses for the children. One of our members is treasurer for Monte Vista Lodge, another is a prominent helper in the Thrift shop, while many help in the annual drive for funds, and in the milk camgaigns.

THE Forward Club of Lemon Grove report a very active and successful year. Commencing the year 1921-22 with a membership of seventy members and the old club house disposed of by its owner for residential purposes, members of the Forward Club were faced with either disbanding or erecting a building of their own. The star of enthusiasm and effort was in the ascendency and the members decided to invite subscriptions for a new building.

By subscription and other effort $2650.00 was raised in a few weeks. The building site was bought at a considerable bargain. All necessary professional services and other extra labor were donated by members of the community. The main building of our club house is forty by eighty feet, with side rooms and kitchen equipment in addition. A conservative estimate of the value of our property is $8500.00.

To pay off our remaining indebtedness we hope to have lectures, concerts, dances, and other entertainments. We also intend as far as possible to promote the community spirit among members and friends and to provide for our young people entertainment and social pleasure under the efficient supervision of the members of this club.

CELEBRITIES of the music world, lecturers, artists, and prominent men and women have been guests of the Tuesday Club of Sacramento on so many noteworthy occasions that real distinction is merited, when something memorable, is to be recorded, in California Club land.

Mrs. Walter Longbotham, one of the best known musicians in clubdom, has just been re-elected president. Her genial, kindly nature, as well as her ability as an executive, her talent as a singer have made the Tuesday Club president a personage of interest in circles where women congregate.

The attractive club house in Sacramento is the scene for many occasions of dramatic worth, with professionals and semi-professionals, as well as talented club women in the program productions.

Original work is so often a distinctive part of the Tuesday Club that many of the productions have been repeated upon popular request. The evening sessions of the Tuesday Club during the past year have been criterions for good work. Chairmen of the literary sections, the music sections, and the drama, often combine in one concerted program, as they did not long ago, when an elaborate pageant and fashion-show was staged.

Civic and community interests are a component part of the club's achievements, in fact, the Tuesday Club of Sacramento, situated as it is, geographically, in "the heart of California" reaches out its broad sympathies for every good and noble cause.

Many of the most prominent women in the State Federation are members of the Tuesday Club of Sacramento. Many of the members are officers in the State and District Federation. In fact, the Northern District of the California Federation of Women's Clubs has long been acclaimed as one of the greatest contributing forces to the State Federation interests and its executive work.

Mrs. Longbotham has been a member of the State Executive Board under different leaders. Mrs. Bradford Woodbridge, a former president of the Northern District Federation, is one of the active Tuesday Club members. Mrs. A. L. Miller, the presiding executive of the Northern District, is one of the favored Tuesday Club guests.

Mrs. William D. Stephens, wife of Governor Stephens, is often an honor guest at the noteworthy events of the Tuesday Club. Wives of the senators, state representatives, and congresswomen are frequent visitors at the Tuesday Club house, one of the prettiest club houses, by the way, in the state. Financial prudence and careful expenditures together with splendid business direction guide the whirl of the wheels in the progress of the Tuesday Club of Sacramento, California.

TO compile the history of the Town and Gown Club of Berkeley is to write in radiant phraseology the names of many prominent women in University life. For, the Town and Gown Club stands quite distinctively a woman's organization of culture, initiative work, and high in the educational archives of California.

Within the cosy rooms of the Town and Gown Club, have assembled women whose names are household words in literary fields, and whose prominence in the upbuilding of educational life and community welfare give credence to the acclamation of constituents in point of attainment.

The personnel of the roster includes many of the best known families of California. The honorary members are women who have added prestige to an organization of distinguished women. Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College; Mrs. E. E. Brown, Washington; Mrs. George Haight, and Mrs. Charles B. Bradley, are four of the honorary members.

The club house at the corner of Dwight Way and Dana Street, is the meeting place of the Town and Gown Club of Berkeley. One can see through the trailing vines something of the genuine cheer to be found within the club rooms. Women of refinement and a radiant outlook on life in general greet the visitor there.

Mrs. Frank J. Woodward, the president, and her splendid staff of co-workers have a way of imparting real California hospitality which has done much for the women in University life. While scholastic requirements are compulsory for membership enrollment, and the standards are high so, too, are the tone and tenor of days spent in noteworthy gatherings.

Life members of the Town and Gown Club include: Mrs. C. T. Blake, Mrs. C. C. Judson, Mrs. William Fitzhugh, Mrs. P. R. Boone.

Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, wife of President Emeritus Wheeler, is an active member of the Town and Gown Club. Mrs David P. Barrows, wife of the President of the University of California, is an active member; Mrs. Horatio Stebbins, mother of Dean Stebbins, of the University of California, is also an active member.

Receptions, luncheons, celebrations and special anniversaries for notables are recorded in the annals of the Town and Gown Club. These brilliant events are supplementary to the intimate assemblages when members gather to discuss general world events, or to continue studies along the subjects engaging concerted attention. While the Town and Gown Club takes no part in the general federation affairs of California women, its contributing part to the cultural life of the State is past close reckoning. Consistently a Town and Gown Club, the coterie of women comprising its welfare command admiration and respect.

Progress is oft-times stimulated through studious retrospection. The inspiring influence of noble womanhood again and again is radiated long after the passing on.

This brings to the mind an instance of a young woman, in memory of whom students are privileged to develop their latent talent, in music, in poetry, and in other creative arts—a fitting monument to a beautiful career.

ELIZABETH MILLS CROTHERS

ELIZABETH MILLS CROTHERS

Elizabeth Mills Crothers, daughter of William Harrison Mills and Elizabeth Haswell Mills, was born in Sacramento January 20, 1882, and died at Stanford University, August 18, 1920. On March 23, 1911, she was married to Judge George Edward Crothers. She entered the University of California in 1903, and graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1903.

From childhood she showed remarkably diversified talents. She formulated verses even before she could write, and before she was in her teens she was fond of drawing faces expressive of various emotions, such as love, fear, hate and courage.

Inspired by contact with such professors as Chauncey W. Wells and Doctors Benjamin Ide Wheeler and John C. Merriam, she continued her intense interest in literary and musical composition and Paleontology to the very end. Her many delighful plays and her scientific and imaginative productions upon the early history of man remain as yet unpublished. "The Ascent and Other Poems," with Foreword by Chancellor David Starr Jordan, and many of her songs, were published in 1921. Of the poems Dr. Jordan wrote in his Foreword: "This volume is a memorial of a short but most happy and beautiful life. It is made up of lyric poems written by a very gifted young woman for her own pleasure and that of her friends. They were as spontaneous as the songs of birds, and were put forth in the security of a happy home."

YOSEMITE CONVENTION CALIFORNIA FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

A NEW EPOCH IN CLUB HISTORY

MRS. AARON SLOSS

LOG books of the California Federation of Women's Clubs will consistently contain records of conventions. Yet, in all the years to come no more successful concourse nor worthy a convention can be chronicled than that of the Twentieth Annual Convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs held in Yosemite Valley, May 24 to 28 inclusive, in the year 1921.

To the glory of the womanhood of the West may it be said that the ambitious undertaking of the California Federation far surpassed their highest hopes and expectations.

No more beautiful setting for a convention could possibly be imagined. The mental vigor which asserted itself in session and conferences during the four-day convention procedure harmonized with the heights of Yosemite.

Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley was the presiding officer, in her capacity as President of the California Federation of Women's Clubs with its membership enrollment of something near the 60,000 mark.

Women high in community and civic life, women from the quietude of home life, women versed in political life, women from the business and the professional world, the literati, the artists, the musicians, leaders in municipal and state enterprises, women from practically all walks of life gathered at the Yosemite Valley Convention.

Standards of excellence were firmly fixed in the feminine firmament by their executive, Mrs. Schloss, who had the loyal support of an able executive staff of officers. Petty political points were lost in the light which flashed from the mountain peaks of Yosemite. Radiant rays from majestic falls illumined the way of club work and permeated the convention procedures.

The acme of club achievement was attained by the presentation in Yosemite Valley of a pageant entitled: "California the Land of Dreams." It was produced on the meadows just below Yosemite Falls, with something like eleven hundred women in the cast. Some of the participants were professionals, or semi-professionals, but for the most part, the cast comprised club women who essayed their roles with consecrated service and a desire to put forth the best within them.

Symbolical and historical—was the pageant; symbolical in the presentation of the "questing spirit of womanhood," historical, because the twentieth milestone of federated club work in California, marked a new era in criterions.

The stage for the pageant produced in Yosemite was one to which Nature gave of her rarest. Three thousand feet rose the granite walls which formed the background of the pageant-play. Giant trees formed the wings; a drop curtain of Heaven's own azure blue, a carpet of exquisite wild flowers scenting the breeze and the sound of mighty waterfalls for orchestral accompaniment—these were some of Nature's contributions to the scene.

The day of the pageant was ideal. The sun shone in kindly tribute, following the preceding afternoon of shadows and mist. The rainbow above Yosemite Falls fell like a spotlight over the stage ostensibly picking out the principals as they spoke their lines and played their part.

Spectators sat around the natural amphitheatre forming a circle into which the players came as they presented six episodes in consecutive and historical sequence.

The dramatic episodes were interwoven with pantomimes, tableaux and interpretative dancing—all of which carried the thread of unity—"The Questing Spirit of Womanhood" seeking a community where she could direct her talents.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, was the leading character in her role of "California."

Mrs. Eleanor Brodie Jones of Los Angeles, in her official capacity as Chairman of Literature, wrote much of the work and was greatly responsible for the presentation of the pageant.

Grace Hyde Trine, an authority on pageantry, was one of the advisors. Miss Marjorie Day, Mrs. Arthur Farewell, Mrs. Frayne Williams, Miss Mae Francis O'Keeffe were others whose professional advice carried the presentation to successful fruition.

Gertrude Atherton, wrote the historical foundation for the pageant.

Practically every prominent club woman of California was in attendance at the Yosemite Valley Convention. It represented the largest gathering of women in the history of the State.

Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, of San Francisco, was elected to succeed Mrs. Aaron Schloss at the Yosemite Convention. The gracious manner in which Mrs. Schloss placed the official club gavel into the hands of her successor, Mrs. Fitzgerald, added to the permanency of her constituency.

The name of Mrs. Aaron Schloss was placed on the Founders' Roll of the General Federation as the highest honor which the club women of California have within their power to bestow.

Josephine Gibson

THE CALIFORNIA FEDERATION REVIEW

IT IS interesting to review the development of the women's club movement in California. Powerful and effective as women are, in club groups, more effective and influential are they as the composite organization called the Federation.

The California Federation of Women's Clubs was organized in Los Angeles, January 18, 1900. It was admitted to the General Federation in May of the same year.

The first club house owned by any federated club in California was the little Greek Temple, Broadway and Seventh Streets, Los Angeles. This was the first club house built for women by a woman, in this country. In the auditorium of this little structure gathered the women who answered the call to form the State Federation.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena was the first president. Her enthusiasm, her understanding of club work, and her generalship, were greatly responsible for the promptness with which women responded to the initial session of the federation. That was twenty-two years ago. In May of 1922, the California Federation celebrated its twenty-second birthday at Los Angeles, and the founder, Mrs. Burdette, was again one of the speakers.

The California Federation of Women's Clubs has now an enrollment past the fifty-five thousand mark. It is divided into six districts, and in federation curriculum, the field of activities covers a wide range of work for the betterment of home, state, and nation.

Affiliated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the California Federation adheres closely to national principles and guidance, at the same time, developing their own particular resources within the ranks of clubdom.

OUR FEDERATION

MRS. WILLIAM A. FITZGERALD

ENTERING upon the twenty-second year of its existence, the California Federation of Women's Clubs has chosen American Citizenship as the keynote of the year's work. Our program will be a continuation of the constructive Americanization plan outlined by Mrs. Frank A. Gibson.

We desire to conserve and salvage the results of Americanization work—to link them to our work so that the continuity of a State program will be unbroken.

Special attention is called to the importance of completing nationality maps, and to extending Arts and Crafts Exhibits.

Each department chairman has been asked in outlining her work, to bear in mind its relationship to a main theme to the end that instead of fragmentary bits of unrelated effort, reports at the annual meetings of club women may be closely fitting sections of a well defined harmonious composite American Citizenship.

In conformity to the General Federation, Motion Pictures have been added to our departments of work.

At the Salt Lake convention it was brought to the mind of women that in addition to those agencies primarily interested in the welfare of the ex-service men, there were many opportunities for service through women's clubs. A new committee has been appointed for this work entitled: "Co-operation with Ex-Service Men and Women."

The film taken of the beautiful pageant: "California, Land of Dreams," has been assembled and completed for production. Those who were so fortunate as to see the picture know its value and appreciate more than ever the privilege of presenting anything so high in literary standard in that marvelous national park: Yosemite.

The year is rich in opportunity for Federation service. May every earnest endeavor be crowned with success—a success which made our "Coming-of-Age" Convention held in Yosemite Valley—a shining page in Federation history.

THE GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

MRS. JOSIAH EVANS COWLES.

MANY California women have achieved distinction in the General Federation of Women's Clubs which already numbers over two million women including membership not only in this country, but in Canada, in China, England, France, in Hawaii, Japan, the Philippine Islands, Sweden, West Australia, the West Indies and the Canal Zone.

In each of these countries, a president directs the club work according to the plan of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, is president. Canada has five provinces with women's clubs belonging to the General Federation. China has an American Woman's Club in the city of Shanghai. England has an American Woman's Club. Paris has an American Woman's Club belonging to the General Federation. At Lihue, Kauai, Mekihana, in Hawaii, there is a federated club. In Tokyo, Japan, a club of one hundred members are affiliated with the General Federation. There are two clubs in the Philippines, at Manila, one called the Fortnightly and one the "Woman's Club." At Stockholm, Sweden, there is an American Woman's Club. Perth, Australia, has a club: "Karrakatta," affiliated. In the West Indies, there are the three clubs, one at McKinley, Isle of Pines, known as the Carnation Club; one at Santa Barbara, Isle of Pines, "Woman's Economic Club" and one at Santa Fe, Isle of Pines, the Hibiscus Club.

"The Woman's Musicale," Ancon, Canal Zone, and the Woman's Club, Cristobal, Canal Zone, are among the active clubs outside of the United States, belonging to the General Federation—in fact because there are so many clubs outside of the nation—the name, General is used instead of National Federation, as formerly.

Mrs. Winter often visits California, and, in this state, is one of the well known General Federation presidents. She directs the enormous work carried on by her two million constituents with the thoroughness of a general. Her principles of government are universal expressed as follows in her word to club women throughout the world—

"Ten peope have the strength of a hundred who stand singly; one hundred, in phalanx, can overpower a thousand stragglers. Let us band together—an invincible million—working for health, happiness, righteousness and humanity in these United States."

Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, of Los Angeles, was General Federation president from the terms of 1916 to 1918, and then re-elected as General Federation president from 1918 to 1920. She preceded her executive work as head of largest group of federated women in this country by her experience gained as State president of California from 1906 to 1907. Mrs. Cowles has a smile which the women say is contagious. She has an appreciation of values, an alert mind, fine perception and that necessary qualification for general leadership—abundant humor and its fine companion, diplomacy. California club women have been proud of her presidency for she comes from that coterie of women whose deeds are both inspirational and convincing. She was a General Federation director during the presidency of the late Sarah Platt Decker of Colorado; she was first vice-president, during the reign of Mrs. Philip N. Moore of Missouri, from 1900 to 1912. She followed Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Texas, as president of the General Federation, being elected to office at the New York convention of 1916. While she makes her home in Los Angeles, she is claimed as an universal club woman, and California, from north to south, acclaim her: "leader."

SAN FRANCISCO CITY AND COUNTY FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUB

CLUB life in San Francisco is so distinctively a part of civic enterprise and the various projects which make for human progress, that full recognition of its activities could not be recorded in a volume. It was founded in the year 1916 with a small membership from six San Francisco clubs.

An approximate membership enrollment of twelve thousand women in the San Francisco City and County Federation, attests, in a measure, the co-operative attitude of local clubdom. Over ninety individual clubs with almost as many individualities, are represented in the City Federation. These individual clubs, contribute to, and control, activities assumed by the Federation.

The Federation is a kind of clearing-house for club work. The Federation is a senate, in a way, where laws and technicalities are proclaimed. The Federation is an inspiration, too, to its constituency. It is a representative body of women with thought and vision, who get together for the betterment of those whom it is within their province to aid and advise.

Miss Jennie Partridge, president of the San Francisco City Federation, because of her experience in executive club work, and her leadership in women's affairs, has been able to enlarge the range of ramifications. She has surrounded herself, too, with a staff of women trained in club technique.

Preceding Miss Partridge, as president of the San Francisco City and County Federation of Women's Clubs, was Mrs. W. B. Hamilton, a gentlewoman high in the regard of the people. Mrs. Hamilton's ability as a leader gained prominence in her canteen work when the mantle of supervision fell upon her from the shoulders of her friend, the late Mrs. George Sperry.

Mrs. Hamilton launched an idea during the year of her presidency of the City Federation—1920-1921—an idea which may thrive to full fruition. That idea was a Woman's Club House for the assembling of women's organizations. She advanced several projects with the enthusiasm of her nature, an enthusiasm which permeates the work which follows her.

Cora Sutton Castle, Ph.D. (Mrs. H. Edward Castle), of Columbia University and the University of California, author of: "A Statistical Study of Eminent Women" presided over the City Federation for two years—1918-1920.

She directed the Federation along the highway of thoughts and purposes and made record for achievement, notably the establishment and direction of the Outside Inn, a home-place where mothers and relatives could stay in order to be near their loved ones, sick or disabled, at the Letterman General Hospital. This work proved not only an accommodation for the women whom they aimed to help, but it proved, a financial success. Dr. Castle, herself, attributes the success of this work to her chairman, Mrs. Henry Sahlein. Financial statements record a surplus of $4,260.34 from the Outside Inn, the first year.

Scholarly, gracious, able, dignified and brilliant as she was, Dr. Castle, always found time for personal guidance in the many endeavors of San Francisco's club work, a work which she raised in standard and purpose by the accuracy of her statements and the thoroughness and fairness of executive decisions.

Dr. Castle was a well known leader in legislative measures and visited, regularly, the sessions during the California Legislature. In speaking of club work, Dr. Castle said:

"As women's organizations, we have learned to work together and to think constructively, concerning the big pieces of work that challenge the service of our sex."

Mrs. D. J. MacMaster, the honorary president of the San Francisco City and County Federation of Women's Clubs, was the founder of this effective bit of machinery which marks the force of a woman-power in the community. Mrs.

MacMaster had the vision—a vision which prompted her to combine the energy of leaders and to make for a federation which should be controlled by civic pride, co-operation and progress.

While presidents may rule and direct, may lead and advise, the great motive power of any organization is to be found in the different departments developed by their chairmen.

In the San Francisco City Federation of Women's Clubs, many of the chairmen are presidents of contributing clubs—their efficiency proclaiming a composite group of women versed in leadership.

Each president in the City Federation carries in her own distinctive way, a speculation, a record, or a note of cheer, which resound, anew, in each deliberation.

What is the ultimate goal of the San Francisco City and County Federation?

"It will be as far-reaching as the vision of those who control its destiny," said Dr. Cora Sutton Castle in her closing comment of a year's work.

JOSEPHINE WILSON

In this outlined sketch of the San Francisco City and County Federation is interwoven plans or purposes of clubdom at large. The San Francisco City and County Federation is here presented because, primarily, it represents an enrollment of over 15,000 women as units in the large organizations of the federated groups.

Many other city and county federations of women's clubs, in California, have rightful claim to the same recognition. This particular federation is unusual in point of formation, and a criterion in point of progress. We review this branch of club and community activities in appreciation of the great service the women, collectively and individually, have given the city and county of San Francisco. Other county federations command equal recognition, and they should occupy the same place in community and club reckonings.

THE Order of the Native Daughters of the Golden West is one belonging strictly to California, and founded primarily for the purpose of keeping in loving memory, that self-sacrificing band of Pioneers, who left sheltered homes, looking neither to the future with fear, nor to the past with regret, and tempting Fate, braved untold dangers that our purple sunset land of the West might become the home of a happy and prosperous people.

By our work for the homeless children we are looking to our future citizenship, and are assisting to place hundreds of helpless little ones in homes where they are given the blessings of opportunity, parental care, and a mother's love.

In our generous scholarship in Mills College, the first institution of its kind in the West, we are showing in a practical way our interest in the higher education for women.

Pledged to loyalty to Native Land and intent always on inspiring patriotism, our membership is enlisted in the work of reviving the unique history of our State, to the preservation of its land-marks, its forests, its wild flowers, and all its scenic wonders and beauties. By fostering State pride, and by devotion to its every interest, we are assisting in making for California a glorious future destiny which shall be commensurate to its romantic past.

CALIFORNIA leads in the membership enrollment in the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, according to an official report made at Tacoma, Washington, by Mrs. C. C. Noble, national chairman on membership. Mrs. Noble placed California first with an enrollment of 53,047.

Mrs. M. P. Higgins, former national president of the Congress of Mothers, gave a message recently to the members, calling their attention to increased ambitions.

"We should have a Parent-Teacher Association in every school. Parents and teachers should unite in carrying out practical constructive plans which would build up a solid loyal citizenship for the future of the state and the nation."

"Parents should train the individual child to be honest, loyal, true, and brave. The teacher in the school must teach foundation principles of law and order by which groups of children are to be governed. Parents and teachers, together in the Parent-Teacher Associations must learn the needs and desire of the group and together work for right thinking, right living, right acting, in fact for the "righteousness that exalteth a nation."

Practically every school has a Mothers' Club and Parent-Teacher Association. There are few schools, in this state, especially in the large communities, which do not have a Mothers' Club. The California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations are greatly responsible for the large memberships with which this state is accredited.

Meetings are usually held in the auditoriums of the public schools at hours most convenient for parent and teacher. More and more are the teachers entering into the club fellowship; more and more are parents realizing their responsibilities toward the teacher; in fact, the organizations are uniting them in a sacred interest for the child, the home, the state, and the nation—in proportion as the work enlarges and the affiliation increases in strength and purposes.

Mrs. Harry Ewing, president of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teachers Association, is one of the best known women in her particular work in national as well as in state activities.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF LOS ANGELES

SUSAN M. DORSEY

ONLY an outline of some of the outstanding features of the public schools of Los Angeles can be compassed in this brief statement.

The great extent of the school district, stretching more than sixty miles from mountains to sea and containing 620 square miles, makes necessary many types of schools. Within the city limits these range from the one-roomed country school nestling in the foothills, which must be administered as an ungraded unit, to the great urban high school housing thousands of students in commodious, well equipped buildings and offering an almost bewildering array of educational opportunities.

A thronging population which counts its newcomers each year by scores of thousands exacts the untiring efforts of administrators to secure the funds necessary for the housing and the educating of the school population. The increase in February, 1922 over that of February, 1921 was more than 22,000, a larger increase for the same period than in Chicago, a city five times as large as Los Angeles. These two factors; namely, the great size of the district and the astonishing growth in school population, multiply the perplexities and cost of administration.

A most capable Parent-Teacher Federation and a community unusually sympathetic with public education are powerful aids in meeting the perplexing problems of so diversified and extended a system. Probably nowhere in America has the Parent-Teacher organization functioned more helpfully than in Los Angeles. Back of every forward school movement, responsive to every emergency, their beneficient services range all the way from outfitting a child with the clothing necessary for school attendance to the gift of a fire-proof, fully equipped Public School Dispensary, through which agency the Board of Education relieves countless ills of needy childhood.

Within the schools there prevails an atmosphere of good will and comradeship between children and teachers. The foreign parent, especially when first he becomes conscious of this genial school spirit, is heard to comment approvingly by contrast with the stern discipline of his childhood days in other lands.

It has always been the policy of Los Angeles citizens and educators to provide in their schools as great a variety of educational experience and activity as possible. At present another advance, this time toward extended vocational opportunity, is contemplated. Encouraging and energizing this movement is a body of forward looking men interested in the occupational future of the boys and girls and in the commercial and industrial expansion of the city.

To name any department of school endeavor as preeminent would be invidious. The musical and art groups of the city are constantly augmented by recruits who have profited in the schools by the high grade instruction given in those subjects. Graduates from Los Angeles high schools can be found in every great university in the country. The junior high schools, ten in number, are unsurpassed. Increasing effort is being made to provide suitable education for the unfortunate child; for the over-aged; the mentally backward; the deaf; the blind; the cripple.

While not too prompt to chase the vision of every new educational theory, Los Angeles is alert. Her teachers and administrators recognize that in a changing world education must be constantly readapted through courses of study, through new educational material of every kind from books to motors, if the needs of each oncoming generation are to be fairly met.

A VISION

MRS. HELEN P. SANBORN

A VISION which seems likely to be realized for the strengthening of the course of training in the public schools is that under consideration for the Junior High Schools. The State law compels parents to keep children in school until they reach the age of sixteen. Many of these children entering the high school and knowing that when they have reached this age they are going out to labor and contribute to the support of the family, are not at all interested in the regulation high school course, which is largely preparatory for the University. We hope to differentiate the course in the Junior High Schools so that those who wish the academic, cultural course can have it, and others can have a thorough grounding in higher arithmetic, especially commercial arithmetic, mechanical drawing, et cetera, fitting them to take up the actual work of life when they go from school. We believe this will fill a long-felt need in our community, and could these children thereby get a much stiffer common school education with a first-class knowledge of English, including spelling, they would be much more welcome in the business world.

It is a wonderful thing for all young people to get a certain amount of cultural work, which makes life pleasanter all their days. This can be added to the practical training.

We are hoping to establish a first-class training preparatory to nursing. Our high schools now furnish excellent courses in the sciences, especially physiology and biology, and with some additions to the present course we are told that one year's experience in a hospital would equip our girls to serve as trained nurses. In addition, every girl should have a basic knowledge regarding the care of the sick, thereby fitting her for better service in her own home and the care of the children who may come to her.

There are so many fields for extension that it is difficult to differentiate and decide upon the special one to be incorporated. It is not the purpose of a public school education to give the training acquired in regulation trade schools, but could we give to our young people the basic training from which special work could be developed upon the foundation already laid, we believe we should be fulfilling an excellent purpose. Our common school training is sound, and it would not require a great deal of specializing to make it more effective.

Helen P. Sanborn.

In deep appreciation and reverence is the splendid article by that noble woman, the late Mrs. Helen Sanborn, published in this book. Mrs. Sanborn urged this consecrated work devoted to the women of California, and just before she passed away, she called me to her office in the City Hall, and, writing this "Vision," dedicated it to "Who's Who Among the Women of California."

CALIFORNIA FEDERATION OF SCHOOL WOMEN'S CLUB

THE California Federation of School Women's Club was organized in San Jose in 1908. Nearly all organized clubs of women teachers in cities north of the Tehachipi, are now members of the Federation whose purposes are declared to be: To promote professional spirit among the school women of the state; to furnish a medium for co-operation and information in order that united effort may be obtained when desirable; to promote acquaintances and fellowship; to encourage democracy of aim and feeling and in all things to uplift the cause of education and educational workers. Miss Agnes Howe, now Santa Clara County superintendent of schools, had charge of many details for the annual conference held in San Jose, Saturday, April 22, 1922.

Miss Florence Stahl, president, and Miss Jessie Williamson, secretary, are residents of San Jose. Officers of this federation include: Miss Florence Stahl, president; Alice M. Williams, vice-president; Jessie Williamson, secretary; Mary A. Bradford, treasurer. On the executive board are: Mrs. A. E. Campbell, Mrs. M. M. Fitzgerald, Elsie Northrup, Lilian Talbert, May McCardle, and Anna L. Barney. The auditors are Louisa F. Bray and Ethelind Bonney.

THE EFFECT OF SCHOOLS UPON SOCIETY

Our life as a people is only an expression of the effect of the schools upon society. If our schools are a failure, then indeed is our whole social structure sadly impaired. The kind of school we have in America exists because we as a people are determined to govern ourselves. Our democracy is, in turn, the product of the teaching in our schools, as those schools have responded to the needs and opportunities of a new civilization in a new and better environment.

The American School is responsible for American modes of thought. The American spirit is born in the American School. American boys and girls, meet together on a plane of equality, a fair field and no favor. The road is open and free to all from the primary school through the University. American youth, going forth into the community as men and women, understand one another, for they have all been reared in American homes and taught in American Schools. This makes for patriotism in time of peace, and in time of war. Thus shall the schools earn their due reward in the high esteem of all true-minded citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO GRADE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

MRS. EMMA L. DACRE

THE San Francisco Grade Teachers' Association has sent a delegate to the annual meetings of the National Education Association for the past three years. In 1920 the National Education Association was reorganized on a delegate basis, and at the 1921 convention the first meeting of the delegate assembly, I had the honor and privilege of representing the San Francisco Grade Teachers' Association in Des Moines.

The great vision of the new education was unfolded, and the delegates were to translate those ideals into achievements in the local associations. The delegates were impressed with their responsibility of doing their share in the work of an organization which is dedicated to the supremely important task of building a better America through better schools in charge of professionally minded teachers.

California was represented by one of the largest delegations at Des Moines, and as I was the only representative from San Francisco, I felt it my duty on my return home to impress the class room teachers with the importance of assuming the responsibility of their share in this great movement.

San Francisco was accorded the honor of having the State Director of the N. E. A. Miss Mary Mooney, our first president was selected to hold that important position, and I am sure our members have appreciated the honor paid to our association by the California Delegation. They have responded by enrolling in the National Education Association, and made the drive for one thousand National Education Association members in San Francisco a great success.

Our Association is entitled to six delegates, and the following teachers were elected to go to the convention in Boston in July: Miss Mary Mooney, State Director, Mrs. Emma Maland, Miss Carre Daly, Miss Esther Leonard, Miss Susie Le Fevre, and myself. These delegates hope to convince the governing board of the National Education Association that San Francisco is an ideal summer convention city, and have San Francisco made the meeting place for the convention next year. Miss Mooney and I are enlisting the aid of all civic and industrial organizations in this plan to advertise San Francisco in the East. Business men realize the great aid that teachers can give in all publicity movements. California headquarters will not only radiate true California hospitality, but will be a center for publicity work for Northern California.

In order to finance the delegates, a Jinks was given on May fifth at the Girls' High School. The first part of the Jinks: A Diversified Day, was a rollicking burlesque on certain phases of the daily routine; the second part was a bird phantasy written by Miss Margaret Dooley. An intermission was interspersed by solos, a trio and the Girls' High School Orchestra.

All over the country the class room teachers are trying to establish higher professional standards, and at this years' meeting, the class room department of the National Education Association, ways and means will be considered to make this one of the most worth-while sections of the whole association. Our delegation realized public education as of fundamental concern, and the profession will never rise higher than the class room teacher. Those in daily contact with the lives of little children must have the radiant influence of inspiration of great minds, and the desire to encompass the great ideals fostered by common action. We can only get this inspiration by meeting with those who can impart such enthusiasm.

LOS ANGELES CITY TEACHERS CLUB

LOS ANGELES has some reason for self-congratulation in the quality of her teaching corps.

Once upon a time, one of our esteemed exchanges—we cannot refrain from telling that it came from Boston—devoted some of its valuable space to a glowing tribute to the intellectual caliber of Los Angeles' teaching force.

It is always pleasant to have our friends find virtue in us that we had not suspected. But since our attention is called to it, we are half inclined to think the tribute may be in some measure deserved.

One of the features of greatest import was the Conference on Educational Research.

Referring to an article written by Carleton A. Wheeler, regarding educational work in California, the following quote is made:

"The new year is at our doors. There are many important things which the Southern section should accomplish in the twelve months already beginning to slip past.

There should be a permanent office for the activities of the Section, working with the office in San Francisco and with a branch of the Placement Bureau here in Los Angeles.

A capable well-paid secretary should be in that office and should during that year cover all parts of our Section bringing teachers directly the livest message that the Association has to offer. The Los Angeles members of the Council should form a definite working group with some monthly meetings and regular means of communication with their constituents."

In closing Wheeler said: "So I am going to believe that this year every one of you has resolved to provide material for your representatives to use in kindling the lights which are to shine as professional beacons in Southern California and in the State at large during the year 1922."

In Suffrage Ranks

"The history of the women of California in their organization for suffrage is a fascinating one and contains a long list of potent names. Suffice it to remind our readers that a dozen years before the Susan B. Anthony Amendment was accepted by Congress women of California were voters in town, county and state."

MRS. O. E. CHANEY

THE Woman's Legislative Council of California was organized on December 7th, 1912 in San Francisco, California, at a conference of delegates from fifty-three leading organizations of women. It is non-partisan and non-sectarian, and its object is to secure better laws for women and children, public welfare measures and laws that make for better moral, economic and social conditions. Its work is fundamentally educational, but its power lies in its ability to focus as well as enlighten public opinion. The aim of the Council is intelligent public service; it endeavors to help the women of the State to realize that citizenship is an individual responsibility that cannot be delegated to others. It believes that to educate and arouse the individual citizen to assume his or her own responsibility is to make for community action, community service and community uplift.

The need for such an organization as the Woman's Legislative Council was manifested when the right of suffrage was given the women of the State. That the Council has successfully met this need for concerted action in legislative work is evidenced not only by its membership, which stretches from Eureka in the north to San Diego in the south, but also by the list of its achievements, which number among them some of the most popular and important laws enacted by recent legislatures. To name a few of the results of the idea of co-operation in legislative work is the following list of laws enacted by the California Legislature through the work of the women of the State.

(1) Industrial Welfare Commission; (2) State Training School for Girls; (3) Birth Registration; (4) Mothers' Pension Law; (5) Teachers' Pension Act; (6) Raising the age of consent; (7) Home Teacher's Bill; (8) Red Light Abatement Law; Registration of Trained Nurses; (9) Making Mother Equal Guardian with Father of Minor Children; (10) Law Making Father of Illigitimate Child liable for its support; (11) Requiring Wife's signature to legalize assignment of Husband's wages; (12) Amendment to Juvenile Court Law, separating dependents from delinquents; (13) Safeguarding Educational rights and Hours of Labor for Children; (14) Establishing Civic Centers in Public School Buildings; (15) Making Women eligible to Jury service; (16) Farm for Delinquent Women; (17) Moron Colony for Southern California; (18) Increase in School Funds; (19) Exempting Wife's half of Community Property from Inheritance Tax; (20) Making Provision for Special Education for Crippled Children.

MRS. FRANK G. LAW

THE California Civic League was founded in 1911 in response to the demand of newly-enfranchised women for guidance and technical knowledge in preparing themselves to use the ballot intelligently.

In 1920 The National League of Women Voters was organized as an outgrowth of The American Womans Suffrage Association with the purpose of "developing the woman citizen into an intelligent and self-directing voter and to turn her vote toward constructive social ends."

On May, 1921 The California Civic League became the California unit of The National League of Women Voters and this necessitated a change in organization as the California Civic League had only organized in the northern part of the state. The California League of Women Voters has three sections—southern, central, and northern, each section retaining complete local autonomy but linked together, for State and National questions, by a State Executive Council. Said Council is composed of a State president, secretary and treasurer, and the president of each section by virtue of her office becomes a member of the State Executive Council.

The first State Convention will be held in October and at this time new officers will be elected and from one to five bills selected to be presented to the next Legislature. Said proposed legislation is now being studied by the local units of the State League.

The Pan American Conference held in conjunction with the annual convention of The National League of Women Voters in Baltimore, Maryland from April 20th to 29th, was attended by twelve official delegates from California. There were thirty-one official delegates from twenty-two American Countries seated in The Pan American Conference. Two thousand five hundred women from various parts of the world attended both the conference and the convention. The soul and spirit of this gathering of intellectual womanhood of the world was—"that democracy shall be saved for the world and that there shall be no future wars."

MRS. FRANK G. LAW,

Women from South America were official representatives at the Pan-American Conference of Women in Baltimore, Maryland, in connection with the National League of Women Voters. They were: Miss Marguerite Conroy of Lima; Madame Charles Dune, professor at the normal school of Port-du-Prince; Sehorite Anna Teresa Paradas, first woman lawyer of the Demonican Republic; Dona Lutz, Rio de Janeiro, chosen as a delegate because of her work for the League of Intellectual Emancipation of Women of which she is the founder and president. Other delegates at the Pan-American conference were: Senorita Beatrice Souza de Queiroz, Senora Emma Lopez Sena de Garrido, of the El Club Feminino de Cuba and Senora Amalia Mallen de Ostolaze, founder and president of the Partido Nacional Suffragista. Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters, officially represented the United States women at the conference.

THE San Francisco Center is a non-partisan organization devoted to the establishment of equality for women in citizenship; to the study of civic problems; to the discussion of public questions; and to constructive civic work. After ten years of existence it has a membership of over 2400 women, with four special committees doing active work, the Public Health, City Government, Public Dance Hall and Public Speakers groups, and one more, the City Planning Committee, organized, but not yet functioning. The standing committees include a very active Legislative group working in conjunction with the Women's Legislative Council and the California Civic League of Women Voters, with both of which state organizations the San Francisco Center is affiliated.

In addition to monthly membership meetings for the transaction of business, legislative endorsements and so on, the Center runs a continuous program of afternoon discussions; lectures; teas; luncheons and very rarely a dinner, with addresses from distinguished guests. The scope of these meetings is suggested by a partial list of the past eight months, when our local subjects have included "A Better and Greater San Francisco," "Marketing in San Francisco," "Proposed Reduction in the Minimum Wage for Women in Industry" and, upon our tenth anniversary of the granting of suffrage to the women of California, "Is the Time Ripe for a Woman Supervisor?" (Incidentally we would add that San Francisco voted that it was, and one of our officers became our first Woman Supervisor). Gertrude Atherton has told us of the "Movie World at Close Range," Dr. Wm. R. P. Emerson has stated "What's Wrong with our Children," and the Norrises, Charles and Kathleen, have discussed "Woman's Adjustment to a Career and the Home" and "Divorce." Julius Kahn brought us the latest word from Washington on difficult taxation matters, and while Mitre Alexandrovitch Schwartz spoke from recent experience on "The Menace of Bolshevism," Washington Vanderlip told us that Lenine ranks with Lincoln. In the juxtaposition of ten days came Arthur Brisbane and H. Wickham Steed, as well as, later, Francis W. Hirst, former editor of the London Economist. "The Awakening of Women in the Orient," with graduates in native costume from Oriental colleges of India, Japan and China, and a notable series of our own Disarmament Conferences gave us international points of view, capped by the most delightful good will when General Diaz came to us with his staff, for tea, and gave us a wonderfully inspirational talk. Such an outline necessarily omits many of the topics discussed at Center meetings; however it at least suggests the cosmopolitan interest of an eager intelligent woman citizenship, the only requirement for membership.

Edith Walker Maddux

THREE WOMEN IN THE CALIFORNIA STATE LEGISLATURE

MRS. ANNA SAYLOR
Alameda County

MISS ESTO BROUGHTON
Stanislaus County

MRS. ELIZABETH HUGHES
Butte County

ABLE WOMEN LEGISLATORS

IN 1919 four women were elected to the State Legislature as members of the Assembly. Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes of Oroville, registered as "housewife"; Mrs. Anna L. Saylor of Berkeley, also "housewife"; Miss Esto B. Broghton of Modesto, an attorney-at-law; and Mrs. Grace S. Dorris, a teacher of Bakersfield, Kern County. Mrs. Dorris did not return to the State legislature at the close of her term, but the other three women, re-elected to office have served in the 1921 State legislature.

Mrs. Hughes qualified for the office of Assemblyman by her previous record as chairman of the Education Committee. She had served on the following committees: Agriculture; Conservation; Drainage; Swamp and Overflowed Lands; Elections; Federal Relations. Mrs. Saylor acted as chairman of the Public Morals Committee and was a member of the Public Morals Committee and a member of the following committees: Constitutional Amendments; Education; Hospitals and Asylums; Prisons and Reformatories; Public Charities and Corrections. Miss Broughton was a member of the following committees: Civil Service; Direct Legislation; Engrossment and Enrollment; Irrigation; Public Morals; Ways and Means.

Mrs. Dorris was a member of the committees: County Government; Education; Labor and Capital; Normal Schools; Oil Industries; Public Health and Quarantine.

All four women have proved exceedingly able, and have justified, in their dignified and splendid conduct as legislators, the hopes of California women who worked for woman suffrage.

THE NEEDLEWORK GUILD

MRS. ANNA DENNISTON

THE Needlework Guild of America is one of the efficient, practical, organized groups of women who devote their skill and their time to the making of garments for distribution among the needy and the sick. This distribution takes place every year just about Thanksgiving Day.

Last year the San Francisco Needlework Guild distributed their gifts to sixty-one charities. The extent of the distribution was general reaching out to hospitals, homes, and to charity centers.

Good, warm undergarments, socks, stockings, mittens, gloves, caps, sweaters, petticoats, nightwear, and broad-soled shoes—these were among the garments distributed. For little babes, the Needlework Guild gave some of its best and most useful garments. These garments included: blankets, slips, little petticoats, woolen jackets, stockings, caps, and many intimate garments necessary for a babe. Shoulder shawls, bed shoes, flannel sacks, wrappers —these were some of the many things distributed among the convalescents, able to leave hospitals.

In order to be a member of the Needlework Guild of America, one must contribute at least two new articles of wearing apparel or household linen. Articles may be made by hand, or they may be ready-made garments, including sheets, pillow-cases, and towels.

Last year the San Francisco Needlework Guild collected twelve thousand, four hundred and seventy-seven garments, an advance of three thousand over the number, the preceding year. The Needlework Guild is endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce. It is affiliated with the American Red Cross, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and is a member of the National Conference of Social work, the National Council of Women of the United States, and the National Camp Fire Girls.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

San Francisco

MRS. JOHN F. MERRILL

THE Children's Hospital is one of the oldest of the Charitable health agencies in California. It was established as the Pacific Dispensary for women and children in 1875 at 520 Taylor Street, San Francisco, by a group of philanthropic women including Mrs. D. J. Staples, president; Mrs. A. L. Stone and Elkan Cohen, vice-presidents; Mrs. Oliver W. Easton, treasurer; and Mrs. John Hooper, Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. Irving M. Scott, Mrs. Joseph Healy, Mrs. E. W. Phillips, Mrs. W. T. Wallace, Mrs. Henry Graves, Mrs. Thomas Flint, directors.

The hospital was reincorporated in 1885 as "The Hospital for Children and Training School for Nurses," and was located at 3700 California Street. The staff of those early days contained the names of Mrs. M. E. Bucknell, M. D., Mrs. Charlotte Blake Brown, M. D., and Mrs. Sara E. Brown, M. D. From this small beginning, in 1875, the hospital has grown to a fine general hospital. It is one of the largest hospitals devoted entirely to women and children patients, with a governing board of women, an administration and staff largely of women.

The school of nursing is the pioneer organization of this class in California. Its graduates are serving in important positions in many places throughout the State and elsewhere.

As a charity the Children's Hospital has held a strong appeal for the public, and is supported entirely by contributions and the income from paying patients. At present the Children's Hospital needs "scholarships" in nursing, endowments for beds and support for beds. Supported and endowed beds are particularly needed for maternity patients and women ill of medical diseases.

The assets of the hospital are substantial and there are no liabilities. Most of the assets have been accumulated by gifts from California friends. A large part of the hospital's service to the sick, is for children unable to pay. Last year over $80,000.00 of such work was given.

One of the present institutions in the Children's Hospital is the every-day school with close adherence to school curriculum, the instructors being teachers from the public schools of San Francisco. This was first introduced by the Children's Hospital board and, later, became a part of the regular school system.

It is an appealing sight to see little bed-ridden children, some of them strapped to their supports, keen and eager for their daily lessons in school work. These children are apt pupils and delight in their studies. Miss Wade is the teacher.

An auxiliary of young women connected with the work of the Children's Hospital is a constant source of aid. For instance, they gave an X-Ray equipment this year, and the purchase of the Nurses' Home from the University of California Hospital is one of their permanent accomplishments. This work has been established as a memorial to the lamented auxiliary member, Mrs. George McNear. The Nurses' Home is a modern, well equipped home for eighty nurses.

To the noble women who first saw the vision of "The Children's Hospital" and to the present board of managers— whose part it has been to "carry on" the great work now, there is, indeed, no compensating tribute, no adequate laudation other than: "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me."

Mrs. A. F. Morrison is president of the Children's Hospital. Miss Mabel Pierce, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, are vice-presidents; Miss Emily Carolan, treasurer; Mrs. L. L. Dunbar, general secretary. The board of managers include: Mrs. Harry S. Bates, Miss Ethel Beaver, Miss Louise Boyd, Mrs. George Cameron, Miss Emily Carolan, Mrs. Wendell Easton, Mrs. Herbert Fleishacker, Mrs. George F. Grant, Mrs. E. S. Heller, Mrs. James Watt Kerr, Mrs. Henry Kiersted, Mrs. J. Leo Lilienthal, Jr., Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, Mrs. Latham McMullin, Mrs. John F. Merrill, Miss Mauricia Mintzer, Mrs. Alexander F. Morrison, Miss Alicia Mosgrove, Mrs. Henry Payot, Miss Mabel Pierce, Mrs. Henry Sahlein, Mrs. Laurence I. Scott, Mrs. E. B. Stone, Miss Alice Schussler, Mrs. George F. Volkmann, Mrs. Isaac N. Walter, Miss Persis Coleman.

The auxiliary board comprises: Mrs. Henry Kiersted, Mrs. Henry Dutton, Mrs. George Cameron, Mrs. Latham McMullin, Mrs. Horace Hill, Mrs. S. H. Boardman, Mrs. Norris K. Davis, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. Charles T. Crocker, Mrs. H. W. Poett, Mrs. Augustus Taylor, Mrs. William H. Taylor, Jr., Mrs. Laurence I. Scott, Mrs. Julian Thorne, Miss Emily Carolan, Miss Marion Zeile, Mrs. J. Cheever Cowdin, Miss Louise Boyd, Mrs. H. H. Scott.

Help us to help those whose lot it is to minister! Our Nurses! Help us to impress those whose call it is to watch by the bed of sickness, to smooth the troubled pillow, to solace the couch of pain, and teach them that the art of ministration is the act of love—for, their cross shall be the step to their crown, and their power to administer shall be their strength.

YOUNG WOMEN IN UNSELFISH DEVOTION

DEBUTANTES and their younger sisters, the sub-debutantes, make no claim for recognition in philanthropic work, yet the value of their participation in many events for the benefit of organizations throughout the state, command acclaim. In one of her recent articles Mrs. Jean Loughborough said of the debutante: "Be she 'deb' or 'sub-deb', 'coed or from one of the higher girls' schools, the young woman of the period not only feels the responsibilities of her youth but those of her prospective place as a member of the state's citizenship.

"She may tea and dance, and even flirt a bit in a wholesome way, but the girl whose sole object in life was a date book full of men's initials and a dance card filled from cover to cover is rapidly becoming a rarity. In place of the gay frivolous social butterfly is the college girl, the girl of the sorority whose training has given an insight into social and civic affairs. In college she cogitates over the doctrines of Marx and Nietzsche, evolving her theories on social problems from Dewey to Taussig."

Because popularity no longer consists of the number of engagements which she has to her credit but rather to the extent of her unselfish work and the kind of charitable work she does in her sincere, devoted way, Miss Debutante is a very important little personage.

"Among the most successful benefits given by the Los Angeles debutantes was that of the Alumnae of the Kappa Kappa Gamma under the chairmanship of Miss Ellen Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Andrews of Lafayette Park Place. Although a recent graduate of Stanford University, Miss Andrews has already identified herself with the Junior Auxiliary of the Ebell Club, giving her aid, during a recent benefit, and to the Red Cross drives and to the Assistance League. Among others was Eleanor Anderson who has given much of her time to the work of the Children's Exposition. Doris Fredericks, daughter of John D. Fredericks, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is another Los Angeles girl who devotes much time to serious work. Much of her time is taken up with the Maternity Cottage. She is the secretary of the board of directors, a member of the Chi Omega Sorority. Miss Fredericks is one of the college girls from the University of California. Elizabeth Kytle and Eleanor Warren, both Mills College graduates, have identified themselves with the Ebell Auxiliary work. Other prominent young women of Los Angeles include: Camille Schneider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Schneider of Lafayette Park Place, a member of Pi Beta Phi from the University of California; Rowena Schneider, her sister, both of whom are prominent workers in the Mission of Saint Martha and St. Anthony. They are interested, too, in the Child Welfare League.

Katherine Long, a recent graduate from Vassar, is devoting her time to the Juvenile Protective Association. Ruth Bolgiano, of Wellesley, is giving her time and talent to work in connection with the Pasadena Community Players. Dorothy Botsford, member of the Kappa Alpha Theta from Stanford University, is a field investigator for the State Board of Charities and Corrections. Mary Ellen Reed, a Delta Gamma from Stanford, and Constance Chambers and Irene Combe, both members of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, from the University of California are prominent members of the Girls' Auxiliary of Hollywood. Miss Chambers, the retiring president, was largely responsible for the successful benefit at which the Auxiliary raised a substantial sum for the Children's Hospital. Josephine Halderman, another debutante of Hollywood, graduate of Mills College, is the new president of the Girls' Auxiliary."

In practically every splendid task society women of San Francisco have essayed, they have been enthusiastically assisted by debutantes of the city. In many of the philanthropic activities, which characterize the unselfish devotion of both matrons and debutantes, mother and daughter have worked side by side; elder sisters, in society and those not yet formally "presented" have carried to fruition successful enterprises netting handsome sums for charity.

A group of twelve girls first formed the Auxiliary to the Children's Hospital of San Francisco, some fourteen years ago. Their idea in doing so, was to help in the great work of the hospital. Through all the years they have carried on their Auxiliary, many of them continuing as Auxiliary members. Many of them are married, now. The personnel of this group comprised: Miss Genevieve Carroll, now Mrs. Harry Poett; Miss Caro Crockett, now Mrs. Lawrence Irving Scott; Miss Edith McBean, now Mrs. Henry Kiersted; Miss Carrie Taylor, now George Newhall; Miss Edna Hopkins, now Mrs. Stewart Lowery; Miss Helen Hopkins, now Mrs. Augustus Taylor; Miss Cora Smedberg, now Mrs. Charles Felton; Miss Mollie Thomas, now Mrs. Latham McMullin; Miss Therese Morgan, now Mrs. Walter Martin; and Miss Emily Carolan, who is the treasurer of the Children's Hospital. Other young women with the board of managers are: Miss Ethel Beaver, Miss Louise Boyd, Miss Alicia Mosgrove, Miss Mabel Pierce, Miss Alice Schussler, Miss Persis Coleman, Miss Marion Zeile, Miss Mauricia Mintzer.

With the Children's Hospital as the beneficiary, the Young Ladies Auxiliary started the annual ball known as the Mardi Gras, one of the most spectacular and picturesque fancy balls given in San Francisco.

The Mardi Gras is now held on Shrove Tuesday, each year, and is one of the outstanding society charity balls in the city. A contest in the choice of queen for the Mardi Gras usually precedes the ball, lending zest to the purpose and adding interest to the society event.

Mrs. Richard McCreery, society leader of Burlingame was Queen of the Mardi Gras, in 1922. Her election to the honor as Queen Scheherezade followed one of the most spirited events ever held in this particular way. Mrs. McCreery was formerly Lady Gray-Edgerton of London.

The splendid assistance given to worthy projects by the young women of the Junior League stands pre-eminently part of the noble work and unselfish devotion of debutantes. In every city the Junior League has a most progressive clientele always ready to give unselfish devotion for charity.

NOBLE WOMEN WHO INSPIRE

MRS. W. H. MILLS

CALIFORNIA women who inspire achievements of present-day women come readily to mind. So readily do they come that it is difficult to know where to start, and certainly difficult to know when, or where, to stop.

In the galaxy of leaders who pioneered the plans now flourishing to creditable heights are names of Californians closely linked with the foremost women of the world.

Many of these Californians have gained national and inter-national recognition. Many of them brought the great commonwealths of this Golden State to their present prosperity by the consecrated devotion of life-work in definite projects and activities.

Their unselfish devotion, their aims, their laudable ambitions—reach across the stretch of Time, holding high the torch of radiant hope for those who, in their turn, shall follow them.

I like to think of these women. I like to think of the young women, the young matrons with their little broods about them, today, who are stepping into the ranks with high ideals before them—the same ideals which characterized our feminine life, years back, and which now actuate the work of lovely womanhood in California.

Let's meditate awhile, and turn the light of appreciation upon them. Some of these California women are:

Mrs. A. F. Morrison, of the Century Club—a natural leader is Mrs. Morrison. Her soft, well modulated voice, her clear-thinking, her straight-forward methods of reaching high results are characteristics. It is a joy, always, to watch that clear-thinking process in Mrs. Morrison's mind. She is an example for women. As the wife of one of San Francisco's most prominent lawyers, Mrs. Morrison's place in the affairs of the world would naturally place her high in the estimation of our citizens. Yet her own feminine attributes—and particularly that mental process of clear-thinking—have made her a valuable leader whether in the Century Club, the Children's Hospital board, or, in any of the important places where she is an executive. She is never too busy to give hope and cheer—where hope and cheer are needed most.

Mrs. Isaac Requa—one of the remarkable women of California whose hospital work has won distinction for women in general. For many years Mrs. Requa has been a director of the Fabiola Hospital in Oakland, a hospital which she founded. Even at the age of eighty-four, Mrs. Requa still attends the meetings of the directors. She has been associated with all of the charitable work of the bay cities during her entire life time. Her home in Piedmont is the center of charitable events, and her beautiful gardens the setting for garden fetes for charity. On occasions too many to name, Mrs. Requa has devoted her work to municipal and state enterprises. She has a most kindly nature and a brilliant active mind. She is a most charming hostess in one of the most attractive homes in California's land of homes.

Mrs. Timothy Hopkins, the niece of Mrs. Mark Hopkins, has so long been identified with good work in San Francisco and the peninsula cities, that no large charity can be named without including the name of this splendid woman. She has been a great moving spirit for the work of the Convalescent Home at Palo Alto, one of her great achievements being for the permanent fund for the convalescent home established in the old home of Senator and Mrs. Leland Stanford. Mrs. Hopkin's mansion at Menlo Park was recently the scene of a beneficiary in which the children took part in a "wonderful circus" netting a substantial sum for charity.

Mrs. John Swift, wife of the late Ambassador to Japan, is one of the foremost suffrage leaders of California. She was one of the first suffrage workers in the state. Associated with Susan B. Anthony, Frances Williard, and other women of prominence in pioneer suffrage, Mrs. Swift was an outstanding personality in California's early struggles for enfranchisement. She was national vice-president General of the Daughters of the American Revolution for eight years. She was one of the founders of the Century Club, president of the National Council of Women (Pacific Coast) and president of the Woman's Congress. She was twice elected to the presidency of the Century Club. She was State Regent of the California Daughters of American Revolution. Mrs. Swift was president of the Woman's Exchange San Francisco, for many years. She has by her distinction and her ability been leader in nearly all branches of women's work in this state.

Mrs. John Bidwell, of the times before these women has wielded a wide influence in the upbuilding of our great commonwealth. Socially prominent, Mrs. Bidwell has given much to charity and to those things which are of a lasting benefit to the community. She has been a moving spirit in practically every worthy project.

Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, wife of the President Emeritus of the University of California, has a place in the hearts and minds of all true Californians.

Mrs. Putnam Osgood, Miss Anne Beaver, Isabel McCracken the remarkable biologist! Of the women in the south I am recalling Mrs. J. Ross Clark, in whose memory the one million dollar Y. W. C. A. building was erected in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Vernon Kellogg, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, two commanding figures in the world's affairs. California is proud of them.

Kathleen Norris, "The best-loved author" whose books are a constant inspiration and spur to noble ideals—she commands our true admiration. Mrs. Norris is a noble woman; her books will live.

Mrs. Marriner Campbell, the woman who has done so much for the West, musically—she deserves to be in our San Francisco Hall of Fame. Miss Sara D. Hamlin, from whose school girls have graduated with high educational ideals; Mrs. Clarence Smith, the author, Eleanor Gates Tully; Frances Willard and Susan B. Anthony were influential in molding ideals for California's womanhood.

Mrs. Monroe Salisbury, Kate Salisbury, Mrs. Alexander Keyes, Mrs. Sam Boardman and Mrs. Danford Boardman, women in the social cliques whose stamp of approval were criterions.

Mrs. Esther Birdsall Darling, author, is a remarkable woman. Mrs. Darling has done so much good for so many people. She is an exceptional woman. Her stories of the dogs whose lives were given for the country's needs during the war are as tender and convincing as the stories of many heroes. Mrs. Darling raised these dogs, Alaskan dogs, with their rare intelligence, and then when the war came, she placed their services for the good of the country. They did valiant service, and some of them were given military burial on account of their Red Cross aid. Mrs. Darling, herself, is one of the rare souls it is good, indeed, to know, and one whose radiant personality one welcomes with joy.

Mrs. A. E. Graupner—I like to think of Mrs. Graupner, one of the young matrons of today, whose life is crowded with thoughts of others. She is prominent in the American Association of University Women, where she has been a great power for good, in the pure milk campaign, in the health campaign, in the drive for funds for the care of babies—in all manner of good things benefiting humanity. I like to think of Mrs. Graupner and women like her—they make the coming generation better because they are here.

Mrs. Fremont Older, one of San Francisco's own writers deserves the appreciation of readers for the splendid things she has written. Mrs. Older is a woman whose womanly attributes commend a nobility of California's authors.

Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin—there's one of the finest women in California. She was a great friend of my daughter's, my Bessie's friend. A lovely, stalwart woman with a fine mentality and a heart of gold. Mrs. McLaughlin was president of the San Francisco Center and when the Queen of Belgium visited our city, how proud we were of the way Mrs. McLaughlin introduced the Queen. She is prominent in the Association of American University Women, the Century Club, and takes keen delight in every organization with which she is identified—unexcelled by any other women in the state, she is a gentlewoman of charm, grace, of kindliness, of brilliancy and of worth.

There are so many women—I haven't begun to name them yet, and all the space on the page is taken. What shall I do?

MRS. W. H. MILLS.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION
San Francisco

THE San Francisco Fruit and Flower Mission is an organization devoted to the work of caring for the sick, the convalescent, the "shut-in" and those in need of cheer and comfort. During the past year the forty-second of the Mission's service new fields of activities have been explored, the scope of work enlarged and successfully inaugurated. In former years attention was given mainly to the aged poor, the sick, the convalescent; today, the children of the needy, particularly those children predisposed to tuberculosis have been added to these charges. Much time and attention are being given to afflicted children, whose parents are unable to provide those added necessities which help stave off this dread disease. Together with the Tuberculosis Association, County Health Nurses and the Clinics, the Fruit and Flower Mission is endeavoring to restore to perfect health those children who can possibly be saved.

Physical examination made of the pupils in the public schools revealed a very large percentage of undernourished children. Reports of the survey made by physicians and county nurses resulted in the Tuberculosis Association and the clinics caring for these undernourished cases that were unable to get attention from any other source. Here it is that the Fruit and Flower Mission renders necessary aid. When, upon examination, the above mentioned organization finds that parents of the children cannot supply the eggs and milk required for the child the case is reported to the Mission by the Visiting County Nurse. The Mission, in turn, sends to each case reported one quart of milk daily and one dozen eggs weekly for each child.

The Fruit and Flower Mission has not a single paid worker. Philanthropic work is carried on among all classes, irrespective of creed, and, out of every dollar received during the year ninety-three cents was given in direct relief.

Each Thursday morning during the year finds the Flower Mission workers assembled, busily engaged in packing and carrying baskets with nourishing food and dainties to deserving cases. Each basket contains a generous supply ofmeat, vegetables, fruit (canned or fresh), eggs, butter rice, tea, coffee, chocolate, sugar, cereals; and, for generous measure, a custard or a pudding which is prepared in the diet kitchen each Wednesday by Mrs. B. Wolfe and her efficient co-workers,

In addition, each visitor takes to her case a bunch of flowers, which helps greatly to brighten the home. Year after year, these beautiful flowers have been received each week, through the generosity of Mr. John McLaren, Superintendent of Golden Gate Park. For his kindness the San Francisco Fruit and Flower Mission gives its sincere thanks.

Besides the thirty-six basket cases, which the Mission averages each week, it attends to an average of fifty-four milk cases each day.

The forty-first annual report of the San Francisco Fruit and Flower Mission gives the following officers for the year 1922: Board of Directors, Mrs. Mary Bates McLellan, honorary president; Mrs. W. B. Lowenthal, president; Miss Helen E. Gibbs, first vice-president; Miss Florence Lippitt, second vice-president; Mrs. B. M. Levinger, recording secretary; Mrs. S. R. Newbauer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. Strassburger, treasurer; and Miss Virginia Gibbs, Mrs. Walte-Samson, Mrs. Walter Unna, Mrs. Robert Noble and Miss S. E. Johnson. The Chairmen of Committees include: Miss Estelle Cerf, Visiting Committee; Mrs. F. Mandelbaum, Sewing Committees; Mrs. B. Wolf, Diet Kitchen; Miss Belle Armer, Committee on Supplies; Mrs. Walter Unna, Birthday Fund. On the Advisory Board are: Mr. Morris Meyerfeld Jr; Mr. Alfred C. Holman, Mr. Mortimer Fleishhacker, Mr. A. Rosenberg, Dr. Reginald Knight Smith.

TRAVELERS' AID SOCIETY

California

THE Travelers' Aid Society of California is recognized by, and receives the cooperation of, all organizations which deal with the traveling public. Its functionary force is somewhat different from that of other societies, in-as-much as it has to do with the special care of unescorted women, girls and young boys in their travels.

The Travelers' Aid Society is really just exactly what the name indicates. It aids travelers. It safeguards them in their travels rom place to place, and safeguards them upon their arrivals. Its work is both preventive and protective.

Travelers who do not speak the English language are given special care and interpreters are provided them. This part of the Travelers' Aid Society is deemed quite the foremost concern in as much as it often proves the first steps toward citizenship. Travelers' Aid workers are on duty at special stations and at official desks, equipped with sufficient information to meet many emergencies.

Here are some of the definite things which the Travelers' Aid Society people do: They obtain reliable lodging, give material assistance when needed and guide the inexperienced or confused traveler; they help travelers to locate their friends; they telegraph ahead and secure the cooperation of other Travelers' Aid workers at points of transfer; they safeguard the traveler in regard to his destination; they make investigations so that distant Travelers' Aid societies can act intelligently in caring for runaways, or others needing care.

Between the year of 1886 and 1905 many different societies were doing Travelers' Aid work thus causing confusion and overlapping of effort. In the year 1905, a committee of women consisting of Jewish, Catholic and Protestant denominations organized the first non-sectarian Travelers' Aid Society. Last year, 56,523 people were assisted by the society with a force of fourteen workers in field and office.

Mrs. William Marston is the president of the Travelers' Aid Society, her election to office taking place soon after the loss of the late Mrs. Helen Sanborn. The board of directors includes many prominent women among them being Mrs. Porter Pfingst who has done much in her quiet, but effective way; Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. Mary Prag of the board of education, whose bright outlook on life in general and her understanding of folks, is of great value to the society; Mrs. Charles Reed, Mrs. Henry Sahlein, Mrs. J. W. Stirling, Mrs. Marjorie Stuart. Mrs. A. P. Black, whose splendid record as president of the San Francisco District Federation is state history, is the faithful secretary. Dr. Mariana Bertola, first vice-president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, is one of the directors. Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, Mrs. Jerome Landfield, Dr. Cora Sutton Castle, and Mrs. A. L. Hart, president of the Y. W. C. A. is also a director. The executive committee comprises Mesdames A. P. Black, A. L. Hart, William Matson, Porter Pfingst and Marjorie Stuart. I have been the treasurer for many years, and while my work brings many heart-aches in sympathy for those whom I meet it also brings me gratification for the good that I can do.

Susanna C. Gong.

Treasurer.

THE Council of Community Service of California is an organization composed of 405 Units, incorporated under the laws of the State of California. These units include representatives from all active and progressive organizations of the city and county, thereby enabling them to act as a medium whereby organizations and persons may co-operate in humanitarian, patriotic and civic projects.

In order to render efficient aid when needed, the Council of Community Service has established different departments in its work, namely:

Monte Vista Lodge: Monte Vista Lodge is a forty-five room hotel with broad verandas and two acres of playground located in the beautiful Verdugo Mountains, Sunland, at an elevation of 2,000 feet.

Monte Vista Lodge has been furnished and equipped by the Units of the Council as a Vacation Camp for children. A competent staff cares for emergency cases. Convalescent and undernourished children are admitted as well as orphan or needy children. Parents and guardians pay what they can afford.

Community Thrift Shop: This shop is operated by voluntary service. The object is to supply an outlet for the activities of women; to give opportunity to women to augment their incomes. Hand made goods, women and children's clothing, crafts work, et cetera, are sold.

Summer Vacations: An average of 260 women and children are given vacations at the beaches each Summer free of all cost.

COSMOS Club craft is assuming the proportion of a Ship of State, with Mrs. Mabel D. Greer, president, at the helm. Her executive staff consisting of Mrs. Pauline I. Colodny, vice-president; Mrs. Edward Opel, second vice-president; Mrs. Crichton Smith, third vice-president; Mrs. Henry E. Aerick, recording secretary; Mrs. William Behm, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Irving Barrett Asbury, treasurer, Mrs. Leiland A. Irish as press chairman, and Mrs. I. W. Freeman, philanthropy chairman, are able "mates on the board," co-operating always to weather the wind and the waves, steering slowly but surely to a Port of Permanent Success.

The object of this club is and always shall be, the literary, philanthropic, and social development of its members. Philanthropy is the keynote of Cosmos; it is not only a channel through which much outside help is given, but it is the means of better acquaintance and closer friendship. The average attendance at every meeting is a thirty-three and one-third percentage of the membership. Times are such that sincere social activities of any organization affords the woman of to-day, complete relaxation from the daily routine and daily worry.

Cosmos gives all she can for the money. Monthly luncheons and teas are given regularly—the latter with never a charge. The profits on these luncheon days have only netted $43.13 in the year; this proves it is purely a social advantage without one mercenary motive. The menus are unusual which can readily be learned from the many complimentary invitations extended to guests of honor and friends from the different clubs.

A donation from any member is never solicited for any cause other than philanthropy for Cosmos has a gratifying sum drawing interest each quarter and is not in debt.

To work in love,
Love in work and work for love.

MRS. LILLIAN B. GOLDSMITH

WITH this as its creed, the Philanthropy and Civics Club of Los Angeles occupies a unique place among the women's organizations of the Southland. While it is one of the youngest, it is also one of the strongest clubs of Southern California.

Not one member but will say that the phenomenal success of the Philanthropy and Civics Club is due largely to the fact that it was wise enough to choose for its first, second, third, and fourth president one of the most widely known and best beloved women of California, Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, who is also well known throughout the nation in the dramatic and club world, not only on account of her personality but because of her achievements.

Organized in June, 1919, the Philanthropy and Civics membership has grown from twenty-three to six hundred and fifty. Unlike many other clubs the majority of these are working members, literally using their heads, hands, and feet, for on the meeting day every Thursday, several dozen women meet to sew garments for the poor in the morning, keeping twelve sewing machines busy all the time.

Its record is one of unselfish achievement, for during these less than three years the organization has not devoted its time to culture only, but has always been ready with money, sympathy, and clothing to aid the needy. In this time, garments to the stupendous number of six thousand have been made and given away. More than fourteen thousand dollars have been earned and spent for scholarships for students who could not otherwise have attended school and college, for hospital care, for the suffering, and milk for undernourished children.

Meetings are held at the Elks Clubhouse, the programs being preceded by luncheons which do much to foster friendships among club members. The programs every Thursday afternoon include such topics as civics, drama, the sciences, and music. They compare favorably with the best programs of the state.

The club is fortunate in having a president who is capable of entertainingly giving the program herself, if a speaker or entertainer does not arrive.

In its membership, the Philanthropy and Civics Club numbers at least thirty women who have served with distinction in other clubs. It has a substantial nest egg in the bank for a clubhouse which will probably be a reality in another year.

This article was officially contributed by a member of the Philanthrophy and Civics Club, Los Angeles,—Editor's Note.

WOMEN OF HEART AND INTELLECT

MRS. MAX C. SLOSS

WOMEN of heart and intellect, in their consecrated service along definite philanthropic lines, have brought to light ways and means for the alleviation of human ills. They have awakened hope within the hearts of those with whom their labors have brought them into close fellowship.

One of the most brilliant names in state educational work is that of Blanche Jessica Peixotto, Ph.D., member of the faculty of the University of California. Known nationally and internationally, as a professor of social economics, Dr. Peixotto is intimately connected with many branches of social advancement for women. For one year she served as executive secretary of the Child Welfare department of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. In the year 1912 she was a member of the State Board of Charities. She worked with the San Francisco City and County Federation of Women's Clubs, during the administration of Dr. Cora Sutton Castle, as head of the Child Welfare Department. The name of Dr. Jessica Peixotto shines with a radiance of unusual lustre. She is the author of "The French Revolution and Modern French Socialism." Dr. Peixotto became a member of the faculty, Department of Social Economics, University of California, in 1905. Her work among women is a work not measured in academic terms, it is governed only by the extent of the opportunity presented and the practicality of its purport.

Miss Ada Sweet of Santa Rosa is one of the women in California whose heart and intellect respond to the real things of life. She knows the urge of humanity's needs. She is a member of the board of the Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, and is the only woman on this board. Whenever the Boy Scouts need assistance, whenever roads require repairing, or other community needs demand quick attainment, Ada Sweet holds up the mirror of necessity. She gets results—that is the word said of her.

Mrs. Max C. Sloss of San Francisco with her rare intelligence, fine perceptions, keen discernment and prompt action is one of California's dependable women. She has directed a galaxy of workers in her official capacity of Inter-State leader, Pacific Coast, National Council of Jewish Women; also, in the Red Cross divisions of work, and in the canteens, in the Neighborhood House, in the Juvenile Protective Association and in Immigration Aid.

Mrs. J. J. Gottlob of San Francisco, quiet, unassuming in mind and mannerism, has been active in practically every great enterprise of the community lending her aid wherever women" of heart and brain" co-operate.

Only those who have had an opportunity of taking part in child-placing realize how many child-hungry men and women there are in the world, according to Mary E. Brusie, in charge of the Child-Placing Department of the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of the Golden West. This department has a committee of ten members representing all religions. Five trained workers and a standing army of volunteers representing the two organizations of native born men and women from one end of California to the other investigate the homes and supervise the twenty or twenty-two children placed each month for adoption. In the twelve years of the department work over twenty thousand homes have been opened to children and over five thousand applications for children have been received. The Native Sons and Native Daughters are pioneers in this work and are spending between nineteen thousand and twenty thousand dollars annually without hope of personal gain or reward beyond the satisfaction of giving children what is due them, early environment of a good home and a realization that these children are to be the future citizens of California.

Although her work differs in the manner of its procedure yet tending toward the great common citizenry of the nation, Mrs. Anne Godfrey brings her ability to the limelight in Americanization processes. Mrs. Godfrey works directly under Raymond F. Crist of Washington, D. C., United States director of Citizenship. Her federal position of California Education Assistant to the director of Citizenship under the Commissioner of Naturalization requires educational work throughout the entire state.

Novel philanthropy is declared by Mrs. Henry Sahlein, chairman of the Salvage Shop under the supervision of the San Francisco City and County Federation of Women's Clubs. This Salvage Shop caters to the calls of humanity, selling at a low figure the things people want. Profits from these sales are divided between the work for the Children's Hospital and a special fund for a home for girls.

Miss Amy Steinhart, chief agent of the Children's Department of the State Board of Control, in a report to Governor Stephens of California, said that eleven thousand children are receiving the care of the state. Of these children, approximately 2,000 are in orphanages; 9,000 are cared for in private homes, many of them with their mothers.

MRS. JOHN FRANKLIN SWIFT

ALL branches of the Daughters of the American Revolution stand unitedly: "For love of country; for service to the country; for unswerving loyalty to the Government; for inculcating these principles in children, both native and foreign-born; for encouraging the study of American history."

The Daughters of the American Revolution was organized in California by Mrs. A. S. Hubbard in 1891.

Mrs. John Franklin Swift now of Berkeley, formerly of San Francisco, was a Past Vice-President General from 1906 to 1912 and again from 1914 to 1916. Mrs. Cassius C. Cottle, of Los Angeles, has been Vice-President General, California, from 1920 to 1922.

Mrs. George Maynard Minor, President General, Daughters of the American Revolution, was the guest of the California members this spring, attending the annual convention held at Los Angeles.

During the past year new chapters were organized in Bakersfield, Fresno, Sacramento, Chico, Red Bluff, and at Pacific Grove. This list now totals fifty-five chapters in California at the close of the fiscal year 1921-1922.

California ranks one hundred per cent in three national Daughters of the American Revolution undertakings, being one of the first ten, of the forty-eight states, to support the work of erecting a fountain in memory of the Pilgrim Mothers at Plymouth; the Immigration Manual; and, the painting of ships and convoys.

Mrs. O. H. Harshbarger, State Regent for California, said in her recent report that eleven books on California history have been given by Chapters to the National Library, with a copy of the "California Society of Mayflower Descendants," the gift of California's State Registrar.

Substantial sums were given to the French orphans, to the Far East, to the Armenians, and to China, as part of the "International Relations" work. To Conservation and Thrift aims the Daughters of the American Revolution gave to the Hoover Fund, to Social Welfare, to Redwood Conservation, to public schools, to the Young Men's Christian Association, to the Young Women's Christian Association, to the Salvation Army, to the Indians, to the Maternity Hospital, to the Soldiers' Relief Fund, to the Red Cross, to the purchase of Liberty Bonds and Thrift Stamps. They sent seeds to the Belgians, in addition to contributing to other worthy projects.

One California member assisted by others gave an entertainment which netted the sum of fifteen hundred dollars, sent to the starving children of Europe. For patriotic education in California, the Daughters of the American Revolution of the State contributed considerable sums of money to schools, including the Albion School and Paul Revere School of California.

Other organizations received aid from the California chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution. These included the George Junior Republic, Maternity College, Edna Alter Settlement, House of Neighborly Service, Tubercular Children, Chinese Rescue Home, Soldiers' Home, The Mobilized Women's American House.

On Washington's Birthday, many chapters in San Francisco combined in a memorial celebration at the Palace of Fine Arts. Wreaths were placed by the Daughters of the American Revolution, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Navy League, the Children of the American Revolution, and the local consuls of England, France, Japan and Panama, at the foot of the Houdin statue of Washington in the Palace of Fine Arts.

The Southern California Chapters on June 14, 1921, placed a "Memorial Tablet" in Victory Grove, Los Angeles, to honor the service in the World War of all men and women from the families of the State Daughters of the American Revolution, and in memory of twenty-two Californians who made the supreme sacrifice.

Seven celebrations have been held marking California's historic spots. Chapters from the Bay Cities presented two large silk flags to the battleship California, during the month of February, Mrs. George Maynard Minor, President General, Daughters of the American Revolution, being the honor guest on this memorable occasion.

The State Conference was held at Los Angeles in May, 1922, and was one of the most successful and best attended conferences recorded in the annals of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. George Maynard Minor, President General, Daughters of the American Revolution, went to France last August, to direct the dedication of the water system installed by the Society at Tilloloy, France. California Chapters contributed their full pro rata toward the fund for the installation of this water system. In fact, California Chapters stand one hundred per cent in all projects in which the Daughters of the American Revolution are unitedly interested.

CHILDREN OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

Golden Gate Society

MRS. W. D'EGILBERT

ON FEBRUARY 9, 1922, the Board of Management National Society Children of the American Revolution, honored me by the appointment of president Golden Gate Society, just three hundred and two years since the landing of the Pilgrims.

The Trinity of inspiration—Plymouth Rock, on the Atlantic shores in 1620, the organization of Golden Gate society on San Francisco Bay, the Portals of the Pacific, in 1922—and the union completed in person by my good friend, the revered founder Mrs. Daniel Lathrop, a national figure in patriotic, literary and social circles, who has chosen in this idealistic manner to thus immortalize her dearest memories.

As there were two score children on the Mayflower, who braved the storms, trials and hardships of those pioneer times, so must that dominant thought be ever present to encourage us to bear the standard of American liberty, freedom and independence passing it down through the years, from child to child, with the simple, though significant message, "Carry On."

UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

MRS. GEORGE H. CABANISS

PATRIOTIC organizations of women identical in ideals and fealty, yet differing in affiliated groups, interest an observer. "Self-reverent each, and reverencing each," these groups of women are united under the organization known as the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Many chapters, each with a leader, and her staff of officers, contribute both in purpose and revenue, to the national organization. Each chapter is of itself a pillar in the great structure which towers its strength among women's patriotic orders.

Locally, each chapter, or chapters, in the great chain of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, devote time and concerted attention to patriotic service. So, with a tribute to all chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy throughout the entire state of California, we are privileged to quote here one of the chapters, criterion of this branch of feminine endeavor. The Jefferson Davis Chapter, No. 540, United Daughters of the Confederacy San Francisco, is recorded here in a pleasing report by Mrs. George Cabaniss, wife of Judge Cabaniss. Her report is typical of other high records of other chapters in California.

Mrs. George H. Cabaniss has given a splendid, brief resume of her chapter, in the words quoted below:

The Jefferson Davis Chapter, No. 540, United Daughters of the Confederacy of San Francisco, California, was founded by the late Mrs. Sidney M. Van Wyck who, in her person embodied the ideals and traditions of the "Old South." The key-note of the Chapter is service, and it was the fulfillment of a long felt need in rendering aid, not merely material, but loving sympathy to those who had given their services and fortunes for the Stars and Stripes.

Primarily a relief corps, the Chapter furnished comforts to the Confederate Veterans and aid to the needy Confederate women, and when death overtakes them, the last sacred rites are ministered and a fitting interment is provided.

Education is one of the paramount features and the bestowal of scholarships is one of our activities.

During the World War, at Neuilly Hospital, France, seventy beds, at a cost of $42,000.00 per annum, were endowed by the Daughters of the Confederacy (of which Jefferson Davis Chapter is a branch). In less than one year this maintenance was guaranteed for the duration of the war.

But likewise, a work of no less importance engrosses the energies of the organization in preserving the southern heritage of noble ideals, and in making known the glorious part the literature and history of the South have had in our American History.

THREE NOTEWORTHY PATRIOTIC ORGANIZATIONS

THREE noteworthy patriotic organizations which major on California history and heritage are among the effective groups of women's clubs.

These organizations are: The Woman's Auxiliary of California Pioneers, the Association of Pioneer Women of California and the Daughters of California Pioneers.

The Woman's Auxiliary is headed by Mrs. Aurelius Buckingham, whose presidency had added prestige to the organization which is expressed in the title: Woman's Auxiliary of California Pioneers. The meetings are held at the Fairmont Hotel, and many of the State's oldest families are represented on the roster of this notable Auxiliary.

The Association of Pioneer Women of California differs from the Auxiliary in that its members are pioneer women of California.

Mrs. Mary Coghlan, the president, in one of her recent statements, said that the Association of Pioneer Women of California was the first pioneer woman's society in California. The objects of the association are: "to collect and preserve the history of pioneer women; and, to co-operate with those who are working for the preservation of the forests and song birds."

The association initiated the idea of the Log Cabin in Golden Gate Park. This picturesque cabin was dedicated to the Association of Pioneer Women of California, October 28, 1911 and is used by the association for social purposes only.

As an historical society, the pioneer women have collected many valuable books and papers, bearing upon the early history of the State.

The Daughters of California Pioneers represent the status of their name in the listing of pioneer organizations. The purposes of the society are: to promote an interest in the collection and the preservation of historical objects, scientific and literary records pertaining to California history.

Representatives have been sent from the Daughters of California Pioneers to meetings of the Old Mission Restoration Committee. They have assisted other organizations in the restoration of California's old and sacred missions.

Mrs. Frederick Bartels is the president of this organization, her executive board including some of the best known women in California's pioneer families.

Meetings are held in Pioneer Hall, on Mondays. Some worthy programs of unusual historical value have been given recently, including an American Indian Day at the Sorosis Club Hall, 563 Sutter Street. Mrs. Donnelly was the chairman of this memorable event.

CALIFORNIA WAR MOTHERS

IN 1917 when our country called and the training camps claimed the flower of our manhood, an organization came into being called the War Mothers.

Motherhood spelled "bravery" and no organization could be more truly patriotic than the various groups of National American War Mothers. Prior to the signing of the Armistice on November 11, 1918, this group of women mostly mothers banded together in our own city, San Francisco, under the name of "Mothers and Kinsfolks of Service Men." Brave as the bravest they worked for the welfare and comfort of their own sons and of other mothers' sons, far from home.

When peace was declared the mothers were not content to step aside, they felt the need of their services was still very urgent for the returning soldiers. Therefore when the National American War Mothers held the first state convention in Sacramento—the first in California—San Francisco mothers took immediate steps to organize in this city and on August 2, 1920, Mrs. Cora Harris, State War Mother, organized San Francisco Chapter. Six months later a reorganization took place with Mrs. Rose C. Sargent as president; Mrs. E. A. Bagot, first vice-president; Mrs .C. Witte, second vice-president; Mrs. Agnes Appel, recording secretary; Mrs. R. E. Cowan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lena Krauter, treasurer.

A Gold Star Unit was formed with Mrs. Cynthia Shaw as president. All gold star mothers are honored members—exempt from dues. They have never ceased in their efforts to make the path of the sick and disabled man as easy as possible, ever ready to extend the right kind of comfort. The national officers are: Mrs. E. Digny of New York, president; Mrs. J. C. McClure of Kansas City, first-vice-president; Mrs. Rose C. Sargent of San Francisco, recording secretary; Mrs. R. Jones of North Dakota, treasurer.

In Creative Circles

A lofty independence prevails among the poets, novelists, short-story writers, the dramatists and others engaged in the creative arts of painting, sculpture, architecture, and musical compositions—in California.

THE PARTHENEIA

FOR the past ten years an annual masque, known as the Partheneia, has been produced on the campus of the University of California by women of the student body of the university.

While considered quite the most artistic and scholarly event of the college year, in creative work, among the women, the Partheneia is also regarded by faculty, student body and the public in general, as representative of the best talent among the students of the current year.

Women authors, women composers, women artists, women managers, women directors, women in the entire cast, in the male roles as well as the feminine roles; in fact women, exclusively, present the masque. They dye the cloth for their costumes, they design and make the costumes, they design the settings for the scenery-parts, they direct the orchestra.

The theme for the Partheneia has invariably dealt with the transition of maidenhood to womanhood, the original conception being the Greek. In later years, various motifs have been used. Hundred of women students take part in the Partheneia, classical dancing and pageantry being consistent features. Thousands of spectators gather in Faculty Glade seating themselves either on the sloping ground, or in the seats reserved for the production. The natural scenery of the campus affords an ideal setting for the play. Overhanging oak trees, a background of tall brush edging the creek over which are built practical bridges, form the wings of the stage where the students play their parts and register anew their appreciation of literature and the channels for original expression.

The first Partheneia, "The Message of Maidenhood" was produced in 1912. The author was Anna Reardon (Mrs. John Beck), Belvedere, California. Florence Doyle (Mrs. Harry Gabbert), 2422 Hilgard Avenue, Berkeley, was the manager. Music was taken from selections by McDowell. In 1913, Evelyn Steele was the author of the Partheneia, "Awakening of Every Maid." Irma Foveaux (Mrs. William B. Sawyer), 1415 Morton Street, Alameda, and Miss Katherine Carlton, 2327 Blake Street, Berkeley were managers.

In 1914, Helen Cornelius (Mrs. Roswell Ham), Grand and Clinton Avenue, Alameda, was the author, of the Partheneia, "The Dream of Dedra." Music was composed by Ruth Cornell, (Mrs. Paul Cook), 201 South H. Street, San Jose. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Baker, Aberdeen, Washington, was manager.

In 1915, "The Queen's Masque," was written by Mary Von Orden (deceased), Vinnie Robinson, (Mrs. G. H. Albertson), Denver, Colorado, was the manager.

In 1917, Mariquita de Laguna, now in Pekin, China, was the author of the Partheneia, "Youth's Adventure." Dorothy Wetmore, 2323 Hearst Avenue, Berkeley, was the manager, Ruth Cornell, composer.

In 1918, "The Misbehavior," written by Grace Ellis was the name of a pantomime given in the form of an entertainment at the Woman's Day dance in place of the annual Partheneia, which was not given on account of the war.

In 1919 the Partheneia, "The Newer Pandora" was written by Sara Unna, now of New York. Music was by Flora Rouleau, 7 Moss Avenue, Oakland; Beatrice Whittlesey, Columbia University, New York, was the manager.

In 1920, Priscilla Cavagnero, 400 Laguinitas Avenue, Oakland, wrote "The Poet's Answer." Music was by Mary Millard, now of England. Beatrice Blanchard of 845 Ashbury Street, San Francisco, was the manager.

In 1921, the Partheneia, "Lillies of the Mirones," was written jointly by Josephine Brown and Janey Brown; Josephine Brown of Alberta, Canada, and Janet Brown, 2710 Channing Way, Berkeley. Edith Pasmore was the manager. Two composers were Dorothy Dukes, 211 The Uplands, Berkeley, and Marjorie Tracy, 2401 Hilgard Avenue, Berkeley.

In 1922, "The Vision of Marpessa," was written by Harlow Wilson. The music was by Marjorie Tracy. Ruth Prager was the manager. Alma L. Smith, was the woman's editor of "The Daily Californian" in 1922 at the time the Partheneia, "The Vision of Marpessa" was produced.

Handmaidens of Marpessa were: "Intuition," Florence Randall; "Reason," May McLaughlin; "Memory," Bernice Goldstone; "Fancy." Eileen Eyre; "Faith," Rose Brown.

THE MOUNTAIN PLAY

"Where you have mountains, there you shall have free men."

MRS. D. E. F. EASTON

THE Mountain Play is one of California's distinctive outdoor productions. A mountain theatre on the top of Mt. Tamalpais, is the natural setting for high dramatic work, given annually under the direction of the Mountain Play, an organization in which many prominent women are interested.

Each year something commanding in classical presentation is given. This year, 1922, the tenth annual Mountain Play was Josephine Preston Peabody's prize play: "The Piper."

As a member of the San Francisco Center of the Drama League of America my work in this direction has been inspiring for it has led to many kindred interests including the Mountain Play. In no other state than California could such productions be given, as the ones included on Mount Tamalpais, in Marin County.

Of the Drama League, there is considerable to include in plan and purposes. Recognition of the best in modern playwriting and hearty endorsement of worth-while plays are among some of the League activities.

We send out printed notifications of plays before they reach our locality telling the members of the Drama League the plays which we endorse and giving a brief history of the work, including the cast of characters and the synopsis of the play.

We recommend, but do not condemn, plays, and if a play does not warrant commendation nothing is said of it. Our members become accustomed to these letters of recommendation and look eagerly forward to them. While this system has been abandoned for the present, yet we shall return to this manner of information, in response to requests.

Women who comprise the personnel of the San Francisco Center of the Drama League of America include: Mrs. D. E. F. Easton, president; Mrs. Franklin Burt, recording secretary; Mrs. W. I. Clayes, Mrs. Chester Deering, Miss Adele Elizabeth Dugan, Mrs. J. J. Gottlob, Mrs. A. L. Hart, Mrs. J. H. Robertson, Mrs. Max C. Sloss, Mrs. F. W. Vaughan.

"Looking backward, as I think of the many organizations wherein I have labored, I can but feel that I should like to go over the ground once more just to do the things that today seem to have been omitted. I think that if I could do this, better results would be gained."

Too much can not be said in behalf of that director, Garnet Holme, and the officers who have, by sheer belief in many of our mountain play productions, brought the Mountain Play up to its high standards and have made them something worthy to be chronicled in the high dramatic work of California.

The Mountain Play has become an established institution of scholarly attainment, one in which the Drama League of California universally is interested as it increases in worth and is finished in production.

While the Mountain Play and the Drama League are separate institutions, not allied in any way, financially, yet they have the same high standards for dramatic work, and that is to cultivate the best talent, encourage the best work, and give as much dramatic history in manner of presentation and text as possible.

The response of the public is criterion for the value placed by the organizations and their constituents.

CALIFORNIA FEDERATION OF MUSIC CLUBS

"California, The Music Center Of America"

CARRIE JACOBS BOND

WHEN the California Federation of Music Clubs met in annual session at the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, in April for their four-day session, April 30th to May 3rd, a decision was made in behalf of a concerted effort toward creating a music center on the coast—a center which would command the attention of the musical world.

"'California, the music center of America'—such is our hope, such our ambition.

"We have the necessary qualifications, musically, aside from our glorious climate conducive to musical development. We have the enthusiasm, the energy; we have the talent. Furthermore, we have the musical mentality.

"Once we musicians of California make up our minds, individually, and act collectively, we can bring this noble idea to full fruition. The enthusiasm displayed in our annual convention is a convincing challenge to these purposes pursuant to success."

Los Angeles has a large circle of musical clubs affiliated with the California Federation of Music Clubs. Many of these clubs rank among the leading musical organizations of the State. The Wa Wan Club of Los Angeles stands prominently in this list. Seyler of South Pasadena, who has been treasurer of the federation since its inception, was re-elected. Selby C. Oppenheimer of San Francisco is the incumbent auditor.

SAN FRANCISCO MUSICAL CLUB

MRS. LILLIAN BIRMINGHAM

THE San Francisco Musical Club is thirty-one years old. It was organized in 1890 by some young women who were pupils of Abbey Cheney, then a very well-known piano teacher. At first the club was known as the "Abbey Cheney Amateurs", but it soon outgrew that name and as well the idea of confining its membership to pianists alone. Violinists and vocalists were then admitted, and with them a limited number of associate members. The name was changed to the Chaminade Club in honor of the woman composer at that moment most prominent before the public, Mademoiselle Cecile Chaminade.

Miss Maud Smith, first president of the Chaminade Club, directed its energies for seven years. At first the club met in her home, but ultimately became so large that a public hall had to be taken.

After a time it seemed that the name Chaminade gave the impression of a limited musical appreciation and after considering numerous titles the club finally changed its name to "The San Francisco Musical Club" for the reason, as an officer of the club put it, "to honor our city and in the hope that the club should grow to be the musical club of San Francisco."

From the date of the change of name the growth of the club has been very rapid both in personnel and in musical standing. At this time its membership is over five hundred, more than one-third of whom are active musicians.

The club each year gives programs of the widest variety. Frequently the works of the best composers are covered by lectures and papers as well as by musical production, the effort being to educate, as well as to give opportunity for musical expression.

The club has been known to give in one season a program based on the suites from the Italian classics, a program of "Scherzos-Tennyson Texts"; a program of "Preludes-Browning Texts"; a program of "Music of the Sea", and a program of "Concerto Form-French Opera."

To enumerate the programs of the San Francisco Musical Club as they have been presented this past year would be to point with pride to musical achievements, and to tell, in glowing appreciation, of our artist friends who have made musical history.

One of the outstanding musical mornings comes readily to mind. It was an exceptional program, "Exposition of Mood" in five divisions, beginning with the Dramatic-Grotesque, Grieg-Sonata; Miss Mildred Jones, pianiste; Grief-Humor-Descriptive-Love-Care-free, Henri Panizza, Dupont, Grant-Shaefer, Richard-Hageman and Hugo Wolf, Lillian Birmingham, contralto, Marion de Guerre Steward at the piano. The third division, Religious-Rythmic-Descriptive, Miss Marion Nicholson, with Miss Helen Rust at the piano. Gratitude-Sorrow-Joy, Mrs. Arthur Hill, soloist, with Josephine Crew Aylwin at the piano. Dramatic, Brahms-Rhapsody, Lillian Birmingham, and the quartette; Hubert Williams, Lowell Redfield, Carl Anderson, Henry Perry, with Marion de Guerre Steward at the piano. This was one of the most ambitious presentations of the year and the favor with which it was received argued well for a repetition of programs of similar character.

THE Los Angeles Chapter of the Society of American Music Optimists was founded by Mana Zucca, National President and organizer, in 1919. The Los Angeles Chapter is Branch Number One of the National organization with headquarters in New York City. Objectives of the Los Angeles Chapter are the same as the New York organization namely:

Advancement of American Composition in all forms.
Presentation of American artists.

In addition the local chapter is earnestly endeavoring to correlate and co-ordinate the work of American musicians with that of dramatists, verse writers, and scenario writers, that better material may be used in opera, song and musical comedy. This phase of the work is presented by speakers of note who are associated with organizations and societies prominently identified with the movement at monthly dinners given by the Society.

Formal programs of American composition are presented the last Thursday of each month. Each program is preceded by a club dinner and frequently a reception for artists appearing on the programs, and for visiting artists, follows the program.

Three Musicals—Three programs have been given this year, a New Year's Party, and other social events. The Board of Directors meets, regularly, the first week of each month.

The Los Angeles Society of American Music Optimists is in addition to its affiliation with the New York mother organization a member of the National Federation of Music Clubs, the California Federation of Music Clubs and the California State Federation of Women's Clubs.

THE Pacific Musical Society was organized in February, 1910 for the purpose of musical improvement, for raising musical standards and for creating an appreciation of the highest and best in musical forms.

The Society has been instrumental in encouraging young and talented artists to greater efforts and in the twelve years of its existence has seen many of these artists, whom it has launched, take their places in the professional world. It introduces the unknown professional artist and gives opportunities to the resident artists. Its concerts, which are held on the second and fourth Thursday evenings of the month in the ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel, are always dignified and artistic.

The Society boasts of its Junior Auxiliary, the equal of which would be hard to find. Four concerts a year are given on Saturday afternoons in the Fairmont Hotel, and on one Saturday afternoon in February, the parent organization gives over one of its regular concerts to the Auxiliary. This is known as the Valentine Program.

The Society is interested in all things which pertain to the musical growth of the city and is always ready to co-operate in furthering the cause of good and lofty music.

Lulu J. Blumberg

Excerpts from "The Fountain of Youth" written by Mr. Edmond Coblentz, for the Family Club, formed the motif of a scholarly program presented by the Pacific Musical Society in the gold ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. Music composed by Uda Waldrop and Rudy Sieger were played by these two artists of the piano and the violin. Another outstanding program which closed the musical year was presented by members of the Andre Ferrier French Opera Company with Ferrier, Marion Vecki and Anna Young, prima donna, in the cast. Musical friends from the bay cities and from down the peninsula packed the Fairmont ballroom to hear these artists.

MUTUAL benefit in creative work; world service by women of the pen, pencil and brush; betterment of literary and artistic production; progression in professional endeavor—these are the main objects of The League of American Pen Women.

The San Francisco League of American Pen Women follows in strict accord the rules and regulations of the National League—furthering the objects, "Through aiding the formation of Leagues of Pen Women in other countries, unified in a League of World Pen Women through using National headquarters as a clearing house for the dissemination of information relative to the work; through assisting the young or unknown worker toward professional recognition."

Something superlatively fine was presented by the San Francisco Pen Women at their initial Fall session held in the gold ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. It was a "literary tea" given in honor of the women of the University of California who created the Partheneia.

Authors, journalists, artists, sculptors, poets, editors, publishers, genealogists, dramatic writers, scenario writers, illustrators, designers, cartoonists, lecturers of professional rank—were among the guests.

Four hundred members of the League, with friends, sat at tables arranged for literary concourse. At the head table were seated honor guests, among whom were the young writers of the University of California, grouped about a statue of Pegasus, the inspirational symbol of the San Francisco Pen Women.

Mrs. William D. Stephens, wife of Governor Stephens; and Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., wife of Mayor Rolph, sat at the right of the president, Mrs. William Harold Wilson. Miss Lucy Ward Stebbins, Dean of Women, University of California, was the speaker of the day defining the Partheneia annual college play as a student activity. Mrs. Frederick Colburn was the chairman. She gave tributes to women whose influence led to high ideals and named three: Phoebe Apperson Hearst, Susan Tolman Mills, Jane Lathrop Stanford. Rising to their feet the entire assemblage paid silent tribute to these noble women. Harp solos by Marie Hughes MacQuarrie, and a ceremonial, made an impressive rite.

A stirrup-cup toast was pledged as a feature of this event. Mrs. Colburn spoke the lines as the women facing "Pagasus" held high their glasses of golden-fruited punch for the toast: "Here's to inspiration, gift of the gods. May all who mount Pegasus be guarded by Truth, Honor and Justice, and may each one ride to her heart's desire." In parting, "The End of a Perfect Day" by Carrie Jacobs Bond, was played on the harp by Marie Hughes MacQuarrie in tribute to Mrs. Warren G. Harding, "The First Lady of the Nation," who favors this member's song.

Reggie Urdahl Smith, sculptor who made the statue, was an honor guest.

The unveiling address was delivered by Mrs. W. B. Bonfils (Annie Laurie), honorary member National League of American Pen Women and active in the San Francisco branch. Pegasus was officially presented to the president by Mrs. Vernille De Witt Warr. Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, told the legend. Mrs. Frederick Colburn gave "The Flight."

Peter Clark Macfarlane addressed the San Francisco Pen Women on another occasion, when a garden-scene arranged by Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale, was the center for the program. The author's address was: "The Popular Pulse and the Pertinent Pen." Mrs. John Hays Hammond and Mrs. Macfarlane were honor guests.

Departments of work in the San Francisco League of American Pen Women include: poetry, pageantry, drama, research, scenario writing, the short story, water color and oil painting, sketching, cartooning, designing, exterior decorating, interior decorating, dress designing, household literature, advertising, sculpturing, modeling, art filaire, public speaking, lecturing, newspaper work, magazine contributions and kindred fields of creative endeavor.

Several members of the San Francisco League of American Pen Women have been the recipients of high honors in various contests.

Mrs. Anna Blake Mezquida, author and poet, has won within six months, two awards of one thousand dollars each in motion picture scenario contests.

Mrs. Mary Lennox of San Francisco Pen Women won the honors for the best song of California offered by the State Federation of Music in a contest open to all women of the State.

Harlow Wilson, author of "The Vision of Marpessa," the 1922 Partheneia produced by the University of California students, and Miss Ruth Harwood, winner of the prize for poetry at the State University of California, are two young members of the San Francisco League of American Pen Women.

Our "Round Tables" are unusual in the manner of program presentation. Whenever a famous woman writer visits San Francisco the Pen Women extend greetings, and prepare, in her honor, a "round table," appropriate to the occasion and the personal inclinations of the visitor.

Meetings of the San Francisco Pen Women are held at the Fairmont Hotel. Receptions, and many other social events are interspersed in the literary procedures as a potential influence which makes for camaraderie among the women who write.

THE Los Angeles Browning Club had its inception in a Browning Study Class, organized by Mrs. Kate L. S. Cummings and Mrs. F. H. Webb, in June, 1911.

In January, 1912 a Constitution with By-laws was framed, when the organization became known as The Browning Study Club, and shortly afterwards was admitted to membership in the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

In the course of time another Browning Class was organized. It then became advisable to change the name to the Los Angeles Browning Club. The classes continued to meet weekly for study and the club monthly for an entertainment program.

The object of the club is the cultivation of an intelligent interpretation of the poetry of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Not only does the club aim to promote a more comprehensive interest in the poems because of their great literary value, but it also endeavors to stimulate the art of arranging appropriate musical settings to the lyrics by having at least one Browning song on each of the monthly programs.

The annual Commemorative Festival of the Club on May 7th, Robert Browning's birthday, observed by all Browning Clubs, is a day of unusual felicity.

Ethelean T. Gaw.

Mrs. A. L. Hart is president of The Browning Club of San Francisco, one of the substantial literary study clubs whose poetic programs are ever in the ascendant. Browning pictures, both of Elizabeth and of Robert Browning, valuable autographs and editions de luxe are possessions of the club. The one policy, and premise, based on their initial step is plainly in evidence at all the Browning Club meetings.

WIT and humor—these were two foundation stones on which the Cap and Bells Club was built. Wit—the kind of wit of which poets and ministrels sang; the kind of wit which conquers turmoil and urges the heart to victory. Humor— the more profound allurement of cheer, the kind which tempers the way and tests the strength of intelligence; the kind which prizes laughter and lightens human woes.

"Cap and Bells" has for its emblem a jester, and since its organization in 1904 it has been noted not only for its fun and frolic, but also for the study it has given to the drama, languages, music and kindred subjects.

The dramatic section has attracted a large part of its membership and many celebrated plays have been produced by that section. The most notable were "Sister Beatrice" and "Mary Magdalen" by Maeterlinck, "Madame Sans Gene" by Sardou, and the "Man of Destiny" and "Candida" by Shaw. Comedies, operas, operettas and gay travesties have not been overlooked nor neglected, and the same standard of excellence that marked the drama was maintained in these productions. During the presidency of Mrs. D. Richard Martens, the well-known Chinese play, "A Thousand Years Ago", by Percy MacKaye, was staged at the St. Francis Hotel. The modern club woman was not recognized in the assumed characters of austere mandarins, princes, soldiers and vagabond adventurers.

As a co-worker with the Dramatic Section, with the same standard of excellence is the Woman's Orchestra, composed of musicians of ability, and of which, the club is justly proud. The orchestra not only assists at the social days of the club, but has been honored by being asked to participate in programs of other organizations.

A dancing section and a swimming section provide recreation for the athletically inclined members, while the studious member finds pleasure and profit in the sections devoted to the study of literature, Shakespeare and art.

Pilgrimages to noted art galleries have supplemented the actual study of art. An exhibition of paintings of the women artists of California was held in the club rooms in 1912-13, during the presidency of Miss Adele Elizabeth Dugan.

Believing that constructive individual work has the greatest results, the club has endeavored to perform that service for its members rather than to participate as an organization in the field of public affairs. On its roster are the names of women who have contributed to the upbuilding of our beloved city, as well as those who have been of service to others in educational and philanthropic movements.

Mrs Jesse M Whited

Mrs. John Hammond Crabbe is the new president of the Cap and Bells Club and on her board are: Mrs. Henry Hastings, First Vice-President; Mrs. J. Emmet Hayden, Second Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur L. Shannon, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Edward Janssen, Financial Secretary; Mrs. Frank Adams, Treasurer; Mrs. J. A. Simpson, Corresponding Secretary. The directors are: Mrs. James Hatcher, Mrs. E. P. MRS. W. E. SILVERWOOD

IN 1892 when the average woman of fifty felt the time for learning was past, came one, Kate Tupper Galpin, with an unfailing remedy for breaking the crust of the mind in rust, and releasing latent powers of which the possessor had never dreamed.

She opened a class in Shakespeare for mature women, the study beginning with King Lear. Fifteen women of the Channing Branch of the Unity Church met in the Church Parlors, and, later, with added numbers, moved from place to place as convenience dictated, meeting for a number of years, in Mrs. Galpin's own home on Fremont Avenue, where happy associations were formed.

In 1901 when Cumnock Hall, an exact replica of Shakespeare's home, was built, Mrs. Galpin was of the faculty. One room was planned for Shakespearean work, and here, the classes, and later the club also met until 1916, when the property changed hands and both class and club followed the Cumnock School to two hundred South Vermont Avenue. A more central location being desired, two years ago quarters were taken with the Friday Morning Club at 940 South Figueroa, the club's present home.

Mrs. Galpin's method of teaching was original and effective. Only one act was studied at a time, the first lesson always treating of the source for the plot, the historical setting and the relation of the country to the world generally. To instil confidence and elicit every shade of meaning, written questions were distributed, and an experienced leader knows the support of the system of a slip of paper. Mrs. Galpin encouraged thinking. If help were needed the whole class was questioned before she added her opinion. Her smile was power. Free discussion prevailed. A drama closed after a thorough analysis of the text followed by written character sketches. The study of Hamlet took three months.

When four of the pioneer class had covered twenty plays, certificates to this effect were granted, and in 1901 the Alumni thus formed organized the Kate Tupper Galpin Shakespeare Club to meet monthly, the class to continue meeting weekly.

At Mrs. Galpin's great desire—and just before her passing in 1906—yearly Commemorative Programs were instituted to occur on Shakespeare's birthday, April 23rd, when new members are received into the Club.

Various teachers, most of whom were Alumni, continued the beloved Founder's method, and at their head stood Mrs. Merrill Moore Grigg, and Miss Helen Brooks, successive presidents of Cumnock. The past two years Professor Anthony P. Blanks, University of California, Southern Branch, has led the class, and this year he has led the club. An outside class under an Alumnus, Mrs. C. B. McClure, contributed five new members. Three others were accepted for meritorious work elsewhere. Age qualification to eighty-eight years. Membership increases slowly because of unusual requirements. Shakespeare sections are found in nearly every club today.

The club once changed its course of study to Browning and gave some thought to Greek literature, but returned to the inexhaustible resources of the Beloved Bard. Active members number one hundred and thirty.

MRS. R. H. F. VARIEL.

SKETCH OF SOUTHERN CLUB LIFE

BERTHA LINCOLN HEUSTIS

IT does not seem probable that any other city in the world can claim as much activity in Women's Clubs as Los Angeles. Here there are hundreds of splendidly equipped clubs with charming, well worth while members, all striving for up-lift and betterment of conditions in civics, philanthropy, arts, and letters.

The influence is wide and lasting. The interest is maintained by means of well attended meetings made brilliant by selected speakers whose subjects are of world interest as well as of local pride. Of the hundreds of women's clubs the Friday Morning Club is claiming the largest membership of over twenty-three hundred accredited members. Ebell Club follows closely with twenty-two hundred. The Southern California Woman's Press Club, Matinee Musical, Harmonia, Drama League, Scribblers, Short Story, Civics and Philanthropy Club, Verse Writers, and the League of American Pen Women, Western Branch are among others distinctively prominent. There are many patriotic organizations, many chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and also United States Daughters of 1812.

The Los Angeles League of American Pen Women has the distinction of being the first organized auxiliary having been given its Charter No. 1 in 1915. Mrs. Florence Pierce Reed was the first president and Mrs. Inez Townsend Tribit first secretary. The World War and the many activities of that time prevented meetings until 1918, when the past national president, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustis re-organized the Los Angeles Branch and accepted the local presidency. The growth of the local membership has been steady while the state is now proud of the splendid list of members. When Mrs. Heustis visited California in 1915, during the San Francisco and San Diego Fairs, there were only thirteen Los Angeles Pen Women members in California to assist in celebrating the special days allotted by the Fairs to the League. At present Los Angeles has an active list of sixty-one and a guest membership of thirty. The officers of the local League have retained their offices since 1918 with the exception of the secretary, Mrs. Forrestine Cooper Hooker who has moved to Washington, D. C.

The president, Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustis, author of short stories and verse; musical compositions, newspaper work. Member of: Friday Morning Club, Los Angeles, Southern California Woman's Press Club, Lyric Club, Colonial Dames of America, Descendants of Mayflower Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, United States Daughters of 1812, W. R. C. Women of the Civil War, Shiloh Circle, P. E. O. Order of the Crown, National Press Association, Colonial Dames Club of Washington, D. C., past-regent of Dubuque Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, associate member of Patriots Memorial Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Washington, D. C., and Eschscholtzia Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Los Angeles Lyric Club, Drama League and others.

Our first vice-president is Mrs. Emma Livingston Reed, has been active in newspaper work for many years, member of Friday Morning Club, past president of the Southern California Woman's Press Club, a member of the Legislative Council and Reciprocity Chairman of Friday Morning Club.

The recording secretary is Mrs. Inez T. Tribit, illustrator, artist, verse writer, short stories, and scenarios, member of many clubs beside the Southern California Women's Press Club.

The corresponding secretary is Miss Lou Cox, whose work for the Blind has been unceasing and her mastery of the Braille system putting her out of the amateur class. A splendid writer and an able aid in League activities. Her assistant corresponding secretary is Mrs. Emily Hughes Wright, whose clever story won the first prize in the competition in the Los Angeles Branch, a year ago.

The treasurer, Mrs. Helen Lukens Gaut is active in the Fine Arts Club of Pasadena and the Press Club. Mrs. Gaut won distinction by her many descriptive articles appearing in leading magazines and newspapers. Her garden and bungalow stories, illustrated from photographs of her own, made a distinctive place for her. She is successfully writing exquisite songs, composing both the words and the charming musical settings.

The auditor, Mrs. Helen Richardson Brown, is a newspaper and short story writer.

The librarian, Mrs. Eva Hamilton Young, is a member of many clubs of Los Angeles and the Writers' Club of Oakland. Mrs. Young has made a specialty of verse writing, publishing many and has now entered the growing army of scenario writers with success.

The historian is Mrs. Blanche A. H. Verbeck, member of the Hollywood Woman's Club, Southern California Woman's Press Club, writer of music, short stories, one act plays and verse.

THE WOMEN OF THE PRESS

"Who's Who Among the Women of California" would not be complete without an appreciation of the "Women of the Press."

They are a modest group—these women of the press—modest in their careful consideration of others, and forgetfulness of self.

Their trained minds, their sympathies, their broad-visioned way of grasping minute details, make them a positive power for good.

They have high standards of life, high ideals, and a recognition of the purpose of their profession, than which there is none more potent in service to humanity.

ANNIE LAURIE

ANNIE LAURIE

THE name of Annie Laurie is like a gleam shining through the real achievements for women, generally, and for California women, particularly.

Some one has called her the "Dean of American newspaper women." She IS. From coast to coast in the chain of Hearst newspapers, she is known as Winifred Black. In San Francisco, her articles are written under the name of Annie Laurie.

While her own newspaper stories have made her name a household word bearing the beacon light of hope and cheer, of right-thinking, right-living, appealing to all people and to all ages, to those in need, to the forsaken, to the cultured, to the brilliant, to those who want to make the good fight—she is what members of her own profession call—"an all-round newspaper man."

She has covered almost every phase of newspaper work and is known in Chicago, New York, Washington, all American cities, and, in London, Paris and other European cities where she is recognized for her profession, as she is, here, in America.

The influence of Annie Laurie in the work of every other newspaper women who enters the profession is the kind of influence which makes for the very best within—an influence which stands first and foremost for work well done. She has no use for the idler.

Work, a steadfast belief in people, and the best things of this world—that is the secret of her success.

MARGARET DOUGLAS ANNA BLAKE MEZQUIDA

MARIE HICKS HEALY BLANCHE UPRIGHT

While not actively engaged in newspaper work, now, these four women are proud of their newspaper affiliations, attributing their literary work and their present careers to the wide range of knowledge and training gained from newspaper experience. All four of these women are devoting their time to creative work and to magazine and special publications where trained newspaper women find a compensating field.

Kathleen Norris, who has been termed "The best loved woman author," by the very nature of her great success, stands out as a criterion for newspaper work. She has manifested in her short stories, her novels, and her special newspaper articles the vividness of newspaper training. Lillian Ferguson of the Sunset Magazine, Josephine Hart Phelps, "The Argonaut", Helen Bonnet, "The Journal" and formerly "Town Talk"; Marjory Driscoll of the Chronicle who writes such splendid stories and poems, and Laura Bride Powers, author of "California Missions" who is actively in newspaper work as society editor of "The Oakland Tribune" are contemporaries.

Miss Ada Sweet, editorial writer of the Santa Rosa Republican, holds high the standard of newspaper work, her writing being of unusual strength and scholarly attainment. Perhaps San Francisco is unusually fortunate in the number of newspaper women who have "arrived" in the different fields of literary expression. Their names gleam from a brilliant page on which we find written Rose Wilder Lane, Bessie Beatty, Genevieve Parkhurst, Helen Dare, Marie Darrach, Myra Hunt Kingsman Miller and Miriam Michelson.

From north to south the newspaper women of California create records not only for themselves but for the "newspaper family" to which they have the honor to belong. Newspaper women, generally speaking, love their profession and value the wide opportunities the work affords them as participants in the great, human, world-wide activities requiring character, brilliancy and skill.

COLLEAGUES

To the newspaper women who have co-operated with me in the interest of "Who's Who Among the Women of California," am I grateful.

They have been splendidly gracious, abundantly kind! In the midst of crowded days, they have taken time to add their interest to these pages. In our next edition, we shall have another representative coterie of those consistent, able, "silent workers," the women of the press, they—who make history with women and the best which they put forth.

It is interesting to find how many California women have commanded world-wide recognition. Written on the scrolls of success are those in their chosen fields—music, literature, art, the stage, education, business, philanthrophy and science.

In endeavoring to present an authentic list of noted California women we are confronted with a desire to include many whose names, in our opinion, illumine the pages of achievement. TO THE eastern and the foreign mind the most remarkable feature of California's contribution to literature is the wonderfully good work of our women writers. It seemed only natural that the men should have found so much material in a frontier state, but it was not thought that there would be equal inspiration for the women.

The truth is that California, unlike most of the earlier states on the Western frontier, did not grow slowly but suddenly with a rush of civilization as well as a rush for gold. And then there had been the Spaniards furnishing the Americans with a readymade background of romance. But what more could a woman writer want than a land of fruit and flowers, hills and valleys, snow peaked and cloud capped mountains, the source of rushing rivers?

To the women writers of California I owe the inestimable debt of countless hours of delight, of fascination and inspiration. In the pages of Gertrude Atherton I first found the joy and the color of life in the Golden State and it was through her pen that I was thrilled with a love of that splendid patriot, Alexander Hamilton. The work of Mary Austin has more than sustained my conviction that she is peer to any other woman writer of the language.

In the field of fiction founded on the facts of life as interpreted with some of the glamor of romance it has been a privilege to walk with Kathleen Norris. The verse of Ruth Comfort Mitchell has broadened my sympathies and deepened my understanding.

MARGARET DOUGLAS.

IS WOMAN'S PLACE IN THE HOME?

KATHLEEN NORRIS

I NEVER know whether to laugh or to cry when women ask me this—and women do ask it, all the year round, and through all the years, and many times a week. Our particular generation represents the transition stage between the clinging woman of the 'Nineties, with her five-gored, bell skirt sweeping the street on all sides as she walked, and her prettily-confident request to Papa, or Brother Bob, or John, dear, for money, and the coming woman—with her profession or trade instilled into her as a matter of course, with her confident voice, and her trim office suit, and her financial responsibilities, and her vote. And there is humor, and pathos in the insistent, conscienc-ious inquiry; "Ought I stay at home? Ought I go out into the world?"

My answer to this question is contained in one word—with a post-script. The word is "Yes." "And the post-script is . . . and never forget that the whole wide world, with its books, its politics, its galleries and slums, its sins and its virtues, IS your home."

Because one of the things that we working women learn with most surprise is that there is nothing mysterious, nothing sacred and cryptic and essentially undiscoverable, about all these hitherto solely masculine things; that lawyers and politicians and brokers and bridge-builders are just solving the same old problems of family living—on a slightly larger scale.

And when your little house and mine, and your little block and mine, and your little village and mine have solved a few riddles, like divorce and wages and the relationship of capital and labor, and public health and morals and education, and fair taxation, and the financial rights of a wife, just as these things touch us and our families; then your little house, street and village and mine will have done what all the big government officials at Washington have failed to do.

If there was a village of three thousand souls in America where the girls and boys were growing up straight and clean to high ideals, where the mothers demanded honest school-boards and town trustees where kitchens were sanitary, and decent movies alone were admitted, where idle, prosperous childless women felt themselves morally and patriotically bound to stand beside struggling little impecunious mothers, where simplicity and hospitality and the safety of childhood were the first considerations—then that village would be the most important place in the entire union.

And these things are in women's hands: these are women's jobs—the greatest in the world, and the smallest in the world. Some of them will take her out of her home—out, that is, of the five rooms and the front garden that she considers her home. But none of them can possibly take her out of the sphere in which she rightfully moves as the bearer and the teacher of the race, no national problem is so great that it does not touch the lives and the ideals of men.

And those ideals, and those lives, were given them by woman.

Kathleen Norris.

THE CONTRIBUTION OF WOMEN PHYSICIANS TO CHILD WELFARE IN SAN FRANCISCO

ANY history of Child Welfare in San Francisco shows that the child stranded in a pioneer community was a matter of community interest. The Orphanages, the homes for partially dependent children were started early in the history of San Francisco, endowed and made recipients of State support.

The Sick Child made the appeal to the pioneer women physicians.

In 1875 they started the first training school for nurses and the Hospital for Children. The beautiful buildings of the Children's Hospital and the far reaching service throughout the city of this work by women physicians for children attest the fact that the San Francisco citizens love, honor and support their work for suffering childhood.

To KEEP the CHILD WELL is the new slogan in the HEALTH CRUSADE. The college women of the American Association of University Women in 1909 undertook to supervise medically and furnish milk (Certified) to the Babies boarded out by the Associated Charities. This work has grown to include educational work in the care and feeding of infants for mothers with their own babies. So that now over a thousand mothers are enrolled at the Haight Street Center and the work has been extended to include the pre-school child. This work has been carried on and developed under the women physicians who give the guidance needed in the educational work.

The Health Center idea has been taken over by Hospitals, Medical Schools and the City Board of Health so that today, no mother in San Francisco need lack guidance and assistance in learning to care for her baby, for wherever she may live, a Health Center is fairly accessible.

Thus both the sick and the well child have enlisted the scientific and the civic contribution of the women physicians of the city and this work for both well and sick children has been inaugurated by them.

THE HISTORY OF THE CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL IN RELATION TO MEDICAL WOMEN

THE foundation of the Children's Hospital was made by women physicians. Dr. Martha Bucknall and Dr. Charlotte Blake Brown in 1875 called on seventy women in San Francisco to secure a board of directors of eight women. Women's boards were then a new idea. No Y. W. C.A. existed, no Associated Charities, no Fruit and Flower Mission. Social service was confined to the boards managing orphanages.

This first organization was incorporated as the Pacific Dispensary for Women and Children, and was one of a chain of hospitals run by and for women physicians across the United States.

The purposes of the institution are defined: "To provide for women the medical aid of competent women physicians and to assist in educating women for nurses and in the practise of medicine and kindred professions." Note the vision of "kindred profession", which can include technicians, medical social workers, X-ray workers, phsiotherapists, etc., and this was the vision of women physicians in 1875.

The financial straits of the institution during the first ten years of its life can best be shown by these two incidents. Dr. Ellen Sargent, who was graduating from the University Medical School and had become interested in the Hospital as a medical student, gave up her commencement black silk dress and deposited the money with the Hospital to pay the rent to keep it open for another month. At another time of crisis, Dr. Lucy M. Wanzer and Dr. Charlotte Blake Brown took out their life memberships to avert the same catastrophe.

Mrs. Jessie Astredo Smith was the first graduate, her brother is now the head of the Juvenile Court in San Francisco, and two of her children are on the faculties of universities. Mrs. Smith died a year ago. The second class graduate four nurses, three of whom are still in the service.

Of the women members of the staff from the beginning to the present date, one can say that a deep devotion to the individual patient, to the Hospital, and to the cause of women in all its ramifications, has characterized them. They have had vision and ideals always before them, and have consistently carried out their purpose.

The Children's Hospital may, perhaps, in an academic analysis have been short in scientific output, but it has been long in the intelligent and personal care and attention it has given suffering humanity. After all, when one is cataloged and analysed and defined by the many laboratory analyses of the present date, or has been dissected and analysed by group medicine, is not the personal help of the patient to recovery often lost sight of?

An institution is judged by three things: Its scientific output, its pupils, and the developing of assistants and new lines of work. Up to 1918—475 nurses have graduated.

A resume of the graduate nurse would be rich in human attainment. In their homes as daughters, wives and mothers, and in the community as private and public health nurses, they are busy, helpful, able women. A few names and what they are doing will help you to see the group and emphasize the pioneers among them. Miss Ethel Sherman, at the Students' Infirmary of the University of California, has been a path blazer in college nursing and health work among college students. Miss Eleanor Stockton, at the San Francisco Board of Health, has developed her work as a pioneer and today has four nurses in her department. Miss Edna Shuey, of the Berkeley Dispensary, is a real contributor to the public health nursing course at the University of California, and the public health nursing group of Hawaiian girls working in tuberculosis, leprosy, and general public health work in the Islands, was a most inspiring sight to me in a recent visit. Miss Boye, as executive of the Training School, is making a steady contribution to the education of nurses.

The other group of pupils is the intern group. Where do they come from, and whither do they go? During the first period from 1875 to 1885, the interns were called residents, several of them serving two years or more at the Hospital. General practice was their occupation later and Dr. Kate Post Van Orden, whose name appears in the Hospital Report of 1880, is still in active practice. Institution work has claimed Dr. Fletcher and Dr. Mary B. Rittler made the pioneer contribution in the teaching of hygiene to the University Women Students at Berkeley. From 1885 to 1915, during the development of the Hospital as a permanent institution, interns sought the training from the local medical schools of Stanford and University of California, from the Medical Department of the University of Southern California, the University of Minnesota, Rush, Michigan, the P. and S. in Chicago, the Woman's Medical in Philadelphia and John Hopkins. Total number of interns 117—Stanford 42, University of California 27, Southern California 12, Woman's Medical 7, John Hopkins 3. The contribution these women are making is best illustrated by some individual records.

They have settled from New Bedford to India, five are missionary physicians; Dr. Margaret Smythe has been for sixteen years connected with the State Hospital at Stockton, and is now first assistant and in charge of the women's department of over 1,000 patients. She is a general surgeon and able executive. In public health Dr. Anna E. Rude is the Director of the Child Hygiene Division of the Children's Bureau in Washington. Dr. Ethel Watters is Director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the California State Board of Health. Dr. Viola Russell is acting assistant surgeon in United States Public Health Service. Dr. Appel is at the head of the Vocational and Work Certificate Department of the Chicago Board of Education, and is making an extensive contribution to the health improvement of the working child.

In anesthetics Dr. Mary Botsford will always have the name of leader and developer of this work for physicians. It is now a legally defined specialty of medicine in California. She has always been extremely generous in educating younger women in this specialty, and her group is too well known to need special mention.

In pediatrics, the interns who have gone into general practice have always excelled.

In tuberculosis, Dr. Martha Patrick of Los Angeles, is working under the Board of Health. In pathology, Dr. Agnes Walker has held both city and State positions, and Dr. Macrae, after serving the Hospital for many years as Chief of Laboratory, is now in charge of the Laboratories at the San Francisco Hospital.

Since the period of affiliation, although six years have elapsed, pioneer work has not characterized the interns. Whether this is due to lack of encouragement is difficult to say. Dr. Mary Cain has served as executive of the San Francisco Tuberculosis Association. Dr. Myrl Morris is now on the staff of the Children's Hospital, Dr. Dorothy Atkinson is in charge of the Health Centers of the San Francisco Board of Health, Dr. Nell Ford is resident physician at Mills College and in charge of twelve health centers in the Oakland public schools.

The support of the Hospital is from endowment, patients' board, laboratory, surgical, and X-ray service. The gap between funds earned interest from endowment, and expenses is bridged by the activity of the managers—soliciting gifts and donations and by the Auxiliary in entertaining the public yearly at the Mardi Gras Ball. The point is that the public supports the work of the Hospital over and above the degree to which it can be self-supporting.

In September, 1920, the re-organization of the staff took place, and the staff stands today as follows: There are four women on surgery, including the general surgery of women and children and no men; two women on obstetrics and no men; three women on pediatrics and no men; three women in medicine and no men; one woman on the eye and ear service, the senior on the service and one man; and four women in anesthetics. There are three men and no women in the orthopedic service, and no women physicians in the department of pathology; one man and one woman on contagious service. The Hospital staff thus consists of seventeen women and six men. In a hospital organized by women physicians, with a purpose that has never changed, and depending upon a public which has always supported it, this division is as it should be.

You may ask me, why hold the Children's Hospital for women? and I ask you where else you as women will get a chance at heading a service. Assistants' positions are waiting at every turn for women, but a chance to rise, to be chief after ten years of such service, does not materialize. Men pass over your heads or pass on to other chief positions. As illustration, I will cite Dr. Florence Sabin, Associate Professor of Anatomy at Johns Hopkins. I have yet to see a woman in America attain a clinical head position and hold it. Competition is too severe and man's mind fixed on the idea that a woman's place is to serve, not lead. Therefore, to have this type of experience we must perpetuate the hospital we have created and preserve it for the advanced opportunities of women physicians. Without leaders, we will be allowed to serve by our professional brothers, but the experience of running a power in dealing with interns and nurses, we will get very little of except in hospitals we create. The value of such opportunities, we certainly all realize.

The interns of the period since the affiliation are the women who must carry on the institution. The first group of women physicians during the years of struggle and establishment of permanency, gave ideals, vision, and daily labor to the Hospital. In the revolution of 1914, out of which came the affiliation, when the idea was fostered that the purposes of the Hospital had been fulfilled and it looked to be a financial asset to the University of California, the women physicians of the staff rallied and saved the position of women physicians in the institution, and as well saved the entity of the Hospital for the city of San Francisco.

The light affiliation which resulted with the University instead of absorption, defined the purposes of the Hospital clearly; but for the first five years the affiliation has been a negative rather than a positive influence in the Hospital. As one of the University of California medical men expressed it, "he could not see that the affiliation had done any harm."

Since the rearrangement of the staff in 1920, the lines are well marked out for a wonderful development of women in medicine. Against the full development is the great lack of adult free or part-pay beds, and the tendency, subtle perhaps, but nevertheless present, to discourage service patients in the adult and obstetrical department.

A first generation of women physicians has passed through this Hospital. Another group is at the zenith of its career. Are the younger women being prepared to carry on?

Producing, nurturing, and fighting for the very life of what this Hospital stands for has been hard work. The women physicians now in the positions of leaders owe much to their predecessors, and much to you, younger women, to give you the chance that was given them ,a chance the Board of Managers and the friends who yearly contribute of their abundance, all help to secure for you. But the real thing, yourselves, you must give.

The Hospital needs a loyal Nurses' Alumnae Association, it needs a loyal group of old interns, it needs a steady feeding in of younger women physicians to the clinics and assistant positions, to hold for women in medicine what two generations of women physicians have created and developed.

Perhaps this historical survey of the situation may help you to realize what the Children's Hospital has meant and can mean to women in medicine.

WOMEN IN THE LEGAL PROFESSION

MAB COPLAND LINEMAN

WOMEN, today, being engaged in every line of endeavor, having come to be recognized as a factor in the business world, and having been approved as proper participants in every important phase of commercial life, practice of law by women becomes almost a matter of necessity. The practice of the law is based absolutely on the theory of representation. Under our system of Jurisprudence, stamped with the approval of many years, a person understands the law, and maintains his rights thereunder only through his representative—his attorney. Moreover, our judges and many of our legislators are recruited from the ranks of the legal profession.

The advent of woman into commerce, it is conceded, has added thereto a new, a different point of view—the woman's way of looking at things—which it is difficult and sometimes impossible for the man to understand or represent. It therefore becomes necessary that we have in the legal profession, not only minds trained to represent, but minds which have the woman's point of view, themselves.

The woman's point of view having been added to, and become a salient factor of our commercial life, it must be represented in the Court Room, on the Bench and in our Legislative Halls, for thus only can our existing laws be construed to reconcile and harmonize so-called unessential yet keenly felt differences, and thus only can this added viewpoint find safe and proper expression, and deserved recognition. So also, not only will systems introduced by man have been filled out and brought nearer to perfection, but there will be created an understanding between men and women, which has never existed before, for heretofore the security of our institutions has been considered the Home, because there alone was there a community of interest and understanding. How much then shall we add to this security by having this community of interest made universal.

Who then can better represent woman than woman herself? She alone can be the proper representative of the woman's view, for she knows without learning and understands without mediation.

Thus can women aid in the advancement of that principle which we hold to be self evident, that every woman has a God-given, inherent right to develop herself for Good—the good of herself and of her country.

WOMEN IN LAW

LAW for women is still a field for pioneers. However, within the last five years there has been a highly gratifying acceleration in the expansion of opportunities for preparation, application, and advancement. This was in some measure due to the war-created demand for young women to replace the young men called from their desks, but inasmuch as the demand deminished appreciable upon the declaration of the Armistice, it cannot account for the continued interest which women are manifesting in the profession. Suffrage does not account for it. It is a part of the larger effort of women to become oriented in the modern society, a society in which, whether praised or condemned, the profession of law plays one of the vital parts.

It is fifty years since women first entered the law schools of this country. The earliest record found of the admission of any woman to the practice of law is that of Myra Bradwell, who was admitted by examination to the Illinois Bar in 1869. Now women are eligible for admission in every state except Delaware.

In the fifty-one years since the date of the earliest record, the total number of women admitted to the Bar as far as can be ascertained is 1,599, of whom a proximately less than one half are in the practice. There have been one hundred and thirty women admitted to the practice of law in California up to the present time.

The following are the names of the women attorneys, who are engaged in the practice of law in San Francisco, Oakland, and the northern part of the state: Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, Grade Arnold, Edna May Bayless, Mary A. Blass, Suzanne V. Bolles, Marion Weston Cottle, Ada Harvey, Mabel Dorn Hirst, Jane Hoyle, Mrs. W. Kahlert, Helen Kaufman, Gail Laughlin, Ethel Linney, Geraldine McCown, Charlotte McGregor, Theresa Meikle, Lucy Mount, Alma Myers, Caroline Nunlist, Esther Phillips, M. A. Ross, Frances Smith, Christena A. Turner, and Harriet P. Tyler of San Francisco; Lucile Bradley, Arline Cavins, Enid Childs, Helen Harris, Frances Jersen, Frances Wilson Kidd, Calla Matheson, Rosamond Parma, and Marguerite Shipman of Berkeley; Eloise Cushing, Anne Golver, Agnes Polsdorfer, and Bird Wilson of Oakland; Hedwig Engle, of Santa Cruz; Esta Broughton of Modesto; and Carol Rehfisch of Palo Alto.

Gail Laughlin, of San Francisco, is president of the Queens Bench. Dr. Theresa Meikle is secretary and treasurer.

MARGARET MARY MORGAN

THE business of being a woman is precisely the same as the business of being a man. A woman in business brings to it all the discernment, all the subtlety of attack endowed by her sex.

In every business nowadays some branch, great or small, is left entirely in the hands of women. This must be a wise provision, because today represents the utmost perfection in the history of business. A few years ago a woman lawyer or a doctor was a matter for publicity. Nowadays women take a hand in the politics of their community.

Women lawyers are in almost every city and women doctors are legion. Whether it be a change in the times or a change in the women, or both, we can not deny that the self-supporting woman is no small factor in the fabric of things.

Then there is the side of what the woman gets out of it. She gets a broader outlook of practical life. She gets a confidence in her powers given a successful man—without, possibly, his arrogance. She gets a philosophy of life to carry her through. It never fails to dissect out her little narrowness—never fails to overcome her shrinking lack of courage—never fails to endow her with an understanding of both sexes which cannot but help her in her own evolution and thus infinitely broaden her life.

"There is no past that we need long to return to, there is only the eternally new"; the evolution of Mother Eve, of Helen, of Ruth, of Griselda, of Joan of Arc, or Priscilla, or of Becky Sharp finds expression in the modern professional woman, the woman of business.

CALIFORNIA FEDERATION OF BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUBS

THE largest organization that we have is the Los Angeles County Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs with Miss Lloy Galpin as President. That club is one of the biggest forces in the community there and has been largely instrumental in putting through the Women's Athletic Club. Miss Jane Humphreys who was the first President of our State Federation of Business Women's Clubs, was the real organizing factor and it is through her influence that this Club has remained a strict democratic organization open to all the women of the city. By the sheer force of her personality and will, she finished getting the necessary financial support during the year when the difficulties seemed almost insurmountable. The financial depression, the last winter's freeze, and the influenza gave it a terrible set back, but she succeeded in accomplishing what she set out to do, and Los Angeles has a splendid athletic club.

The personnel of the various clubs is very interesting and varied. In our local club we have farmers, lawyers, secretaries, librarians, teachers, and a number of women who own their own business such as the Peerless Ice Cream Company, the Leipsic Shoe Company, the Portable Garage Company, the Gift Shop, and Millinery. The Stockton Club under the presidency of Dr. Goodman is increasing is membership very rapidly and this year they are emphasizing the support of a municipal camp at Silver Lake in the mountains. They are giving a cottage to the camp and are not only contributing to its financial support, but helping build it as well. The Chico Club is just a new organization that started last fall, but it is already a factor in the accomplishments of the town. The Business Men's organizations gave a day to planting trees onthe highway and the Business Woman's Club was called upon to serve lunch and cold drinks through out the day. The Oakland Club has devoted most of its energy to securing and finishing club rooms. The Bakersfield Club which is also a new one to join our State Federation, is made up of younger business women and is largely social in nature; something that was very much needed in Bakersfield. Each club has its own particular problems to work out, according to the locality and the community, but the spirit and enthusiasm is wonderful and will develop into a power for the advancement of the younger business girls in a very short time.

THE Business and Professional Women's Club of San Francisco was started in 1916, by a small group of business women who believed that there was need in San Francisco for such an organization, devoted to the interests of women in business. For some time the club met weekly at luncheon at some one of the restaurants of the city, listening to speakers on topics of interest or transacting business as the case might be. Miss Lillian Palmer, proprietor of the Palmer Shop, San Francisco, was the first president and one of the founders. Under her leadership the club greatly increased its membership and in 1919 secured its own quarters at 54 Kearny Street, where for some time the weekly luncheons were served and the club quite happily carried on its activities. It soon outgrew its headquarters, however, and in 1920 moved to its present commodious rooms at 575 Market Street. Miss Margaret M. Morgan, Manager of Walter N. Brunt, printers, was the second president of the club, leaving the chair at the end of her second term under the pressure of her outside duties as the first woman supervisor of San Francisco.

The club at the present time has a membership of nearly three hundred and fifty. Daily luncheons are served to members and their guests at the club rooms, where also the weekly meetings are held, either at dinner or lunch, at which speakers of prominence are enjoyed. Study classes formed from among the membership have the use of the rooms on other evenings. A recent activity undertaken by the club is the formation of vocational groups made up of women in similar lines of business who meet together regularly to discuss topics of common interest. A survey of women in San Francisco in executive positions in various business and professional fields is now under way. Believing that upon the business women of the community must fall the burden of advising those who think of entering similar work, vocational placement work has been initiated in a small way. Under the leadership of the club, a Business Girls' Club has been formed to meet the needs of the office worker and now meets regularly in the club rooms. Study sections are now being formed under leading business women to undertake the study of problems of civic interest particularly affecting women. Among the subjects to be taken up are: Legislation of Interest to Women; The Housing Problem for the Business Woman, Social Service and Employment. The club has been most active in the support of charitable work, being responsible for the adoption of fourteen babies during the recent campaign of the Associated Charities, as well as making substantial contributions in money to this and other worthy causes.

Any business woman of San Francisco, either in independent business or serving in an executive capacity in the company with which she is employed, is eligible to membership, pending her acceptance by the club. The organization is a member of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

THE Los Angeles County Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has developed co-operation among women heretofore largely unorganized. Unwittingly, man has been taking away woman's individual work, thereby lessening her responsibility in the home. He has placed a commercial value on what heretofore has been measured by love and duty. The centralizing of work has had its economic and social advantages far beyond the hardships it has caused the few who have not been able to adjust themselves to the rapid changes. Necessity caused women to go out of the home to work. The more daring ones sacrificed public opinion and ventured into new occupations and professions. As the few succeeded, the many crowded into the new-old occupations and professions. The economic changes have been so great, that both men and women, in their effort to pile up worldly goods have lost sight of their civic and social responsibility. Money seems to be the medium of measurement of every vision.

To the pioneers of early club life among business and professional women, the constant measurement by money values was very discouraging and the only way to change this point of view was to bring together women of all occupations and professions on a common ground of human needs —human needs which each and every woman could understand and take to herself and use for the good of all.

This was tried out in a small way in the Business Woman's Civic Club, which has a club presidents' council as an advisor for its executive board.

In the spring of 1919, a proposed National Federation was presented to business and professional women's clubs throughout the country. The clubs in Los Angeles were ready for a bigger field of co-operation and were glad of the opportunity presented.

It seemed to the pioneer club women here that the best way to serve a National Federation was to organize a County Federation. This feeling of greater co-operation locally spread and resulted in the Los Angeles County Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

From a beginning of six club members, it has extended to fourteen and at present includes the following clubs: Adelphian Club of Los Angeles, Jessie C. Skewes, president; Business Woman's Civic Club of Los Angeles, Dr. Maud Wilde, president; Home Economics Association of Pasadena, Ruth Dickey, president; Los Angeles Business Women's Association, Docia A. Conley, president; Professional Women's Club of Los Angeles, Ida Viola Wells, president; Progressive Household Club of Los Angeles, Hattie Kirbis, president; Time to Time Club of Los Angeles, Ethel Masters, president; Women's Advertising Club of Los Angeles, Mrs. L. E. Eckels, president; Women Lawyers Club of Los Angeles, Mab C. Lineman, president; Women's Faculty Club of Los Angeles, Orabel Chilton, president; Women's Osteopathic Club of Los Angeles, Dr. Daisy D. Hayden, president; Glendale Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. M. I. Biggs, president; Long Beach Business and Professional Women's Club, Maomi Tompkins, president; Pasadena Business and Professional Women's Club, F. Josephine Stevenson, president.

The launching of the Women's Athletic Club is the accomplishment of its first two years of work and it is now promoting a Vocational Alliance as a clearing house for all women's vocational activities.

Organization is typically American as a procedure for the accomplishment of social progress and this new group hopes to be of service to the larger community of which it is a part to the end that southern California may enrich and ennoble its life.

THE Business and Professional Women's Club of San Diego is, as its name indicates, an association of business and professional women. It has about two hundred and forty members. Its membership represents a great variety of professions and lines of business. It is proud to number among its members, women who stand at the top in their chosen work. There are nurses, doctors, librarians, bookkeepers and accountants, musicians, stenographers, clerks, buyers, teachers and welfare workers. All of these women are "actively and primarily engaged in a profession or in the management or pursuit of a business."

The club meets at luncheon on the first and third Wednesdays of the month and at dinner on the second and fourth Wednesdays. When a fifth Wednesday occurs, an evening party is given. These parties, as well as other smaller functions, give the members an opportunity for the social companionship which is essential for the busy woman who is employed all day. At the luncheons and dinners varied programs are provided. It is not possible for the members to live all lives, as Shakespeare is said to have done, but they, through the speakers, can vicariously enjoy and appreciate all lives. They can see through other eyes, the beauties of all lands; they can feel the thrill of adventure of the traveler, the glow of accomplishment of the portrait painter or the musician. They can feel the charm of the writer and the inspiration of the earnest worker in the common work of every day. The club tries to establish, through its programs, the line of contact with business and professional women of the world. It seeks to so broaden the horizon that even the busy woman may find happiness and enrichment in her own life as well as in the development of a consciousness of world life. The club is hoping to have its own rooms so that there will be a greater comradeship among the members. It hopes also, to establish a Vocational Placement Bureau, which will be of great interest to the club and of great service to the community.

The club stands for the highest and best for women and its women try to be worthy of that standard.

Gwladys M Morgan.

OBSERVATIONS OF A WOMAN IN BUSINESS

MISS GENEVE SHAFFER

WHETHER the passing of women suffrage chronicled the advent of a vast increase in the number of women in business, I would hesitate to say, but certainly women are holding executive positions hitherto considered the exclusive and inalienable province of man. They are here to stay.

Perhaps it is woman's singleness of purpose, her concentration, and the fact that, in most cases, she works harder that pushes her ahead in spite of opposition. We have heard over and over again that some girl takes the place of two or more male office help, who have unexpectedly left, before she is even noticed as other than a bit of office machinery. Then the head of the firm cannot fail to appreciate that she is an important member of the office force, usually in spite of his unwilling belief. He is forced reluctantly to admit that it would be cheaper to keep her and pay her a trifle more than to keep on "hiring and firing" the usual run of restless, and undependable male clerks.

She is like an unnoticed understudy to a big star. One day some vital transaction comes up, the executive is out, no one knows what to do. Consternation reigns, loe and behold, without any fuss or feathers "Miss Jones" has done it and done it so well that everyone gets to depending upon her. Now what thing, feminine, could resist the stimulation of her innate mother instinct of having someone who needs her help, depending upon her?

Soon it is found "good business" to relieve her of the detail that has been heaped upon her (and it is put off on the shoulders of some slavey who needs the heat of work to bring her out of the chrysalis) while she does the work that she can do better than any one else in the office. Why? Because she knows more about it than any one else in the office and is truly and completely interested.

Let me here dispel an illusion that has been with us ever since the days of Adam. Let me whisper it, as it is dangerous to tell a big truth outloud. It makes such a noise to explode an old theory. "Women can keep a secret." Yes, I have it from many big officials and men of affairs. Just ask any executive about his faithful private secretary, or confidential office woman, who has been with the firm for years.

To be sure, on the other hand, no doubt, it is woman's long training in gossip, used primarily to entertain and hold the changeable male, that makes her so successful in the field of novel and senario writing, journalism and advertising, but when she is put in a position of trust, the right kind of a woman, never goes back on those who believe in her.

Many social leaders have made a success in business because they have given themselves (unconsciously to be sure) wonderful training in the right way of meeting people, the remembering of names and faces, and they have schooled themselves to think quickly in any immergency.

I thought all the women who did not want to be actresses wanted to be real estate operators, but after my experience in journalism I found out that there were just as many who wanted to be journalists, so it is merely woman's demand for self expression. Whether she is carrying out this thought quietly by creating a home and being a mother, or by building up a business and mothering her ideas to fruition, the quality of self expression is paramount. It is a part of her very being and she cannot help but be successful—it is born in her.

WOMEN AS AD MEN

MRS. MAY A. FITZPATRICK

WHEN a moving picture director wishes to show a conference of business executives, he invariably gathers a number of imposing gentlemen (of the golf-course age and breadth of waistcoat) about a well polished and spacious table.

As a matter of fact, a modern assemblage of business executives is not complete without a fair representation of the "gentler sex." The modern "ad man," at least, is usually a woman!

Today in San Francisco and Los Angeles women executives exspend practically all the advertising appropriations of the larger stores. Every kind of business is coming gradually within the scope of the woman advertising manager.

Miss Mary B. Ennis, "ad man" of the Emporium, San Francisco, was one of our first and most picturesque examples of woman's success in the advertising field. Miss Ennis also had the unique distinction of being the first woman director of an Advertising Club in America.

Mrs. B. F. Woerner, formerly of Sacramento, is advertising manager of the White House, Mrs. Georgie Ashford has charge of the City of Paris publicity, Miss Helen Coleman of Magnin's, Miss Louise Norvell of Livingston Bros., Mrs. Gertrude Brady-Murphy of Willard's, Mrs. Allie Harris of O'Connor, Moffatt & Co., Mrs. M. Blynn of H. Liebes & Co., Mrs. Christine Acker of Sterling Furniture Company; Mrs. Emily Harvey of Rosenthal's; and Mrs. E. K. Finch of S. & G. Gump & Co.

In Los Angeles there are nearly half a hundred women advertising writers and many directors. Miss Florence Shindler has written the advertising for Desmond's Men's Furnishing House for a number of years. Mrs. Lulu Eckels and Miss Bayly share the responsibility of Hamburger's Publicity—and, in fact, many other prominent Los Angeles stores, and at least one bank, have placed women in charge of their publicity departments during the last few years.

A successful advertising manager must have thorough knowledge of the basic principles of business—as well as a workable understanding of art, typography, and human nature. The fact that women are proving themselves so well qualified as advertising directors is conclusive evidence that they can and will succeed in any field toward which they may direct their energies.

INSURANCE FOR WOMEN

IT IS a source of satisfaction to progressive women that final recognition of their economic status has been conceded. Life insurance companies, the most conservative of institutions, are now granting them the same protection on which was formerly given to men alone.

This new opportunity for women is coincident with a new situation and new needs. Women of property, for instance, are particularly affected because the State and Federal governments in levying taxes upon estates hold women, as well as men, responsible for large sums, which, unless forthcoming in cash, produce such shrinkages that the entire estate is jeopardized by forced sales. No adequate way has been found by which this situation can be met except through life insurance. The form of insurance best suited for this need, hitherto only procurably by men, can now be secured by women as well.

Business and professional women are other large classes which are especially benefited by the changed attitude of life insurance companies. It is now possible for women to provide for an early retirement with a guaranteed income for the balance of their lives. Furthermore, during the time they are creating this retirement fund, they and their families are protected in case of disability which might shorten their productive years. The outstanding feature of this economic miracle is that it necessitates no expense—only such a budgeting and savings plan as must be included in the program of everyone who aims at success.

Eventually, it will be as unusual for substantial and conservative women to be uninsured as it now is for the same class of men to omit this fundamental provision.

Because women have so recently been considered eligible to all forms of insurance, comparatively few are now informed of the advantages to be gained by its protection. The great problem is, how can the present generation of women be instructed during their insurable years so that they may not be forced to lament too late, "If I had only known!"

WOMEN'S ADVERTISING CLUB

Los Angeles

MRS. LULU ECKELS

THE Women's Advertising Club of Los Angeles is one of the pioneer professional women's clubs of the city. It began in the earlier days of the city's business life with a very small nucleus of members and with the advent of more and more women into the advertising field, the growth of the city and its commercial activities, the club has rapidly expanded. Statistics show that a large percentage of the workers connected with advertising in Los Angeles—directly or indirectly—are women.

Perhaps to a further degree than in other cities, Los Angeles has been extremely generous to women in the unusual branches of advertising. Among the members of the club are women who hold enviable positions as bank publicity advisors—as directors of advertising for churches—as advertising managers of some of the largest specialty and department stores of the city. One of the members was instrumental in compiling statistics of inestimable value regarding the "pulling power" of certain national advertising campaigns for the Carnegie Institute.

Other advertising women have originated and have kept together by their ngenuity and personality "shopping" columns for the various newspapers. One of the country's few advertising agencies composed exclusively of women, is a prosperous and growing concern in Los Angeles. Not only in the way of copy preparation, but also along art lines, women are closely allied to the city's most successful advertising campaigns.

The club's business meetings are held bi-monthly with club dinners once a nonth at which time prominent men and women are speakers.

Many of those who have appeared as speakers before the club are nationally famous in the advertising world and their addresses have been both enlightening and stimulating. The club is on a co-footing with the Men's Advertising Club of Los Angeles. In welcoming famous men and women who come to Los Angeles the two clubs often act as joint host and hostess. Numbering advertising women exclusively as members, the club endeavors in every way to bring before the meetings every factor that will mean the growth of each and every member along advertising lines.

That the San Francisco Soroptimist Club may live as a monument of woman' intelligent service to humanity is my earnest wish. There is but one thing tha could mar the club's future and that is the inactivity of intelligent women, an one of the great factors in its success is a perfect understanding of true service a given in the Golden Rule; All things whatsoever ye would that men should d unto you, do ye even so unto them.

Soroptimist Clubs based on the principals of the Men's Rotary Clubs, hav been formed in various parts of the State. Oakland has a large organization. Lo Angeles now has an organization.

LEADERS IN UNUSUAL VOCATIONS FOR WOMEN

UNUSUAL vocations for women reveal a rare diversity of business enterprises. They acclaim the value of feminine acquisition and point in unmistakable terms to leaders of superlative ability in whatever may be their chosen field. Mrs. Freda Ehmann, president of the Ehmann Olive Company, is pronouncedly one of these leaders. Long ago she led in pioneer olive planting n her district and prepared the way for one of California's best known producing enterprises. Interesting historial references bring to mind the planting of the olive trees by the padres to the ndustrial and commercial importance they now maintain. The olive industry in California from he time of its incipiency to the high development it has now attained contributes interesting data n the history of horticulture. The belief of Mrs. Ehmann in the value of the olive as a commodity, is well as a luxury for the table, has been part of the commercial development of fruits within the he confines of the state. It is, furthermore, the story of a woman's enterprise and business ability.

Women, who of their own elective preference "start something" have a distinctive place in the business work.

Miss California Gibson, or "Miss California" as her neighbors know her, has the full management of the J. S. Gibson Company's half million dollar ranch, three miles northwest of Williams, n Colusa County. She controls a ranch with its section in rice, its model one hundred acre alfalfa ield, its $10,000 machine shop and a herd of 120 registered Holstein-Fresians.

As a girl, Miss Gibson was given broad, social opportunties, but when circumstances placed her n possession of the 2,177 acre property she took full charge of everything connected with it. At he present time the University of California has a representative on the Gibson ranch checking he records of cows in the herd that are under test for prize milk production.

On January 28, 1922, Miss Gibson was appointed a director of the $15,000,000 Glenn-Colusa rrigation District. Her appointment was made by the Board of Supervisors in Colusa County. As one of the three directors Miss Gibson has the great responsibility for the successful management of the 103,000 acres of land in the two counties and the welfare of the towns of Colusa, Willows, Maxwell, Williams, Hamilton and many other smaller villages.

Miss Annie M. Alexander and Miss Kellogg comprise the firm of Alexander & Kellogg, Suisun, nd own one of the finest herd of Dairy Shorthorn cattle in California, and one of the finest in the United States. Miss Alexander is a sister of Wallace M. Alexander of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The Alexander & Kellogg place is on one of the islands near Suisun.

Mrs. Harry V. Bridgford, wife of Harry Bridgford of the Bridgford Holstein Company of Patterson, California, is one of the most expert pedigree students in California. Mrs. Bridgford is also a breeder of Kentucky saddle horses. Mrs. Julia Shafter Hamilton, of Point Reyes, is one of the foremost Ayrshire (dairy cattle) breeders and fanciers in the state. Her herd is one of the largest n California. Miss Mary Holdridge, of San Jose, is a widely known breeder of Holstein-Fresian (dairy) cattle. Mrs. Mario Fortini is an owner of Jersey cattle. She is known as a Jersey expert and has set her aim in the direction of the American or large type of Jerseys, rather than the original Island type. Mrs. Annie Donders, Fresno, has one of the best herds of Holstein-Fresian cattle in San Joaquin Valley. Miss Annie Wood is one of the noted breeders of Toggenburg goats in California. Her place is at Pasadena.

Mrs. Lindley is the active head of Lindley & Company, wholesale grocers of Sacramento. She was on the city council of Sacramento. Mrs. R. L. Craig was for years head of the wholesale grocery house of R. L. Craig & Company of Los Angeles.

The pigeon business is a novel occupation followed by a woman who started with a one-acre ranch between the two canyons at the foot of Mt. Lowe in the suburbs of Pasadena. Her business has grown from a flock of thirty six pigeons to one numbering practically four thousand. She started n with the Homer pigeon. Then later began to supply squabs for the Pullman Company and large hotels.

Up in the high Sierras, in the town of Truckee, near Lake Tahoe, is a Butterfly Farm managed nd directed entirely by a woman known as "The Butterfly Girl."

So far as is known, there are few people in America, except scientists, who attempt to raise and breed butterflies for the market. It remained for Miss Ximena McGlashan, a California girl, to catch the winged jewels and to start a farm for raising butterflies. During her first experience of ten weeks, Miss McGlashan cleared $500 raising and selling butterflies. That was several years ago. Since then she has correspondents all over this country and in Europe. As for her markets, a scientist of world-wide reputation takes everything she can raise or catch paying a flat sum for every specimen.

"No capital is required," says this original girl. "The work is interesting and so light that a child can do every part of it, and there are millions of dollars in the business."

From butterfly farm to the banking world is a flight, but in the amount of human energy and thought expended the vocations are not, after all, so variant. For the banking world holds out to women the same opportunity for concentrated work, and calls upon the faculties for practically the same kind of devotion, that of intelligent application and the feminine point of view.

Foremost in the banking world stands the name of that pioneer in the woman's sphere—Mrs. Phebe M. Rideout. Her grasp of finance surpassed the understanding of her time.

In writing of banking Mrs. Rideout once said: "Although banking is not an occupation for which women are especially fitted, there are of course among women, as among men, persons who either start with natural ability in financial matters, or fall heir to responsibilities which they must learn to carry, and carry successfully. Banking as a profession, it is needless to say, contains great interest and fascination."

Mrs. Rideout, a director in a number of banks in California, succeeded her late husband in the varied business interests in which he was engaged during the formative period of California's commercial and banking industries.

Many of California's capable women are now successfully engaged in the business of banking in the capacity of assistant cashiers, heads of the woman's departments, secretaries, or in the other departments formerly filled exclusively by men. In San Francisco, the women in the banking world in the several departments include, in alphabetical order, Miss A. M. Alexander, Bank of California; Miss Gladys M. Adams, Bank of Italy; Margaret P. Beetz, Mertantile Trust Company; Miss M. A. Cairns, Merchants' Trust Company; Miss Anne Featherstone, Liberty Bank; Mrs. E. D. Knight, Bank of Italy; Miss Caroline Nunlist, Bond Department Union Savings Branch of the Mercantile Trust Company; Miss Hulda B. Pass, Anglo-California Trust Company; Miss Alice A. Wright, First National Bank.

In an article written by Miss Bessie Beatty, she has described a "Woman Behind Magic Initials," in this way: "Gilt-lettered upon the doors of half a dozen handsome offices in the Russ Building is the same inscription M. V. B. MacAdam Co., Inc., Real Estate, Insurance, Loans.

"The signs give no hint of the identity of M. V. B. MacAdam, and so far as the imposing steel safe in the outer office and the metal Real Estate Board Membership card hanging on the letter file, will tell you, M. V. B. MacAdam might be exactly like any other business man on Montgomery Street.

"But she isn't. She is a woman."

The MacAdam Company, today, has offices in the Holbrook Building with a peninsula branch office under the management of Mr. Harry Francis Davis. Mrs. MacAdam is a member of an old New York family. Her name was Victoria Brocklebank. She knew nothing of business life when she first came to California on a pleasure trip in 1900. She is a member of the exclusive organization of Colonial Dames and of the Daughters of the American Revolution. By lineal descent she is a member of the Society of the Nobility ("Societe de Noblesse"). She is the only woman member of the San Francisco Real Estate Board and the only active member of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Jean Hudson, unofficially a sergeant-major, now stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco, is the only women field clerk in the United States army.

An interesting story is told of Mrs. Elizabeth Church, well known for her charming home portraitures of society leaders, debutantes and Mardi Gras queens.

It seems that she took a vacation trip from her post as society editor of the Honolulu Evening Bulletin to visit San Francisco. The San Francisco Chronicle immediately engaged her services to assist in editing the society columns. While meeting the fashionable women of San Francisco and posing them for their pictures, her talent for portraiture work was discovered and she opened a fascinating studio in the building formerly occupied by the Francisca Club. Her business is now an acknowledged success.

Among the women publishers of California are a number of straight-thinking women. Many of them are writers on the staff of the dailies, and are publishing books, magazines and newspapers.

Alice Harriman, of the Pacific Coast, now of Los Angeles stands out conspicuously as the first woman to take up the business of book publication. She started on a very small scale and then went to New York City where her name as a book publisher became known from coast to coast. Mrs. Harriman is of the feminine type combining charm of personality and business ability.

Women in the newspaper business as publishers and editors in California, include: Mrs. S. S Boynton, president of the Register Company, Oroville "Register" daily; Mrs. Edythe Dungan, editor and publisher of the Oroville "Mercury" daily; Mary Schillinger, editor and publisher of the Colfax "Record"; Mrs. W. S. Green, editor of the Colusa "Sun" daily; Miss Catherine Burke, editor and publisher of the Concord "Transcript"; Mrs. Katherine Tingley, editor and publisher of the "Theosophical Path," Pt. Loma; Mrs. George A. Oakes, publisher of the Hayward "Journal"; Elizabeth R. Douglas, editor and publisher of the Mill Valley "Record"; Dorothy D. Lawrence, editor of the Paso Robles "Press"; Etta Dittman, editor of the Reedley "Ledger"; Verna Gates Hosfeldt, editor of the Rialto "Record"; Misses Downing, editors and publishers of the Santa Clara "Journal"; Susie Piersen Mitchell, editor and publisher of the "Veteran Enterprise" Sawtelle; Miss Ethel G. McDaniels, editor and publisher of the Templeton "Advance"; Miss Z. Clements and Miss L. Palmer, editors of "The Business Woman," and Jessica Lee Briggs, associate editor; Mrs. Lucille Lapachet, publisher; and Mrs. Z. Kathleen Ayers, advertising manager. "The Business Woman."

Many noteworthy activities are launched by women whose projects are founded on historical, legendary, practical or altruistic ideals. The wide scope of feminine endeavor meets the challenge of the philosopher who said: "Whoever knows woman knows the fabric of miracles."

ONE of the newest of the women's organizations in California was formed during the Bankers' Convention at Del Monte, May, 1922, the nucleus of the new society being part of the research work followed by California women of prominence in the world of literature, geology and in historical attainment.

Eventually there will be a representative of the society in every county and city of northern California. It is intended to co-operate closely with the Lassen Volcanic National Park Association in making the wonders of the volcanic area known throughout the world. To do this effectively the Landmarks Department of the State Federation of Women's Clubs will be asked to assist and so will the Native Daughters of the Golden West, the Automobile, the Hotel and Good Roads Associations. It is planned to have a series of talks given, both with and without illustrations, before the various women's organizations. In short, a campaign in education very much needed to make the average Californian familiar with the fascinating history of our volcanic territory. The well educated and traveled native-born knows not only the geographical features of Mt. Vesuvius and Kilauea, but their myth, their legends, and local stories. Many of these same people however, are profoundly ignorant of the scenic values of Mt. Lassen. This situation is neither to our credit nor our profit. The society just formed will make a determined effort to rectify this error and to place before the peoples of the world—something historical and geographical concerning our own wonderful California mountain whose volcanic eruptions have incited the interest of the world.

Within the past few years, Mt. Lassen has aroused universal concern among scientists, geologists and students of the relative sciences, because of the eruptions of Mt. Lassen.

The cry: "Mt. Lassen is in action!" spread like the molten fire which poured from the mouth of the crater, from city to city, throughout the entire civilized world. Many famous scientists hastened to the cities in the Mt. Lassen district. The world at large was interested, for the mountain which had for years and years been inert, suddenly burst into flowing fire, its hot black lava spreading over the surrounding lands and instilling something strange into the very atmosphere.

The women of California have long been interested in the scientific causes of volvanic eruptions and when Mt. Lassen, the "picturesque Mt. Lassen" suddenly burst into action there was a new note in the very air. It was my special privilege to see Mt. Lassen in action—and I never expect to see anything more imposing or mystifying. It was a realization of my dream come true, for I had always said that this mountain was a sleeping volcano which would some day awake. It did, and the sight of it was marvelous.

Our school children should know more about this great California volcano. It is by far more wonderful in its historical and geological values than any other active volcano in the world, today.

MRS. FREDERICK H. COLBURN.

THE Presidents' Assembly, "The Alumnae of Clubs," so called by one of the founders, is an organization of club executives. All of the members are presidents or past presidents, not only of San Francisco and the bay cities, but of other clubs throughout the state.

Miss Christine Hart was the first president. Mrs. Harold Lawrence Seager carried the Presidents' Assembly through war times and has been one of the most efficient leaders.

The splendid programs presented under the auspices of the Presidents' Assembly Friday evenings at the Presidio Y. M. C. A. Building during two years of war times, have been rated as perhaps the best contributed by any one organization in the United States. This service has been continued since last September under the chairmanship of Mrs. A. W. Scott.

Many a mother, sister, and sweetheart of boys in Letterman Hospital found cozy and attractive the artistic sitting room furnished by the Assembly at the New Outside Inn, where they were domiciled during their stay in San Francisco. The writing room in the new Y.W.C.A. quarters was also furnished by the Assembly.

Contributions are made to the Travelers' Aid, Alice Frederick Memorial Fund, Maintenance Fund of the Palace of Fine Arts, and to the Near East Relief. Our local homeless children have in different ways been made happier through the generosity of the Presidents' Assembly.

Mrs. Louis Hertz, the president from 1918 to 1919, was supported by a staff including: Mrs. Harold Lawrence eager, Mrs. Helen Ladd, Mrs. M. O. Austin, Miss Eleanor Grace Unger, Mrs. Josephine Wilson, d Mrs. Charles Wright.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN

MRS. JULES KAUFFMAN

THE Council of Jewish Women was organized at Chicago in 1893 at the World's Fair. The inspiration came from the call that had been sent to all countries to participate in a World's Parliament of Religions at the World's Fair. It was resolved on this occasion to arouse the interest of women in a congress of Jewish Women, and it was through this assembly that the Council of Jewish Women was called into being at the present time, nine National Committees, one Department, six National Committees, one Special Standing Committee, and two Special Committees, are associated with the National officers in directing the various phases of the Council's program.

The National Council now numbers one hundred and seventy-seven sections with approximately forty-five thousand members. The International activities of the Council have shown most excellent results. The Department of Immigrant Aid has been invaluable in cases requiring international co-operation and in its activities at Ellis Island.

The Los Angeles Section of the Council of Jewish Women, now numbering seven hundred and thirty members, was organized in 1909. It has formed its organization in harmony with the National body electing its own officers, appointing its own committees and conducting its own local work, in addition to its co-operation in national undertakings. The following Committees are now carrying on the work of the local section:

Religion—Promoting interest in Judaism.

Religious Schools—Organizing Religious Schools.

Social Welfare—Contributing to the support of philanthropic institutions and social welfare organizations.

Immigrant Aid—Co-operating with National Department and extending assistance to all unprotected women.

Education—Establishing clubs, study circles, classes in parliamentary practice; has established a Scholarship.

We have sub-committees on: Purity of Press, Students' Welfare, Hospital Visiting, Juvenile Court Work, Soldiers' Welfare, Jewish War Orphans.

The Junior Council an Auxiliary of the Senior Section, has an enrollment of seventy-eight members, Mrs. Ethel Tyroler, president. Monthly general meetings are held when programs of the high order are presented. There is but one motive that animates the spirit of every Council member today. It is the thought that has inspired the earnest and consecrated labors of Israel's noblest men and women: "The day is short; the work is great."

Though it is not incumbent upon us to complete the task, it is our sacred and joyous privilege to advance it. The greatest glories that can adorn the souls of our women are the blossoming fruits of "faith and humanity."

President.

MRS. D. C. HEGER

IN FEBRUARY, 1918, at the residence of Miss Mary Louise Phelan, 2150 Washington Street, forty-five women assembled to organize a club for Catholic women.

The club was named the San Francisco Council of Catholic Women. Its purpose is a development of literary and artistic tastes among the members with special attention to the achievements of the Catholic Church; also, the acquiring of general information on current events.

Miss Phelan offered the ballroom of her residence as a temporary meeting place for the new organization. This offer was gratefully accepted and the club continued to hold both business and social functions in Miss Phelan's ballroom until October 1919 when the fourth floor at 233 Grant Avenue was leased for a term of years. This floor has been entirely remodeled and attractively furnished and is the present home of the San Francisco Council.

To the interest and generosity of Miss Phelan, honorary president, is greatly due the success of the organization.

Mrs. A. Comte Jr., was elected first president and served with marked success during the first two years of the club's life. During her administration the club was thoroughly organized and placed on a permanent foundation. Mrs. W. J. Ruddick was elected third president assuming responsibility in June, 1921.

Mrs. D. C. Heger was elected second president and served for two years. During Mrs. Heger's administration the club acquired the present handsome home at 233 Grant Avenue and the membership was increased from one hundred and ten to two hundred and twenty.

Mrs. Garret McEnerney, who was elected to the presidency of the Council of Catholic Women at the annual May meeting, is one of the best known San Francisco women in literary, musical, philanthropic and society circles. Mrs. McEnerney is supported by the following staff of women: Honorary president, Miss Mary Louise Phelan; first vice-president, Mrs. D. C. Heger; second vice-president, Mrs. Wm. THE Catholic Professional Women's Club of San Francisco was founded in the year 1909 under the patronage of the late beloved Archbishop, Patrick W. Riordan. With his guidance and with the advice of a group of prominent citizens, headed by Mr. Richard E. Queen, a number of Catholic women met at the Cathedral residence and formed the organization with the central idea of bringing together the Catholic women graduates of Universities and Normal Schools who were engaged in the professional life of San Francisco, so that they might continue their cultural studies along Catholic lines and form closer bonds for mutual improvement.

At the same time all Catholic women students of Universities and Normal Schools who were residents of San Francisco were invited to join, thus giving the students the friendship of women already at work in the fields which, later, would be theirs.

The work of organization grew slowly and carefully because it was meant to be a permanent growth which must test every step of the way and prove the merit of its existence.

It has gone steadily along in its progress and holds in its membership, the active professional women, as the Catholic writer, artist, physician, teacher, nurse, attorney or social worker. These women are part of the constructive social life of San Francisco and live in the busy world. Their professional club is the Catholic haven to which they go for rest and inspiration. It holds up to them the Catholic ideal in daily life.

The club is unique in its idea of membership strictly on professional lines but that definite idea has proven to be its strength in bringing together Catholic professional women at hours convenient to their arduous duties, enabling them to discuss and to give concerted help to works needing professional guidance. The club stands ready to do its part in the constructive social work of the day.

TEMPLE EMANU-EL GUILD

San Francisco

MRS. HENRY SAHLEIN

THE purpose of this organization is to assist in the promotion and welfare of Temple Eman-El, particularly by developing a spirit of fellowship among the members of the congregation and by serving as an active auxiliary.

Eligible to membership in the Temple Emanu-El Guild are women members of the congregation, women employees and women relatives of members—women not affiliated with any other congregation or other auxiliaries.

The Guild has been organized but four years and has a membership approximating five hundred.

It is a member of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, the principal work of which is to advance the Hebrew Union College situated in Cincinnati, where the rabbis occupying the pulpits of the reformed synagogues throughout the country are educated.

One of the principal activities of the Guild, composing the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, is to raise scholarships to help students through a nine years course of study.

At present this Guild is campaigning for the quota to be raised for a fund to be devoted toward the building of a dormitory on the campus at Cincinnati. In fact, all the activities are sectarian, making every effort to guard against duplication of the work of other local organizations.

MRS. HENRY SAHLEIN,
President.

EMANU-EL SISTERHOOD

EMANU-EL Sisterhood—a world of sisterly tenderness and consideration encompasses the Emanu-El Sisterhood.

Miss Ethel Feineman, the head worker of the Sisterhood, is a young woman of efficient executive ability, keen intelligence, and warm sympathies, whose understanding has increased the great social work carried on there as a great upbuilding force for the womanhood of the community.

The Emanu-El Sisterhood house at 1057 Steiner Street accommodates thirty-five working girls of the Jewish faith, with the addition of the cottage across the street used as an annex. But there is always a long waiting list of girls, and the present building does not meet the demands. So, a new structure is being erected on Page and Laguna Streets. This new building will be one of the most modern buildings of its kind and will accommodate sixty girls.

Once a year during the Succoth Festival, a pageant is presented by the Emanu-El Sisterhood with hundreds of girls in the cast. This pageant carries a message of biblical teachings, talented young women essaying the roles with skill and reverence. During the vacation summer season, the Emanu-El Sisterhood maintains a cottage in Larkspur. All of the girls living at the Sisterhood house pay their board, pay their other individual expenses and maintain a self-supporting attitude, generally. The Sisterhood is an Auxiliary of the Federation of Jewish Charities.

MRS. JULIUS L. BAER

TWENTY-ONE years ago three hundred women assembled in the auditorium of the Old Temple Emanu-El to hear Miss Sadie American explain the aims, hopes, and purposes of the Council of Jewish Women. Today, the San Francisco section numbers one thousand two hundred and fifty.

This increase in membership, according to the historian, Mrs. Hattie Neumann, may justly be attributed to the presidents, who through their executive ability and constructive foresight, have helped build the Council up to its present standard. These presidents include: Mrs. Max C. Sloss, Mrs. Andrew Davis, Mrs. Louis Hertz, Miss Evelyn Aronson, Mrs. D. S. Hirschberg, Mrs. J. C. Levy, Mrs. Myer Friedman, Mrs. Frank Neumann, Miss Ada Goldsmith, Mrs. Henry Sahlein, Mrs. I. R. Kissel, Mrs. Samuel Langer, Mrs. S. S. Kahn, and Mrs. Julius Baer.

The most important work is Americanization classes, conducted by Mrs. Newmark. Other important divisions of our activities are: Immigrant Aid, conducted by Mrs. Max C. Sloss and her committee; Social Welfare, supervised by Mrs. J. L. Goodday and her large committee. This department includes clinical care of crippled children, the deaf and hard of hearing; providing relief mothers for the Pacific Hebrew Orphanage, and sewing and mending mothers; dispersing a Memorial Fund as a loan to Jewish girls following a business course of study; supplying milk to three hundred under-weight children in the John Swett and Henry Durant Schools; sending books to institutions; Good Cheer packages to Jewish inmates of the State Institution; furnishing relief for the blind in the State Institution; and co-operating for the advancement of handicapped children in the public schools, as well as working with the Tuberculosis Association.

Do you know that the National Council of Jewish Women received Government recognition, and was the only organization permitted to work at Ellis Island during the war? Do you know that during the Panama-Pacific International Exposition we received the Gold Medal and Blue Ribbon for our work in Social Economy?

Do you know what the San Francisco Council has done?

Do you know:

That we are actively carrying on Americanization work at the Y. M. H. A. Building, Haight Street?

That we were the first organization in San Francisco to support a home visiting teacher—work now taken over by the Board of Education?

That we had an active worker for Immigration Aid at this port for a number of years?

That the Red Cross work done by this Section ranked highest in quality and in quantity?.

That we established a neighborhood house on San Bruno Avenue and conducted it successfully for ten years—work now taken over by the San Bruno Community House?

That we are affiliated with civic organizations in San Francisco and co-operate whenever a need arises?

That we give financial support to many local philanthropic organizations?

Our Motto—"Faith and Humanity."

ALTHOUGH the year 1921-22 marks only the sixth year of its existence this club has a membership of about eight hundred with an auxiliary of one hundred and twenty-five young girls. We have eleven different departments, Citizenship, Current topics, Dramatic, French, History and Landmarks, Italian, Literature, Music, Parliamentary Law, Public Welfare and Philanthrophy.

We have a splendid building site, bought and paid for, and by the close of the year will have twelve thousand dollars in our building fund.

We made the largest contribution of garments to the Needlework Guild of any single club in Los Angeles and our sale of Red Cross memberships was most gratifying. We maintain a twenty-five dollar membership in the Los Angeles Musical Settlement and along philanthrophic lines try to do our bit in contributing to all worthy causes and do much immediate relief work.

Resolutions favoring disarmament and world-peace were adopted and sent to President Harding and Secretary Hughes, chairman of the Disarmament Conference.

We publish a splendid monthly bulletin containing valueable federation news, articles of interest to women, our programs and club news.

We meet every first and third Wednesday at the Knights of Columbus Auditorium, 612 South Flower Street, when splendid musical and literary programs are presented. We try to have as many good speakers appear as we can to keep us in touch with the worth-while activities that are going on about us.

Each year our music section gives a big concert which yields in the neighborhood of two thousand dollars. This year our Christmas sale netted eighteen hundred and seventy-five dollars.

Last year our social service committee expended seven hundred and seventy-five dollars. Four hundred and twenty eight garments were distributed and twelve hundred seventy-seven visits were made to the jail and to the sick.

THE San Francisco Housewives' League has enrolled many prominent suffrage workers, some of them being California pioneers in the campaign for State suffrage and national figures in the struggle for enfranchisement.

All of the Housewives' League members are as proud of their ability to cook as they are of their leadership work or other achievements. Mrs. Ida Finney Mackrille, known as the "Woman Orator of the West," is one of the chief bread-making members. Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, prominent among the University women of California, and a past president of the San Francisco Center of the California Civic League of Women Voters is one of the brilliant members whose pride is first and foremost, a well-ordered home. All of the women of the San Francisco Housewives' League are active in creating renewed desires for the culinary art among club women. Recipes and economic measures are topics of discussion taking precedence over other considerations, whenever the Housewives' League hold their sessions.

At many of their luncheons zest is added to their studies and practical demonstrations by the test of minimum prices for meals. Oftimes, the number of dishes, according to caloric values, are in accord with a system of securing a palatable meal for the least expenditure. Luncheons given on these occasions when lawyers, doctors, society and club women congregate to test the cooking of confreres, are quite the smartest events in local club circles.

Meetings are held in the California Club building, at 1750 Clay Street, where kitchen facilities make it easy for housewives to convince guests of their art in preparing and in serving meals best suited for the purse or the taste of the individual.

Mrs. Andrew Neuenberg, president of the Housewives' League, was campaign manager for Margaret Mary Morgan, the first woman supervisor of San Francisco.

Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, honorary vice-president of the Housewives' League of San Francisco, former United States Attorney of San Francisco and Assistant United States Attorney-General, is well known among her intimate friends for the excellence of her biscuits. Mrs. Suzanna Bolles, second vice-president of the San Francisco Housewives' League is a practicing attorney, of San Francisco.

JUVENILE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

The Juvenile Protective Association has a work to do which no other organization seems to be able to master. This is due to the fact that men and women trained for the part they essay in protective work among the young men and the young women know exactly what methods to follow in coping with juvenile digressions .

To protect the youth is a purpose of the Association. For that purpose are they banded together and when they meet they discuss the best means for combating those evils which assail every normal boy or girl, unless home influences or early training have safeguarded them.

The officers of the Juvenile Protective Association are among the best known citizens of the community. The workers are well known in point of directness and purpose.

"To be a friend of the boy, is to gain his confidence; to merit the confidence of a girl is to be her friend."

Miss Julia George is the president of the Juvenile Protective Association. Mrs. William L. Hyman is the first vice-president; Mrs. Paul Downing is the second vice-president; and Miss May F. Hallet, the secretary, has served in this official capacity over a period of many years. Offices are maintained in the Phelan Building where information on all matters pertaining to the Juvenile Protective work is available.

WOMAN'S VIGILANT COMMITTEE

DR. MARIANA BERTOLA

WHEN, at a time in the annals of civic history, the hearts of San Francisco mothers were touched with sorrowing pity and their dignities aroused over outrages committed by a number of gangsters, there arose in the community a concerted group of women determined to protect the young girls of the community. Like the Vigilant Committee of early days, these women, were assembled with haste, determined to find out ways and means for the prevention of similar things.

This committee of women led by the valiant leader, Dr. Mariana Bertola, met in the assembly hall of the Phelan Building, November, 1921, and then and there formed themselves into a Woman's Vigilant Committee.

Keeping vigilance was but one phase of their noble work. Protecting young girls, with the strong hope and ardent zeal of preventing the repetition of any such blot on the escutcheons of the city, prompted their gatherings.

After a time, the meetings so grew in interest and size, that larger quarters were necessary. So the California Club at 1750 Clay Street was offered to them and there the Woman's Vigilant Committee meet, as they have for many months past.

All of the meetings are devoted to careful consideration of each case or circumstance as the various sub-committees report. All of the considerations are weighed in tender concern with authentic deliberations and advices from those in authority as the most efficient means of meeting each situation. Whatever touches the life of the girl or the boy, whatever enters into the home-life of the community, whatever affects the welfare of the commonwealth, in a civic, a social or a moral way—these engage the strict attention of the Woman's Vigilant Committee.

BERTOLA ASSEMBLY OF CALIFORNIA WOMEN

THE Bertola Assembly of California Women was founded by Mrs. Emma R. O'Donnell. In tribute to Dr. Mariana Bertola, past-grand president of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, this organization of California women was named by the founder. Mrs. M. Lawrence Nelson is president of the Bertola Assembly of California, Mrs. George Springer is the treasurer; Mrs. John Boege, recording secretary and Mrs. William H. Urmy is the corresponding secretary.

Prominent members include Mrs. Stephen Simmons, Mrs. Ella Lees Leigh, Mrs. Isabelle Pomeroy, Mrs. E. J. Wales, Mrs. Stanley Vernon Wilson, Mrs. I. A. Schlarlin, Mrs. H. Bloom, Mrs. C. E. Goss, Mrs. E. Parrish, Mrs. E. J. Barton, Mrs. Mary Coghlan, Mrs. Cordes. Mrs. William Harold Wilson is an honorary member.

Meetings are held at the Native Sons' Building, 414 Mason Street. Subjects like American Citizenship are discussed under such leaders as Mrs. E. J. Wales, of the San Francisco District Federation, and kindred themes by other women of state prominence and community interests form the motif of the interesting days devoted to historical and geographical studies.

MISS MARGARET MIRIAM KRSAK

AMERICAN ideals, and everything pertaining to the moral and material benefit of the community are purposes on which the Czecho-Slovak Women's Club major in their collective work.

Our women are women of the home whose first duty is toward the upbuilding of the home as the safe-guard of the nation. We teach our women of the younger generation some of the ideals inculcated in our national and community life. We aim toward that perquisite as essential to our development.

Many of our women are expert needleworkers and, on various occasions, exhibits of their work have been given.

One of the principal aims of the club is to bring all the Czecho-Slovak women of San Francisco and the Bay counties together that they may co-operate with the other women's clubs in movements for civic improvement. It is also the aim of the club to create a better understanding between the American-born and the Czecho-Slovak women by an interchange of what is best in art, music, literature, history and the economic and commercial development of both countries.

The Czecho-Slovak Women's Club was organized in 1920 at a meeting held at the Fairmont Hotel, May 24, ten charter members forming the membership enrollment.

MARGARET MIRIAM KRSAK.

MRS. Myer Friedman, one of the presidents of the Philomath Club gave a comprehensive report to the City Federation during her term of office in which she defined, at that time, the work of the Philomath Club. This excellent report is quoted, in part, as follows: In 1894, Mrs. Isadore Lowenberg, assisted by Mesdames Helen Hecht, A. S. Bettleheim, William Haas, J. H. Neustadter, Charles L. Ackerman, Moses Heller, S. Nickelsburg, and Mrs. H. Anspacher-Meyers, organized the Philomath Club. Its object was "to encourage literary and educational pursuits and to promote civic ideals." A broad and comprehensive platform twenty-six years ago, it is still big enough to carry the widening activities of a new generation.

The keynote during recent years has been Service and Philomath Club gave of itself without stint. The splendid Red Cross Auxiliary sent many hundreds, yes thousands of garments to Red Cross headquarters.

The first recipient of Philomath Club's eighth grade scholarship is self-supporting and since then other girls have been put through high school. Americanization work has been a great factor for Philomath activity through all the administrations. The club adopted a number of French orphans.

To cultural aims Philomath has contributed carefully planned programs; momentary aid to its library fund, to the Public Educational Society, and to many other worthy projects, always with the purpose and the principles of Philomath primarily behind the work. The Mary Prag Scholarship, the Roosevelt Memorial Fund, the Alice Fredericks Memorial Fund, Korean Relief, the Palestinian Supply Committee, the Edith Cavell and Marie de Page Hospital of Belgium, the Near East Relief, Palestinian Restoration Fund, the International Longfellow Society, have received the support of Philomath Club. Six members volunteered for service on Dr. Anne Nicholson's Americanization Court Committee. Its bi-monthly programs touched on topics of live interest, music, drama, and politics. Philomath is a member of The Recreation League and is interested in movements of social and communal concern.

New officers of the Philomath Club elected at the annual meeting, May, 1922, following the administration of Mrs. Richard Newman and her executive staff include the following: Mrs. Charles Schlesinger, president; Mrs. William L. Hyman, first vice-president; Mrs. Samuel Hirschfelder, second vice-president; Mrs. Joseph I. Cahen, business secretary; Miss Anita Levy, recording secretary; Mrs. Max Blumlein, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Benjamin Arnhold, Mrs. Oscar Hoffman, Mrs. Julius Feigenbaum, Mrs. H. G. W. Dinkelspiel, directors; and Mrs. Julius Kahn, Mrs. Caspar Rosenheim, and Miss Rebecca Godchaux, honorary members.

THE Three Arts Club of Los Angeles, like those of Paris, London, New York, Cincinnati and Chicago, has for its object the promotion of artistic opportunities for young students of music, painting, the drama and kindred arts; and to provide a home and clubhouse for members.

Following a year's work devoted to the creation of an interest in the idea of a Three Arts Club for our city, which is rapidly becoming an art center, and to obtain memberships, we were able to undertake a residence. In July we moved into our present quarters, 1001 West Washington Street.

We have had in residence, during this first year, twenty students from seven states including our own. The arts of music, painting and the drama are about equally represented.

Resident students are under the supervision of a capable, sympathetic house director. This plan insures for the students an attractive home life, opportunity to entertain friends, and fosters helpful suggestions and encouragement in their work.

In addition to the resident members we have a large non-resident student membership. These have all the privileges of the club. The Sunday afternoon teas and programs, as well as concerts, plays and lectures for which tickets are sent in by friends of the club.

The Sunday afternoon programs are arranged with special attention to students' studies in their respective lines of work, and fosters inspiration gained from contact with those who are "on their way," or who have "arrived."

The Board of Directors is convinced that this initial year has proved the necessity for providing a safe home and artistic environment for young women who, coming to this art center in pursuit of their studies, look forward to owning their own clubhouse where a larger number of students may find home influence amid the joy of group-life.

UNIVERSITY MOTHERS' CLUB

MOTHERS of students at the University of California, Berkeley, comprise the personnel of this mothers' club, the first one of its kind to be formed in America according to our authentic information.

As the enrollment of students at the University of California has been, at many of the college semesters the largest in this country, peculiar attachment is noted in the membership enrollment. Then, too, as a great number of students come from distances, many, in fact from various parts of the nation, many from foreign lands, their mothers affiliated with the University Mothers' Club form a great chain of federation, the length and breadth of which can hardly be encompassed in roster form.

Many of the mothers meet under the great influence of college life. Some of these mothers take special courses of study and others of them enter into the college activities through channels alloted to parenthood. Thus is maintained and sustained a club of mothers and students of distinction.

At the Claremont Hotel, recently, a new staff of officers was elected, the occasion being a delightful luncheon on the sun veranda of the Claremont amid flowering roses and other fragrant blossoms. Tribute was paid at this time to the influence of the late Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst. Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt was the speaker of the day and Lucy Ward Stebbins, Dean of Women, University of California, was an honor guest.

Mrs. Josephine B. Perry is president of the University Mothers' Club. Other officers are: Mrs. Finlay Cook, first vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Richards, second vice-president; Mrs. Agnes Weatherby, third-vice-president; Mrs. D. T. Duel, recording secretary; Mrs. P. W. Dunyon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. R. Drake, treasurer; Mrs. W. H. Berteaux, financial secretary; Mrs. L. Van Haren, assistant financial secretary; Mrs. J. M. Brown, custodian of Pins; Mrs. E. M. Elliott, press correspondent

"THE SPINNERS"

"What art so deep, what science so high,
But worthy women have thereto attained?
Who list in stories old to look may try,

"THE SPINNERS" is a club of women writers, musicians, literary leaders and women of extensive reading and travel. The club was organized in San Francisco by Miss Sara Dean, her idea being to assemble young women working along artistic lines who would be willing to present the work they were doing to fellow workers for criticism and for encouragement. The first officers were: Miss Sara Dean, president; Mrs. Frank Powers, vice-president; Miss Millicent Cosgrove, secretary; Miss Ednah Robinson, treasurer. Prominent women among the members were: Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Mrs. Mark Gerstle, Mrs. Robert Forsythe, Mrs. Henry St. Goar, Mrs. Lola Sleuth, Miss Alice Chittenden, Mrs. Carmichael Carr, Miss Ina Coolbrith, Miss Helen Hyde, Miss Mabel Gross, Miss Eleanor Morgan, Mrs. Ernest Simpson, Mrs. Reginald Knight Smith, Mrs. E. W. Stebbins, Mrs. Russell Selfridge, Mrs. Charles Sawyer, Miss Maude Wellendorff, Mrs. William R. Wheeler, Mrs. Conrad Weil, Mrs. Clarence Wetmore, Mrs. R. A. Wilson, Miss Marie Withrow, Miss Evelyn Withrow, Miss Netterville, Mrs. Warren Wilken, Eleanore Gates Moore. Geraldine Bonner was one of the first members. The most recent event of The Spinners was given at the Fairmont Hotel on Thursday, February 9, 1922, in compliment to Miss Sara Dean, the founder. Mrs. Mark Gerstle, the president, presided Mrs. A. E. Graupner, the treasurer, assisted.

"Give the people plenty of cultural things and there need be no dearth of attainment; supply a community with plenty of beauty and evil will vanish from their sight."

Philosophy of this nature is radiated by women representing the arts. Mrs. Josephine Swan White, of Oakland, with her classical cantillations; Miss Ida May Bradley, Oakland; Mrs. Oscar Maillard Bennett, Berkeley; Miss Mae Frances O'Keeffe, Miss Ethel Cotton, San Francisco; Mrs. Minna McGauley, of Fruitvale, contemporaneous exponents of the beauty of the spoken word; Mrs. Bradford Woodbridge, Roseville, who has sponsored splendid musicales; and Miss Alice Seckels, who has originated "matinee musicales," throughout the entire state with world-famous artists programmed; and Miss Marie Hughes MacQuarrie, harpist—are among the women whose appreciation of cultural things is evidenced by their general dissemination of music, literature and kindred arts in rural, as well as in urban communities.

IN THE NURSING PROFESSION

This "historic class of the Army School of Nursing" were given their valuable diplomas on July 14, 1921. It was the first group of nurses that has ever been trained under governmental control and the only class that has ever been a part of a training school which is connected with the army. This group and this event can never be duplicated, according to Major Julia C. Stimson, superintendent of the Army Nurse Corps and dean of the Army School of Nursing. Miss Annie K. Goodrich was the organizer of the Army School of Nursing and the first dean of the school. Miss Goodrich went back to her former position as assistant professor in the department of Nursing and Health at Columbia University, as soon as the nurses received their diplomas.

Scholarships established by the Red Cross to enable nurses to continue special lines of study for a year were awarded at the ceremonies of the Letterman Hospital graduation to Eudora C. Dickason, and to Louise Hast Bruce.

Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Colonel James M. Kennedy, the commanding officer at the Letterman General Hospital, and Mrs. A. H. Flash, chief nurse, were among the prominent women who participated in the memorable ceremonies.

With one year's service as a member of the Army Nurse Corps during the world war to her credit, Miss Marian A. Hill, of Oakland, is the first veteran in the State of California to receive the benefits of the California Home and Land Act. Enlisting in the Army Nurse Corps from Merced near her birthplace, on July 5, 1918, Miss Hill served one year and fifteen days at Ft. Douglas, Arizona. Miss Hill received her home during the month of July, 1922.

Miss Julia Hinkle, director of instruction, San Francisco Chapter, American Red Cross, was one of the head instructors during the training of nurses on Presidio grounds. During that time several hundred women from San Francisco, Oakland, San Mateo and adjacent cities took the full course of training and were given their certificates for nurses' aide.

In her report of the San Francisco Chapter, American National Red Cross work as carried on in the Civic Auditorium building of the Red Cross, Miss Julia Hinkle has prepared a brief outline for "Who's Who Among the Women of California" as follows:

On March 30, 1917, the San Francisco Chapter of the American Red Cross opened class rooms at 278 Post Street to teach First Aid and Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick. Because of the large number of doctors and nurses volunteering for war service, it was essential that women be taught to meet emergencies, and to care for the sick in their homes in the absence of professional care. These classes have proved of such interest and the instruction of such value in the community, they are still continued. There are a thousand people taking the instruction in San Francisco at the present time, while 3025 have taken the instruction in First Aid, and 3025 in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, or a total of 6025 for both classes.

This includes people of all classes and ages. Women, girls and children in Community Centers, girls and boys in High Schools, Junior R. O. T. C. boys, groups of people from the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army lads and lassies, classes from the Pacific Coast Methodist Training School, Masters, Mates, and Pilots of the Merchant Marine Service and last, but not least, classes of colored women who take great interest in the work. Out of the First Aid work has developed Water First Aid with regular classes in Life-Saving with the forming of three chartered life-saving corps, one, men's; and two, women's, with a membership of two hundred and eighty-eight.

Prominent women on the board of directors include: Mrs. Max C. Sloss, Mrs. Prentiss Cobb Hale, Mrs. A. S. Baldwin, Mrs. George Cameron, Miss Alice Griffith, Mrs. Thurlow McMullin, Mrs. T. M. Potts, Mrs. Latham McMullin, Mrs. James Rolph Jr., wife of the Mayor of San Francisco.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION ON THE PACIFIC COAST

THE Young Women's Christian Association nationally and internationally has become more publicly known since the war, and here on the coast with its immigration station on Angel Island, its club house on the Zone for the girls of the Amusement Concessions during the Exposition, and its more recent Studio Club at Hollywood for the girls in the movies, it has come in for its share of the public interest.

A place to live, a place to eat and a place to play and find friends have been offered by this organization in communities wherever there are girls. In the State of California: Fresno, Hollywood, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Oakland, Pasadena, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, San Jose, and San Pedro, and the towns of Eureka, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, and Vallejo, are affiliated with the National organization. Los Angeles, San Francisco, Fresno and Oakland have special branches for foreign born girls, and San Francisco and Los Angeles, each has eight centers. The summer Conferences for Christian training have grown from the summer of 1912, when Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst prepared on her grounds at Hacienda a tented city for three hundred delegates, to the erection of eight permanent buildings at Asilomar—three miles from Del Monte—on a grant of land containing fifty acres, given by the Pacific Improvement Company. The Phoebe A. Hearst Social Hall, the Mary A. Crocker Dining Hall, Scripps Hall and the Grace H. Dodge Memorial Chapel are beautiful monuments to the generosity of the donors, and to the architectural imagination and skill of the designer, Miss Julia Morgan. This "Retreat by the Sea" has brought rest, refreshment and inspiration to thousands of girls all over California, and though owned by the National Young Women's Christian Association is available for the use of other organizations.

Pasadena's new building is nearing completion, and on May 15 Los Angeles opened a splendidly equipped headquarters building. Thousands of girls all over the state are enrolled either in industrial clubs or in corps of Girl Reserves—the name given to the young business and school girl groups. Their programmes include activities of body, mind and spirit.

Sympathetic leadership and direction for these growing girls brings an incalculable asset to the community, and this organization which is not a club, not a creed, but a comradeship based upon the democracy of a common faith is becoming a power among the girls of many nations.

Among the many women prominently connected with the management of the organization on the Coast are Mrs. John F. Merrill, Chairman of the Exposition work and Committee of One Hundred; and Mrs. Benjamin I. Wheeler, of the Asilomar Committee. The recent Chairmen of the State wide work include, Mrs. Walter Barnwell, Mrs. Laurence Draper, and Mrs. Warren Olney, Jr.

WOMAN'S GOLF IN CALIFORNIA

WOMAN'S golf in California is on a par with that of any other section of the country, with the possible exception of New York, which has the advantage of being able to draw upon a much larger circle of clubs. It has been claimed, and there is some reason in the claim, that the women golfers of the San Francisco Golf and Country Club, can hold their own in team match competition with any club team in America. Taking ten as the number of selected golfers we have Mrs. Hubert E. Law, Mrs. W. C. Van Antwerp, Mrs. Charles F. Ford, Mrs. Thomas S. Baker, Mrs. A. R. Pommer, Miss Alice Hanchett, Miss Lucy Hanchett, Mrs. Alfred B. Siwnerton, Mrs. H. Francis Anderson, and Miss Josephine Moore. All of these players are bonafide members of the San Francisco club who compete regularly in the competitions scheduled on the new Ingleside links.

In Eastern compeition, California golfers have not made a particularly brilliant showing, but very few of them have persistently essayed to gather representative honors in the golfing land east of the Rockies. Mrs. W. C. Van Antwerp (as Miss Edith S. Chesebrough) made two attempts in the National championship but failed to show anything like her real form. Mrs. Hubert Law competed once for the title and was defeated in the first round by a Mrs. Galt, an unknown player at that time, but who has since proved herself to be one of the best competition players in the country. Miss Doreen Kavanaugh, the present title holder of California, did very well in the Western and was selected for the West vs. East matches. Mrs. Luther Kennett and Mrs. Hubert Law, both former holders of the California title, were eslected as reserves on the West team. The Hanchett sisters did remarkably well in France and England last year. In fact these two Santa Cruz girls have given more encouragement to women golfers in "this neck of the woods" than anyone else to date. More competition with our Eastern sisters should and would doubtless give us our place among the "Golfing Greats of America."

In the southern part of the state there are several very good golfers who have carried off most of the honors of the state during the past few years. They are Miss Doreen Kavanaugh, Mrs. Luther Kennett, Miss Margaret Cameron, and Miss Mary Browne, who was the Southern California golf champion but is even more famous as an exponent of the tennis racquet, with which she has won many national championships. Mrs. E. R. Williams and Miss Katherine Mellus have also shown up quite prominently in representative competition.

In addition to the "big ten" of the San Francisco Golf and Country Club, the North is possessed of a few golfers who play consistently well in competition. They are Mrs. Robert A. Roos, Mrs. Milton Bernard, Mrs. Max Rothschild, and Miss Gwen Parks.

WOMEN TENNIS CHAMPIONS

TENNIS in California is so vitally a part of the athletic history of the state and so pronouncedly a source of pride in the land of the Golden West that it is with consistent concern women champions are named and their radiant records placed before the scrutiny of critics and devotees.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, of California, whose home is in Los Angeles, was for a number of years the "greatest woman tennis player in the world." She held the title season after season. It was frequently said: "The playing of May Sutton was nothing short of phenomenal." Up to last year her devotion to home ties and the rearing of a family of four lovely children, three boys and a girl, precluded her appearance in state or national contests although Mrs. Bundy has always maintained her "love of the game."

Now come dispatches from New York, as we go to press, stating that Mrs. Thomas C. Bundy, nee Sutton, and Miss Mary K. Browne, former national champion and famous Pacific Coast players will compete in the woman's national tennis tournament to be played in Forest Hills, New York, beginning August 14, 1922. This announcement was formally made by United States Tennis Association officials upon receipt of word from Dr. Sumner Hardy, president of the California Lawn Tennis Association..

The coming back of May Sutton Bundy into the national tournament contests is heralded from one end of the continent to the other. In writing of her a contemporary said: "Last summer Mrs. Bundy came back as no other woman has ever done in the history of tennis. That a mother of four children who has been out of competitive tennis for a number of years should reach the semi-finals of the national was a feat unheard of. But Mrs. Bundy accomplished it when she reached the threshold of the championship of the United States."

That the "Sutton Sisters" have written their names indelibly on the escutcheons of the tennis world is evidenced in the reappearance of the great California favorite in the forthcoming national game. Violet Sutton (Boeg) and May Sutton (Bundy) were the great drawing cards which packed the tennis grounds in the early history of the sport and the interest the public still maintains in their "drives" presages the value of Mrs. Bundy's welcome "return." It is interesting perhaps to review again with a contemporary who said: "Should Mrs. Bundy and Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory face each other across the net in Forest Hills in August, there will be more than ordinary significance to the meeting. On one side will be the reigning queen of American tennis returning for world honors at Wimbledom. On the other side will stand a woman who, fifteen years ago triumphantly advanced to premier honors on those same courts at Wimbledom now a challenger for the national title she captured exactly eighteen years ago.

"Whatever the result of Mrs. Bundy's eastern tour this summer, she will have the satisfaction of knowing that she has made a second "comeback" more glorious than the tennis world has known."

In writing of the rising young California star, Helen Wills, in one of his special articles, William T. Tilden, former champion of the world, said: "I have no doubt but that in a few years Helen Wills of California will add her name to the list of champions already made famous by such players as Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, Mary K. Browne and May Sutton Bundy."

Mary Browne of Los Angeles held the women's National title in 1912-13-14. while in 1919 Mrs. George Wightman (Hazel Hotchkiss), a Berkeley girl, won first honors. Last year Helen Wills went east and brought back the National title for girls. Golda Myers Gross was the sensation of the Golden Gate Park courts for several seasons before she took on national honors. Mrs. Gross is now the mother of two fine boys. Miss Elizabeth Ryan of California, now residing in England, enjoys international recognition as one of the foremost players in the tennis world.

In her review of women in athletics and the relationship athletics bears toward motherhood, Mrs. Hazel Pedlar Faulkner, president of the American Association of University Women, San Francisco Branch, said: "Many of the tennis stars, as I can recall, who have married have fine families. The girls are good mothers, good healthy broadminded mothers." She quotes Miss Elizabeth Rheen Stoner, head of the Department of Physical Education at Mills College, and one of the foremost authorities on physical education for women in the United States, who said: "Many girls graduated from Mills who have been keenest in athletics are the mothers of fine boys, husky, lusky ones."

The woman's point of view quoted in this article regarding tennis as a builder of physical strength and acclaiming the motherhood of famous women tennis players; the point of view of a former world champion who knows tennis as a game to command admiration from every healthy, spirited man or woman; and the point of view of those who favor this great out-of-door recreation of mind alertness, skill and bodily strength, are summed up in the deduction that tennis in California claims universal attention.

State-Wide Register of approximately Sixty Thousand Representative Women of California, with names and addresses, alphabetically and geographically arranged. And a list of more than Seven Hundred and Ninety Women's Organizations, with an Explanatory Key indicating each woman's membership affiliations.

This is an unusual list, the most comprehensive and complete list ever compiled, and in many respects, the first of its kind. It consists of names of representative California women, including members of women's clubs and other organizations as well as a large number of women prominent in the social, civic and business life of the State.

Sources from which the names were obtained are authentic. In the majority of cases the rosters of members of the different clubs, societies, et cetera, were supplied directly to the publishers by the organizations. Many of these rosters have never before appeared in the compilation of a list of this character.

In all instances care and precaution have been exercised to insure authenticity.

The entire list is so keyed that there are no duplications. After each name is a "Key Number" which indicates the particular organization or organizations to which each woman belongs.

There are more than 790 clubs and organizations included in this list. A few of the cities and towns represented are:

San Francisco	Los Angeles
Oakland	Glendale
Berkeley	Hollywood
Alameda	Pasadena
San Mateo	Long Beach
Burlingame	Santa Barbara
Palo Alto	Santa Monica
San Jose	Venice
Santa Cruz	Riverside
Stockton	San Diego
Sacramento	Fresno.

Each club is numbered, and after each name and address there is a number or numbers. These indicate the names of the organization or organizations of which each woman is a member. As an illustration the fourth name, found in the second column, page 421, is Adams, Mrs. Annette Abbott, 345 Locust, 15, 39, 277, 414. This indicates that Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams is a member of the American Association of University Women, San Francisco Bay Branch, which is Number 15; Board of Managers, Florence Crittenton Home, San Francisco, which is number 39; League of American Pen Women, San Francisco, which is Number 277; and San Francisco Center of the California Civic League of Women Voters, which is Number 414.

THE CALIFORNIA CONGRESS OF MOTHERS AND PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS Key No. 58

No other organization of women, perhaps, wields a more influential power for good in the community than the Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association. California, particularly is fortunate in its splendid representation. It ranks first in numbers in the National organization, with an enrollment of over 43,000 members.

The California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations has a representation in practically every school district of the State. Each "Mothers' Club" bears the name of the public school to which it is allied. As these divisions are so numerous and fundamentally the same in precept and purpose, they are classified under the one head: California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The numeral 58 designates affiliation with the "State Congress".

We Want You to Know About

COAST TIRES

The new California product that has gained a commanding position among the leading makes in the United States.

COAST TIRES in this year's Nevada Road Race established a record as the only tires that ever went the whole distance with but one tire changed, and that due to picking up a spike. The other three tires carried the same air during the 1000 miles of this, the hardest race of the entire year.

COAST TIRES were used successfully on a non-stop run between San Jose, Reno, Carson City, and return.

COAST TIRES carried an Oldsmobile car on a record run of 1000 miles in 899 minutes at the Cotati Track, without a single stop for tire trouble of any kind.

COAST TIRES on a Hudson test made the trip from San Francisco to New York City in a trifle over six days, and arrived in New York with San Francisco air in all four tires.

COAST TIRES carried the Essex car to victory in the Dealers' race on the new San Francisco Speedway, Sunday, December the 11th.

COAST TIRES gave 30,000 miles' service on an 18-passenger Garford stage running daily out of Fresno.

Remember these facts the next time you buy tires:

Millions of dollars are spent in the east annually by California for tires. This money going out of the State benefits only the eastern concerns—pays eastern taxes, gives employment to eastern workmen.

The Coast Tire & Rubber Company is a California corporation, financed by California capital; employs California labor; pays taxes in California; keeps California money in the State.

The Coast Tire and Rubber Co.

OBJECTS OF ART

For an art object to be really worthy does not necessarily mean that it must be high priced. Some of the simplest subjects are often the most charming, when placed in surroundings that harmonize. Here are many beautiful things that meet every taste and requirement—many gift pieces of real character. By their very excellence they confer a compliment on the appreciation of those to whom they are given.

HALLET & DAVIS

Grand Pianos

The piano shown above is the popular Hallet & Davis "Empress" Grand, five feet, one inch in length and may be had in polished or Adam Brown Mahogany.

The reason for the popularity of the Hallet & Davis Empress Grand is found in its wonderfully resonant tone quality—a tone so full, so round, so sympathetic that it is almost impossible to believe that it could come from any instrument so small. But that is typical of Hallet & Davis quality—a satisfying quality which we firmly believe comes with no other grand piano of the same dainty dimensions.

Los Angeles

Clark-Wise Co.
San Francisco

Marlows Music House
Santa Rosa-Petaluma

Girard Piano Co.
Oakland

Peffer Music Co.
Stockton

Curtis-Proseas Co.
San Jose

Don C. Preston
Bakersfield

Gray-Maw Co.
San Diego

The reinforced concrete plant of the Hallet & Davis Piano Company is one of the finest equipped factories in the world for manufacturing high-grade pianos and players

Princess Pat

The Secret of Foot Comfort

Straight and true as the upward sweep of the redwood tree is the inside line of the Princess Pat.

Both refute the argument that "Nature abhors a straight line." In the straightness of each lies its strength.

WOMEN AND BUSINESS TRAINING

By EDITH KALLMEYER
Principal Los Angeles Business College

The proof of a good Education
Will, like letters of Recommendation,
Be finally judged by one's own Demonstration.

THE fact that this book is published is evidence that women are playing a very important part in the Business World.

Los Angeles Business College, recognizing the need for Better Education as a preparation for a business career, has strengthened its courses to meet this demand.

Through the training of young men and young women for more than thirty years, it has gained rich experience and established a demand for its graduates far greater than it can supply.

Frequently the interests of young people are endangered by advice given by those who do not realize the demands of the Business World. As a loyal supporter of the Public Schools, the Los Angeles Business College does not hesitate to point out that Grammar School, High School, and University students, all too frequently show a great need for a more thorough knowledge of English, spelling, arithmetic, and writing.

With a thorough knowledge of these subjects as a foundation, Los Angeles Business College graduates are prepared to apply their knowledge of the special Secretarial and Accounting subjects to their work in the Business World. It is this thorough, well-balanced training which enables its graduates to compete with experienced employees.

Many young men and young women are also finding that a Los Angeles Business College education not only aids them in their College education but frequently is the means by which they can secure a College education.

William Mitchell says:

A student of the human foot for over forty years, my system of reconstruction of weak and fallen arches, has met with wonderful success.

There is no better place for the care of your feet—for knowing how, and doing it, is the secret of my success.

Physicians' prescriptions for shoes and appliances filled. Shoes made for normal and abnormal feet.

Your inquiries are solicited, as my system will assure you foot comfort.

Los Angeles County Chiropractors' Association

Organized to protect the public, through education as to what constitutes the science of Chiropractic and its proper practice.

The People of California Want CHIROPRACTIC

WHICH IS SWEEPING THE NATION

Surely and swiftly the tide of Chiropractic surges on, gathering momentum at each stage in its progress. The first three months in 1922 have brought more constructive advancement to the science of Chiropractic than any corresponding period of time in its history. While Chiropractic has been favored with many court decisions it was left to the SUPREME COURT of TENNESSEE to deliver a decision which gave at once the most sweeping endorsement of our science and the most powerful indictment of a system fostered by the medical trust to stifle competition.

> "The sooner prejudice is laid aside and the work of the Chiropractor recognized the better it will be for sick and suffering people. The Chiropractor is doing a work that medicine cannot do." M. E. King, M. D., Louisville, Ky.

Chiropractic Initiative Act appears on ballot (No. 16) in Nov. 1922

You are invited to investigate what this drugless science has done to restore natural conditions upon which health depends

THE EMANCIPATOR

Men once laughed at him. They laughed at his homely phrases. They laughed as they saw him poring over his books by the dim and flickering light of a log fire. Yet there came a time when, through him, that lowly log fire shone as a beacon light of liberty to all the peoples of all lands.

A subsidized press ridiculed him as it scoffed at and ridiculed Woman's Suffrage, and as it has ever scoffed at and belittled every step in the march of progress which offered any prospect of disturbing predatory interests who live only by the prerogative of special privilege.

When we say that Chiropractic comes as the emancipator to break the chains of ignorance, free the slaves of prejudice, superstition and fear, and lead them to that promised land where life, health and happiness shall be theirs, we too may be ridiculed and laughed at. Nevertheless we say that very thing, and we shall repeat it again and again, until its echo will be heard in every place where civilization has accepted the doctrine of FEAR, preached by an effete and pseudo science, with its train of "diseases," its knives and its dope—a phantom accepted in the belief that temporary relief implies the cure of all ills which are chiefly the fear-materialized creations of the too credulous minds of honest and unsuspecting people.

In behalf of the sick and helpless we appeal to the Womanhood of California, in whose sympathies the sufferer always shares, to place chiropractic where it will stand or fall upon its merits, free to serve, free from the harassing of its competitors, who are its only enemies.

We respectfully urge you to Work and Vote for the Chiropractic Initiative bill to be voted on at the next general election, November 7, 1922, which establishes a high standard of professional qualifications, creates a self-sustaining board of competent chiropractic examiners to examine, license and intelligently supervise the practice of chiropractic in California. Twenty-two of our sister States have enacted such laws. Shall California lag in such a vital, humanitarian issue?

Respectfully submitted,

CALIFORNIA CHIROPRACTIC

BOYÉ STUDIO

THE peculiarly pleasurable sensation that harmony of a perfect color scheme brings, comes over the visitor to Boyé's Photographic Studios, 120 Post Street, since it has been completely remodeled in blue and gray. The Studio is featuring, as announced, delicately colored Japanese vellum prints, parchment effects, oil or ivory finishes and the faultless auto chromes where every shade and touch of color is caught, lifelike, and held so as if by magic.

Cantonfleur
天香

China Knew How Before Paris Was

Dear Everywoman:

Imagine the delight of the Venetian ladies on the return of Marco Polo from his travels in China, hi caravans laden with Oriental treasure—chests of silk, spice, incense oil and perfume. "Oh Per Bacco!" Perfume made from the wild flowers of China, perfume from a land ancient in the art of perfume when Paris was but a small island in the Seine.

Like a phoenix sprung from its sacred pyre, Cantonfleur Perfumes are made from those same formulas today, the secret having been handed down from father to son for centuries. Bouquets made from the exotic blooms culled from the flower fields far beyond the walls of old Canton. Gardenia, Daphne, Jasmin, Arbutus, Musk and Banksia Rose—yes, Everywoman, those are the wild flowers of China.

Imagine the fresh fragrance of forest flowers, the delicate perfume of dew-drenched wild roses or the breath of some mysterious orchid. Bewitching, elusive, insistent—Cantonfleur Bouquets are just that. Zimova is the spice of the woods, Mi Lady Peacock the heart of forest flowers.

The charm of Cantonfleur is perfume, the magic of Cantonfleur is Tea-oil—a recent revelation of a secret restorative used by the beauties of the far east for centuries. It means a skin with the texture and tone of velvet, hair with the life and lustre of burnished metal.

Cantonfleur creams will not do the impossible, they will not banish lines that are written by thoughts of sorrow and care. But Tea-oil cream does the utmost that creams have ever done and more.

Because Cantonfleur is a pure vegetable cream, made from the oil of a rare Tea plant, it is a marvelou substitute for the natural oil of the skin which in many cases is washed out or dried up by the wind, the sun and the dust. The lack of this natural oil in the skin is the chief cause of wrinkling. Cantonfleur Cream, Everywoman, will work magic for you in restoring your skin to its rightful tone, life and beauty.

Cordially,

Beatrice Judd

"—and you never need put your hands in water"

The Laun-Dry-Ette has no wringer. After washing the clothes quickly and thoroughly, this electric washing machine whirls them dry for the line in one minute. This makes broken fasteners and buttons impossible—and makes it unnecessary to put the hands in the water. Phone to-day and we'll gladly demonstrate.

ONLY The HOOVER Beats . . . as it Sweeps as it Cleans—no other method of caring for your rugs will do so much toward preserving the original beautiful colors and prolonging rug life by thorough cleaning. Let us demonstrate The HOOVER to you either in your own home or here in the store.

Lights and Shadows

WITH Light came Shadow, one of Nature's greatest blessings; contrast, without which human life could not exist. Night is but a shadow cast by the earth itself; too long a shadow, however, for the convenience of modern civilization. To brighten it, man has invented artificial light, tapping Nature's resources in order to maintain it.

Your home will be beautiful, not under the merciless glare of many lamps, but in the glow of well chosen lamps so arranged that they form pleasing effects of lights and shadows.

LET US SOLVE YOUR LIGHTING PROBLEM

Specialists in furnishing correct Lamps and Fixtures, Experts in House Wiring and Construction, Efficient in Alterations and Repairs, we are capable of meeting every situation.

Estimates gladly furnished on any and all work, without charge.

Building for the Health and Happiness of the girls of San Francisco was the motive in the hearts of the organizers of the Young Women's Christian Association when they started a small boarding home on O'Farrell Street forty-four years ago.

Thousands of girls, adventuring spirits, come every year to San Francisco, thinking to find the key to the Golden Gate of Happiness. Food, lodging, and friends are the primary necessities of these seekers after life. They can find them at once in the Young Women's Christian Association. All day and all night the doors are open and girls are received, befriended and refreshed.

Through the generosity of many of San Francisco's public spirited men and women, the Young Women's Christian Association in 1919 erected a seven-story headquarters building. It contains, besides the administrative offices, gymnasium, salt water pool, club rooms, cafeteria, library, writing rooms, class rooms, emergency and rest rooms, and transient hotel accommodations. It is a dignified, well-planned building, admirably suited to the girls, and a testimonial of the generous hospitality of San Francisco.

Membership is open to all girls—and the aim is to associate young women for the enrichment of their physical, social, mental and spiritual life, and for service to the community.

Building strong bodies and giving hearts a chance to sing is the opportunity offered by the Department of Physical Education and Recreation to the girls of the city. ..... were enrolled in 1921.

In June, 1922, our membership was 5480. These include groups from fifteen mercantile establishments and girls from grammar and high schools.

Training in millinery, dressmaking, oral expresion, and languages is given by the Educational Department.

Any girl may be referred to the Emergency Secretary and be assured of suitable care.

One interesting phase of the city work is found in the International Institute. Workers of five different nationalities meet and locate young immigrant girls and then by sympathetic and intelligent knowledge of the girls, their customs and background, assist them to understand the ways of American life.

Great cities are beginning to understand that all money invested in the building of character, returns rich dividends, and to the thinking women of California, the Young Women's Christian Association offers itself as an avenue of investment and service.

MARGARET H. LE SEUR,
Executive Secretary
The Young Women's Christian Association of San Francisco.
